Morality and Imagination Yi-fu Tuan, 1989 Can the individual and society be both moral and imaginative In Western society the moral person tends to be regarded as either simple and naive or narrow and bigoted In contrast the imaginative person is looked on as someone not bound by the customs of the group and therefore likely to be fanciful and out of touch with reality

Hear Where We Are Michael Stocker, 2013-08-20 Throughout history hearing and sound perception have been typically framed in the context of how sound conveys information and how that information influences the listener Hear Where We Are inverts this premise and examines how humans and other hearing animals use sound to establish acoustical relationships with their surroundings This simple inversion reveals a panoply of possibilities by which we can re evaluate how hearing animals use produce and perceive sound Nuance in vocalizations become signals of enticement or boundary setting silence becomes a field ripe in auditory possibilities predator prey relationships are infused with acoustic deception and sounds that have been considered territorial cues become the fabric of cooperative acoustical communities This inversion also expands the context of sound perception into a larger perspective that centers on biological adaptation within acoustic habitats Here the rapid synchronized flight patterns of flocking birds and the tight maneuvering of schooling fish becomes an acoustic engagement Likewise when stridulating crickets synchronize their summer evening chirrups it has more to do with the cricket community monitoring their collective boundaries rather than individual crickets establishing personal territory or breeding fitness In Hear Where We Are the author continuously challenges many of the bio acoustic orthodoxies reframing the entire inquiry into sound perception and communication By moving beyond our common assumptions many of the mysteries of acoustical behavior become revealed exposing a fresh and fertile panorama of acoustical experience and adaptation
