The Character of Human Institutions Michael Egan, 2017-07-28 This volume celebrates the life and work of Robin Fox and the idea of a biosocial science From his early studies of kinship primates the brain evolution the incest taboo and aggression to his later work on literature politics civilization law the Bible Shakespeare and the history of ideas Robin Fox inspired many with an evolutionary vision of humanity that goes beyond narrow disciplinary boundaries and embraces the universal history of mankind Fox's work represents an independent biosocial science stream of thinking that accepts the Darwinian mandate while avoiding reductionism by recognizing culture as a natural phenomenon The essays cover Fox's life and his contributions and address topics as diverse as the meaning and function of laughter the unforgiving discipline of writing popular anthropology extreme drinking rituals among young men training for the British army Darwin and close cousin marriage the universal essence of the epic form as a super attractor anthropologists autobiographies the conflict between science and anti science and the decline of British imperial education This engaging collection on a mainstream maverick has been edited by Michael Egan It includes essays by Sir Antony Jay Lionel Tiger Howard Bloom Michael McGuire Kate Fox Melvin Konner Alan Macfarlane Adam Kuper Dieter Steklis Alexandra Maryanski Bernard Chapais Jonathan Turner Linda Stone Charles Macdonald Anne Fox David Jenkins Frederick Turner Robert Trivers and an essay by Robin Fox himself

Global Overshoot Doug Cocks, 2013-03-13 Global Overshoot is a multidisciplinary analysis including history and pre history from an ecological and evolutionary perspective of the contemporary world system This book compares and critiques attitudes held by people with different world views to the hypothetical prospect of large widespread falls in quality of life It also draws insights from these two analyses to develop and suggest a philosophy of Ecohumanism to people of good will who want to think constructively about the world's converging problems i.e. think altruistically and think like an evolving ecosystem

A People's History of Florida, 1513-1876 Adam Wasserman, 2010 Howard Zinn author of A People's History of the United States predicted that the bottom class perspective of history would eventually gain ground enveloping the old way of narrating history as told by the powerful. Since then numerous historical events have been redefined through the outlook of common people that were involved from the bottom up forever altering how we understand history. No more romantic diatribes glittered in patriotic myths. No more traditional heroes, standardized viewpoints, unquestionable facts or generalized falsehoods. Just plain raw truth that is not afraid to stampede powerful governments with the herd of popular outrage. A People's History of Florida follows the People's History tradition documenting the active involvement of African Americans, indigenous people, women and poor whites in shaping the Sunshine State's history.

Conjectures and Confrontations Robin Fox, 2017-11-30 This is the third in the series of volumes of essays that Robin Fox began with Reproduction and Succession and continued with The Challenge of Anthropology. Fox, who has been described as the conscience of anthropology, continues to have the same aim: to expose readers in the social sciences and beyond to the consequences of the biosocial orientation and to assess the state of the art in anthropology in particular and the social sciences in general. As always, he encompasses a wide range of topics: Why do bureaucracies fail? Are we really an innovative animal? Is nationalism a purely constructed phenomenon? What is the role of sexual competition in epic literature? In all these enquiries, he tries to show, in non-technical language, how the evolutionary approach throws new light on old problems and even raises new and more interesting problems. He pursues the issue of whether we have a naturally developed moral sense and, if so, what it could possibly be on the way attempting a definitive definition of the good. He looks at the status of the idea of self-interest in economic and biological science. He examines the current state of archaeology as a basis for a renewed scientific anthropology and he tries to adjudicate the debate between the scientific and humanistic camps in the social sciences.

The Chiga of Uganda May Mandelbaum Edel, The Chiga of Uganda provides a special insight into a culture at that time, 1933, still intact under the British protectorate. It is for the most part a picture of life as it was then, still being lived. Where significant changes were already taking place, the various changes are discussed in the contexts in which they seemed relevant: in social structure, kinship, marriage, economics, social control, religion and education. What makes this edition unique is the new segment on material culture. This delves into Chiga patterns of food supply and preparation, horticulture, fire and heating, water supplies, cattle raising, hunting, fishing and problems related to shelter, clothing and hygiene. Two new special sections deal with tools and utensils and, no less important, the physical skills and motor habits of the people. Edel's concrete yet wide-ranging descriptions provide an irreplaceable insight into a people and a culture at a unique point in world and colonial history. The new introduction, written by Abraham Edel, provides a special sort of insight, drawing heavily upon the correspondence that May Edel wrote at the time. The introduction shows how the clouds of war and Nazism in Europe at the time were already changing the character and context of anthropology no less than every other area of human endeavor A final new aspect of The Chiga Uganda is May Edel s last reflections focusing on African tribalism which turns out to be not all that different from ethnic and national rivalries in the Western world This book will be indispensable to anthropologists Africanists and historians

Participant Observer Robin Fox,2017-10-24 Robin Fox one of the preeminent anthropologists of our time takes us on an exuberant personal intellectual and cultural journey through the 1930s to the 1970s This is a personal historical intellectual journey one that is at once intriguing hilarious and moving Like Browning s Sordello who recurs throughout the book Fox is telling the story of the development of a soul Fox s method is to depend entirely on memory to select the people events and ideas that have driven him towards what was called at the time a revolution in the social sciences This revolution was the founding of the biosocial or what came to be called the sociobiological movement in the study of human behavior It was a long road peppered with strange events brain bending ideas odd adventures dangers and sorrows and a cast of lively often eccentric characters Fox describes himself as an observer of a series of endings the last gasps of now extinct ways of life He witnessed the last of the old steam and horse powered northern wool towns of the industrial revolution and the pre industrial Hardy countryside of southern England He saw the ancient grammar schools before their destruction by doctrinaire socialism the old LSE when it was still an international family not just a big college the brave but failed experiment that was Talcott Parsons Social Relations Department In the United States he experienced the innocent but troubled America of the 1950s and the last gasp of traditional Indian life in New Mexico He lived in genteel Jane Austen England in Devon and experienced peasant crofter life in the Irish islands Participant Observer is a report from the cultural and social battlefield seen through the personal lens of a combatant Fox has given us a kind of Cook s Tour through the ideas and intellectual movements of mid century when the world changed and the foundations of the twenty first century were set It is the history of an education by a narrator in love with learning

Chaco Revisited Carrie C. Heitman,Stephen Plog,2015-04-09 Chaco Canyon the great Ancestral Pueblo site of the eleventh and twelfth centuries has inspired excavations and research for more than one hundred years Chaco Revisited brings together an A team of Chaco scholars to provide an updated refreshing analysis of over a century of scholarship In each of the twelve chapters luminaries from the field of archaeology and anthropology such as R

Gwinn Vivian Peter Whiteley and Paul E Minnis address some of the most fundamental questions surrounding Chaco from agriculture and craft production to social organization and skeletal analyses Though varied in their key questions about Chaco each author uses previous research or new studies to ultimately blaze a trail for future research and discoveries about the canyon Written by both up and coming and well seasoned scholars of Chaco Canyon Chaco Revisited provides readers with a perspective that is both varied and balanced Though a singular theory for the Chaco Canyon phenomenon is yet to be reached Chaco Revisited brings a new understanding to scholars that Chaco was perhaps even more productive and socially complex than previous analyses would suggest

The Metaphysics of Apes Raymond Corbey,2005-03-14 This book traces the discovery and interpretation of the human like great apes and shows how the taboo ridden animal human boundary was challenged

Crow-Omaha Thomas R. Trautmann,Peter M. Whiteley,2012-11-01 The Crow Omaha problem has perplexed anthropologists since it was first described by Lewis Henry Morgan in 1871 During his worldwide survey of kinship systems Morgan learned with astonishment that some Native American societies call some relatives of different generations by the same terms Why Intergenerational skewing in what came to be named Crow and Omaha systems has provoked a wealth of anthropological arguments from Rivers to Radcliffe Brown from Lowie to L vi Strauss and many more Crow Omaha systems it turns out are both uncommon and yet found distributed around the world For anthropologists cracking the Crow Omaha problem is critical to understanding how social systems transform from one type into another both historically in particular settings and evolutionarily in the broader sweep of human relations This volume examines the Crow Omaha problem from a variety of perspectives historical linguistic formalist structuralist culturalist evolutionary and phylogenetic It focuses on the regions where Crow Omaha systems occur Native North America Amazonia West Africa Northeast and East Africa aboriginal Australia northeast India and the Tibeto Burman area The international roster of authors includes leading experts in their fields The book offers a state of the art assessment of Crow Omaha kinship and carries forward the work of the landmark volume Transformations of Kinship published in 1998 Intended for students and scholars alike it is composed of brief accessible chapters that respect the complexity of the ideas while presenting them clearly The work serves as both a new benchmark in the explanation of kinship systems and an introduction to kinship studies for a new generation of students

Taboo, Personal and Collective Representations Elizabeth Brodersen,2019-03-04 Taboo Personal and Collective Representations examines the symbolic nature of taboo asking what is the purpose of a taboo and how does it vary cross culturally The book focuses on the concept of taboo as an in between organizing principle which separates and differentiates stages through a ritual process of separation of order as clean blessed from disorder as polluted disassociated This book uses an interdisciplinary approach which compares the anthropological ethnological sociological and depth psychological perspectives of renowned scholars in their examination of taboos Unconscious conscious taboos influence how we perceive transitional indeterminate states across margins in the maturation and individuation processes The book argues that a taboo embodies the perilous symbolic meaning of such a rite of passage and that its emotional value and intensity in the form of symptomology varies across cultures Taboo Personal and Collective Representations will be of great interest to researchers academics and post graduate students in the fields of anthropology ethnology origins of religion race gender and depth psychology

Engaged Archaeology in the Southwestern United States and Northwestern Mexico Kelley A. Hays-Gilpin, Sarah A. Herr, Patrick D. Lyons, 2021-07-01 This volume of proceedings from the fifteenth biennial Southwest Symposium makes the case for engaged archaeology an approach that considers scientific data and traditional Indigenous knowledge alongside archaeological theories and methodologies Focusing on the southwestern United States and northwestern Mexico the contributors show what can be gained when archaeologists engage with Indigenous communities and natural scientists improved contemporary archaeological practice through better understandings of heritage and identity anthropogenic landscapes and societal potential for resilience Organized around the theme of interdisciplinary perspectives the book highlights collaborations with those who have other ways of knowing the past from the traditional and proprietary knowledge of communities to new scientific methods and considers the social context of archaeological practice and the modern relationships that inform interpretations of the past Chapters show how cutting edge practices lead to new archaeological understandings when archaeologists work in partnership with descendant and stakeholder communities and across international and disciplinary borders Authors work across anthropological subfields and with the sciences demonstrating that anthropological archaeology's methods are starting points for investigation that allow for the expansion of understanding by incorporating long remembered histories with innovative analytic methods Engaged Archaeology in the Southwestern United States and Northwestern Mexico identifies current and near future trends in archaeological practice in the US Southwest and northwestern Mexico including repatriation community engagement and cross disciplinary approaches and focuses on Native American archaeologists and their communities research collaborations and interests It will be of interest to archaeologists and anthropologists working in the Southwest and to any researchers interested in interdisciplinary approaches to archaeology heritage studies and the natural sciences Contributors Christopher Caseldine Chip Colwell Guillermo C rdova Tello Patrick Cruz T J Ferguson C ile R Ganteaume Vernelda Grant Neysa Grider Potter Christopher Grivas Michael Heilen Jane H Hill Leigh J Kuwanwisiwma Teresita Majewski Debra L Martin Estela Mart nez Mora John A McClelland Emiliano Ricardo Melgar T soc Darsita R North Scott Ortman Peter J Pilles Jr Susan Sekaquaptewa Arleyn W Simon Kimberly Spurr Sarah Striker Kerry F Thompson John A Ware Peter M Whiteley Lisa C Young

The Plural Turn in Jungian and Post-Jungian Studies Stefano Carpani, 2021-03-03 This unique book showcases the cutting edge work of researchers in Jungian and post Jungian studies focusing on the advances being made at the University of Essex UK and operating as a Festschrift for Professor Andrew Samuels The Plural Turn in Jungian and Post Jungian Studies includes contributions from innovative authors who specialise in Jung but incorporate ideas from other psychoanalytic schools and from a range of disciplines The book includes chapters which shed new light on concepts including alchemy archetypes and individuation and which examine art relationships and politics It both honours the work of Andrew Samuels and sets the foundations of an Essex School of Jungian studies A wide ranging collection this book will be essential for academics and scholars of Jungian and post Jungian studies It will also be a key title for all readers with an interest in the work of Andrew Samuels

Behemoth Irving Horowitz, 2017-10-19 The title Behemoth derives from the Hebrew word Behemah a beast an enormous creature monstrously huge and vast It is an apt description of the State on the eve of the twenty first century Loved by few vilified by many from all perspectives it nonetheless continues to grow by turns rivaling and co-opting that more pleasant sounding word Society Political sociology aims to define and understand the interrelationship between these two huge terms State and Society Continuing in a path begun by Horowitz in the 1950s in The Idea of War and Peace in Contemporary Social and Philosophical Thought expanded upon in the 1970s with Foundations of Political Sociology this summing up in the late 1990s is an effort to extract and evolve the canon of political sociology Starting with Montesquieu Horowitz proceeds through the European experience of Rousseau Tocqueville Hegel Marx Durkheim Sorel and Weber He then takes the field on its tangled migration to America with the Frankfurt School in exile followed by searching chapters on Schumpeter Mills Arendt and Huntington among others The result is a stunning revaluation of the intellectual sources of the present day divisions between statist and socialists welfarists and individualists advocates of dictatorship and of democracy mandated rules and voluntary association hard realists and soft utopians a world without states and a world with a single state Horowitz does not offer the usual evolutionary notion of doctrines but a canon embedded in and embattled with the societies they aim to serve or overthrow in the present as in the past The result is a major recasting of the theory and practice of social science and normative frameworks The final chapter offers Horowitz's own prognosis of what we can expect in the recasting of the Welfare State to include the Welfare Society and its growing nemesis the global economy which threatens to engulf State and Society alike in a return to civilizational concerns This is an essential text for policy makers and social scientists interested in macroscopic changes in the political order

Puebloan Societies Peter M. Whiteley, 2018-10-15 Puebloan sociocultural formations of the past and present are the subject of the essays collected here The contributors draw upon the insights of archaeology ethnology and linguistic anthropology to examine social history and practice including kinship groups ritual sodalities architectural forms economic exchange environmental adaptation and political order as well as their patterns of transmission over time and space The result is a window onto how major Puebloan societies came to be and how they have changed over time As an interdisciplinary conjunction Puebloan Societies demonstrates the value of reengagement among anthropological subfields too often isolated from one another The volume is an analytical whole greater than the sum of its parts a new synthesis in this fascinating region of human cultural history

Laws of Inheritance Elizabeth Brodersen, 2015-08-14 Instilled in interdisciplinary cross cultural perspectives of mythical socio economic literary pedagogic and psychoanalytic representations two archetypal creative inheritance laws interact as twins Eros fusion containment safety and Thanatos division separation risk Hypothesising these twin laws as matrilineal Eros and patrilineal Thanatos this book explores why cross cultural forms including gender traits are not fixed but are instead influenced by earlier flexible matrilineal forms Through a study of twins on macro and micro levels Elizabeth Brodersen argues that a psychological twin dilemma is implicit in inheritance laws and offers a unique forum to show how each law competes for primacy as the first and other Chapters begin by looking at twins in creation myths and the historical background to the laws of inheritance as well as literary representations The book then moves on to the developmental structures imbued in twin research and educational systems to explore how past cultural forms have been re defined to fit a modern landscape and the subsequent movement away from the importance of patrilineal primogeniture Laws of Inheritance will be of key value to academics researchers and postgraduate students in the fields of psychoanalysis psychotherapy archetypal theory cross cultural depth psychology cultural anthropology sociology gender studies and twin research The book will also be of interest to practicing psychoanalysts and psychotherapists Progressive Leadership Greg

Park, 2022-03-21 Progressive Leadership addresses the diminishing and increasingly dysfunctional contribution of firm leadership in the operational effectiveness performance and survival of the firm in the business context of the twenty first century Diversity and Its Discontents Neil J. Smelser, Jeffrey C. Alexander, 2021-04-13 Never before has the legitimacy of a dominant American culture been so hotly contested as over the past two decades Familiar terms such as culture wars multiculturalism moral majority and family values all suggest a society fragmented by the issue of cultural diversity So does any social solidarity exist among Americans In Diversity and Its Discontents a group of leading sociologists political theorists and social historians seek to answer this question empirically by exploring ideological differences theoretical disputes social processes and institutional change Together they present a broad yet penetrating look at American life in which cultural conflict has always played a part Many of the findings reveal that this conflict is no more or less rampant now than in the past and that the terms of social solidarity in the United States have changed as the society itself has changed The volume begins with reflections on the sources of the current culture wars and goes on to show a number of parallel situations throughout American history some more profound than today s conflicts The contributors identify political vicissitudes and social changes in the late twentieth century that have formed the backdrop to the wars including changes in immigration marriage family structure urban and residential life and expression of sexuality Points of agreement are revealed between the left and the right in their diagnoses of American culture and society but the essays also show how the claims of both sides have been overdrawn and polarized The volume concludes that above all the antagonists of the culture wars have failed to appreciate the powerful cohesive forces in Americans outlooks and institutions forces that have in fact institutionalized many of the radical changes proposed in the 1960s Diversity and Its Discontents brings sound empirical evidence theoretical sophistication and tempered judgment to a cultural episode in American history that has for too long been clouded by ideological rhetoric In addition to the editors the contributors are Seyla Benhabib Jean L Cohen Reynolds Farley Claude S Fischer Frank F Furstenberg Jr John Higham David A Hollinger Steven Seidman Marta Tienda David Tyack R Stephen Warner Robert Wuthnow and Viviana A Zelizer
