Adams, 1986 A companion and sequel volume to Competent to Counsel this volume includes indexes a detailed table of contents and many diagrams and forms all of which make this one of the best reference books for Christian counselors The Christian and Emotional Problems L. Gilbert Little, 1970 Mental Health and the Christian Ian Williams, 2022-11-03 Mental Health and the Christian takes a look at the brain mind and soul as interchangeable entities and the effects of external and internal stimuli on homeostatic functions Human beings are consumers We consume through three gates eyes ears and mouth How everything we ingest affects what genes are turned on and off in the mind and body is called epigenetics Achieving homeostasis or balance is the ultimate goal For Christians the health growth and development of the spirit man calls for a healthy thought process together with a diet beneficial to achieving homeostasis in our lifestyle This book attempts to broach the subject by removing some of the misconceptions about mental health as it pertains to the lifestyle of Christians eliminating some of the taboos and erasing the shame This is nothing more than a rudimentary tool to be used to open dialogue about how we as Christians perceive mental health thereby equipping us to approach and understand ministering to those among us who may be suffering in secret The aim is to bring them out of the shadows and into the light delivering them The Christian Perspective on Mental Health Dr. Paul McDowell, 2016-10-31 This book is to challenge and change the thinking of many to that of wanting to do more for those that are mentally ill There seems to be a problem with the Christian community doing more for those that are mentally ill instead of just feeding those that are on the street ever so often There is a need for more training for ministers and lay people of the churches and there must be a bridging of the gap between the mental health professionals and the Christian community Why Do Christians Shoot Their Wounded? Dwight L. Carlson, 2009-09-20 It's no sin to hurt Thousands of Christians suffer real emotional pain such as depression anxiety obsessiveness Many other Christians including prominent leaders believe emotional problems are the result of sin or bad choices These attitudes often only add to the suffering of those who hurt In this book Dwight Carlson marshals recent scientific evidence that demonstrates many emotional problems are just as physical or biological as diabetes cancer and heart disease While he never discounts personal responsibility Carlson shows from both the Bible and up to date medicine why it really is no sin to hurt Understandably and compellingly Why Do Christians Shoot Their Wounded brings profound help for those who hurt and those who counsel For those who suffer here is a powerful liberation from guilt For those who care for the suffering here is vivid proof that those in emotional pain deserve compassion not condemnation
