The Christian Doctrine of God William Newton Clarke, 1925 The Christian Doctrine of God (Classic Reprint) William Newton Clarke, 2015-07-10 Excerpt from The Christian Doctrine of God The work that was entrusted to me by the General Editors of the International Theological Library was simply the presentation of the conception of God that is characteristic of the Christian religion I was not sent to search for God but rather to report as well as I might what the Christian faith testifies concerning him It has seemed to me that this single commission was enough for me to undertake and I have attempted nothing more No report of the literature of the subject will be found upon these pages nor any quotation of other men's work nor any controversy It is the sole endeavour of the book to set forth the Christian doctrine of God for the present day not the doctrine of the past or of the future but the thought of God that we may now entertain if we follow the leading of Jesus Christ the revealer So far as I have the power I have sought to be faithful both to the ancient light to the modern and I have hoped that my presentation might bear reasonably well the tests of the present time There are many ways of dealing with the vast and glorious theme and certainly there must be room for a book that simply aims to show forth doctrine as Christian faith may receive it now I have written in the full conviction that the light which Jesus Christ gives us upon God is the true light and that God is such a Being as he inspires us to love and trust About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

The Christian Doctrine of God James Stuart Candlish, 1889 Dogmatics I Emil Brunner, 2025-04-24 One of the great twentieth century works of theology Emil Brunner's Dogmatics series presents a profoundly biblical systematic theology Finding a path between Barth and Bultmann Brunner explores key doctrines such as the doctrine of God creation and redemption and the doctrine of the church and of faith These foundational texts from a leading theologian of the 20th century are crucial for scholars and students illuminating how modern Protestant theology was formed in the last century The first volume serves as an introduction to Brunner's view of dogmatics setting out the nature position and necessity of dogmatics

before exploring the many facets of the doctrine of God In detailed vigorous explanation Brunner considers the nature and will of God including his name his holiness his wisdom and his glory Thorough insightful and extensive this first volume is an illuminating beginning to this series The second volume explores the fundamental concepts of the protestant doctrine from creation and the creator to man s position within creation sin and its consequences and the saving work of Jesus Brunner explores all of the possibilities of these fundamentals and his detailed thoughtful arguments are designed as he says to set us free to have a faith which is based on nothing save the Love of God revealed in Jesus Christ The third and final volume focusses on the theology of the Church as a reflection of God s self revelation through the Holy Spirit and an eternal consummation of Divine self communication Drawing together the understanding gleaned in the previous two volumes Brunner addresses the nature of the church and faith to bring his systematic biblical theology into the experiences of his readers
