The Plantation Dream Developing British New Guinea And Papua 1884-1942:

Repatriation, Exchange, and Colonial Legacies in the Gulf of Papua Lara Lamb, Christopher Lee, 2023-01-01 This book explores the people of the Kikori River Delta in the Gulf of Papua as established historical agents of intercultural exchange. One hundred years after they were made Frank Hurley's colonial era photographic reproductions are returned to the descendants of the Kerewo and Urama peoples whom he photographed. The book illuminates how the movement and exchange of objects can produce distinctive and unrecognised forms of value. To understand this exchange a nuanced history of the conditions of the exchange is necessary which also allows a reconsideration of the colonial legacies that continue to affect the social and political worlds of people in the twenty-first century. The Plantation Dream David Charles Lewis, 1996

The Routledge History of Western Empires Robert Aldrich, Kirsten McKenzie, 2013-12-04 The Routledge History of Western Empires is an all new volume focusing on the history of Western Empires in a comparative and thematic perspective. Comprising of thirty-three original chapters arranged in eight thematic sections the book explores European overseas expansion from the Age of Discovery to the Age of Decolonisation. Studies by both well known historians and new scholars offer fresh accessible perspectives on a multitude of themes ranging from colonialism in the Arctic to the scramble for the coral sea from attitudes to the environment in the East Indies to plans for colonial settlement in Australasia. Chapters examine colonial attitudes towards poisonous animals and the history of colonial medicine, evangelisation in Africa and Oceania, colonial recreation in the tropics and the tragedy of the slave trade. The Routledge History of Western Empires ranges over five centuries and crosses continents and oceans highlighting transnational and cross cultural links in the imperial world and underscoring connections between colonial history and world history. Through lively and engaging case studies contributors not only weigh in on historiographical debates on themes such as human rights, religion and empire and the taproots of imperialism but also illustrate the various approaches to the writing of colonial history. A vital contribution to the field. The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Indigenous Australia and New Guinea Ian J. McNiven, Bruno David, 2023 The Oxford Handbook of the Archaeology of Indigenous Australia and New Guinea reviews and brings together the latest findings on the archaeology of the Australia New Guinea region. In 42 new chapters commissioned for this book 77 leading researchers present the archaeological evidence for Australia and New Guinea's deep time history. The stories told reveal the astounding richness of Australia and New Guinea's Indigenous cultural history, stories of tens of thousands of years of Aboriginal Torres Strait Islander and New Guinean adaptation, cultural know how and creative ingenuity. Exchange and Markets in Early Economic Development John D. Conroy, 2023-05-12 The idea of an informal economy emerged from and is a critique of the ideology of economic development. It originated from Keith Hart's recognition of informal economic activity in 1960s Ghana. In the context of four colonialisms German, British, Australian and Dutch this book recounts Hart's effort in 1972 to introduce the informal sector into development planning in Papua New Guinea. This was problematic because the market was scarcely institutionalized and traditional modes of exchange persisted stubbornly Rather than conforming with post colonial economic ideology the subjected people pushed back against imposed bureaucracy to practice informal and hybrid modes of economic activity A History of the Pacific Islands Deryck Scarr,2013-12-16 A book about the past and present Pacific Islands wide ranging in time and space spanning the centuries from the first settlement of the islands until the present day New Guinea Clive Moore,2003-07-31 New Guinea the world s largest tropical island is a land of great contrasts ranging from small glaciers on its highest peaks to broad mangrove swamps in its lowlands and hundreds of smaller islands and coral atolls along its coasts Divided between two nations the island and its neighboring archipelagos form Indonesia s Papua Province or Irian Jaya and the independent nation of Papua New Guinea both former European colonies Most books on New Guinea have been guided by these and other divisions separating east from west prehistoric from historic precontact from postcontact colonial from postcolonial This is the first work to consider New Guinea and its 40 000 year history in its entirety The volume opens with a look at the Melanesian region and argues that interlocking exchange systems and associated human interchanges are the invisible government through which New Guinea societies operate Succeeding chapters review the history of encounters between outsiders and New Guinea s populations They consider the history of Malay involvement with New Guinea over the past two thousand years demonstrating the extent to which west New Guinea in particular was incorporated into Malay trading and raiding networks prior to Western contact The impact of colonial rule economic and social change World War II decolonization and independence are discussed in the final chapter The imperial Commonwealth Wm. Matthew Kennedy,2023-07-25 From the late 1800s to the early 1900s Australian settler colonists mobilised their unique settler experiences to develop their own vision of what empire was and could be Reinterpreting their histories and attempting to divine their futures with a much heavier concentration on racialized visions of humanity white Australian settlers came to believe that their whiteness as well as their Britishness qualified them for an equal voice in the running of Britain s imperial project Through asserting their case many soon claimed that as newly minted citizens of a progressive and exemplary Australian Commonwealth white settlers such as themselves were actually better suited to the modern task of empire Such a settler political cosmology with empire at its center ultimately led Australians to claim an empire of their own in the Pacific Islands complete with its own unique imperial governmentality The Architect of Kokoda Robyn Kienzle,2011-07-26 In my humble opinion Bert Kienzle did more than any other single man to make Australian victory possible Peter FitzSimons author of Kokoda In 1942 when the Japanese had invaded Papua New Guinea and the Australian soldiers sent to hold them back thought victory was impossible one man Bert Kienzle changed the course of history This charismatic man well known in Papua for having run gold mines and plantations there was charged with the seemingly impossible task of establishing a trail across the forbidding Owen Stanley Range in just a few short months Out of jungle and mud Kienzle carved a working transport route that his handpicked teams of native bearers the now famous Fuzzy

Wuzzy Angels would work on alongside the Australian troops ensuring that the men got the food munitions and medical support they needed The feats that these men performed were heroic and their endurance as they transported supplies along the Trail unparalleled Bert Kienzle lived an amazing life and the transport route he established the legendary Kokoda Trail made Australia s victory possible This is his story The Chinese in Papua New Guinea Anna Hayes,Rosita Henry,Michael Wood,2024-05-16 Papua New Guinean Chinese and Australian people have long been entangled in the creation of complex histories and political debates concerning the similarities and differences of each group These debates are fundamental to understanding how a sense of national unity in Papua New Guinea is formed as well as within analyses of the wider world of strategic power dynamics and influence The Chinese in Papua New Guinea offers a comprehensive and nuanced examination of the Chinese in Papua New Guinea Chinese Papua New Guinean and Australian interactions are analysed in the context of ongoing shifts in colonial power increased regional engagement with China and current political instabilities across the Indo Pacific region The many ways the Chinese have been defined as actors in PNG s history and politics are analysed against the backdrop of a rapidly changing global order The complexity of Chinese experiences within Papua New Guinea is given expression here with chapters that stress political and historical heterogeneity the importance of language for understanding Chinese social relations and that articulate rich personal experiences of race relations
