Solutions in Agriculture Jochen Bundschuh, Guangnan Chen, 2014-03-07 Sustainability in agriculture and associated primary industries which are both energy intensive is crucial for the development of any country Increasing scarcity and resulting high fossil fuel prices combined with the need to significantly reduce greenhouse gas emissions make the improvement of energy efficient farming and increased use of renewable energy essential This book provides a technological and scientific endeavor to assist society and farming communities in different regions and scales to improve their productivity and sustainability To fulfill future needs of a modern sustainable agriculture this book addresses highly actual topics providing innovative effective and more sustainable solutions for agriculture by using sustainable environmentally friendly renewable energy sources and modern energy efficient cost improved technologies The book highlights new areas of research and further R D needs It helps to improve food security for the rapidly growing world population and to reduce carbon dioxide emissions from fossil fuel use in agriculture which presently contributes 22% of the global carbon dioxide emissions This book provides a source of information stimuli and incentives for what and how new and energy efficient technologies can be applied as effective tools and solutions in agricultural production to satisfy the continually increasing demand for food and fibre in an economically sustainable way while contributing to global climate change mitigation It will be useful and inspiring to decision makers working in different authorities professionals agricultural engineers researchers and students concerned with agriculture and related primary industries sustainable energy development and climate change mitigation projects

Losing Afghanistan Noah Coburn, 2023-05-25 A 2016 study of the Afghanistan international intervention from perspective of an ambassador a Navy SEAL an Afghan businessman a wind energy engineer The US led intervention in Afghanistan mobilized troops funds and people on an international level not seen since World War II Hundreds of thousands of individuals and tens of billions of dollars flowed into the country But what was gained for Afghanistan or for the international community that footed the bill Why did development money not lead to more development Why did a military presence make things more dangerous Through the stories of four individuals an ambassador a Navy SEAL a young Afghan businessman and a wind energy engineer Noah Coburn weaves a vivid account of the challenges and contradictions of life during the intervention Looking particularly at the communities around Bagram Airbase this ethnography considers how Afghans viewed and attempted to use the intervention and how those at the base tried to understand the communities around them These compelling stories step outside the tired paradigms of unruly Afghan tribes an effective Taliban resistance and a corrupt Karzai government to show how the intervention became an entity unto itself one doomed to collapse under the weight of its own bureaucracy and contradictory intentions Praise for Losing Afghanistan Coburn's experienced eye demonstrates that understanding local culture is a two way street Highly recommended for Afghans or anyone puzzled by the policies of international military and civilian institutions and in need of practical advice on how to cope with their strange ways of thinking Thomas Barfield Boston University Rich in description and thick with ironies Losing Afghanistan reveals the insanities of a war run by and for contractors and by soldiers posing as development agents In this first hand account of war time Afghanistan Coburn navigates the various and sometimes shared assumptions of walled off foreigners and the world they created in which Afghans play but minor parts A quiet indictment Catherine Lutz Brown University Losing Afghanistan provides a unique window into the longest most costly US and international intervention since the Second World War Having spent over a decade researching and writing about Afghanistan living with ordinary Afghans and a bewildering array of international actors Coburn illuminates the chasm between what ordinary Afghans think and want and what international actors assume and do and the frustration and disillusionment that resulted Michael Keating Associate Director Chatham House and Former UN Deputy Envoy to Afghanistan Kabul

Wind Power Based Isolated Energy Systems Anindita Roy, Santanu Bandyopadhyay, 2018-11-16 This book offers methods to improve energy access and support social and economic development through the appropriate and reliable design of isolated wind energy systems The findings reported on wind based isolated power generation show that the proper match of turbine diameter and generator rating is vital and is governed by the site wind resource and the load profile to be served The methodology for sizing and selecting appropriate system parameters taking into account the resource uncertainty is demonstrated throughout the chapters of this monograph Readers will discover information on the methodologies for modelling design and optimization of the systems in terms of safety functionality longevity and practicality Details are provided on the design space of wind battery systems multiple wind generator systems and wind PV battery hybrids to cover all the bases of isolated wind energy systems This monograph aims to serve as a guide to system developers manufacturers and financing institutions on the design aspects of isolated wind energy systems
