Social Groups and Identities W. Peter Robinson,1996 Community Identity in Judean Historiography Gary N. Knoppers,Kenneth A. Ristau,2009-06-30 Most of the essays in this volume stem from the special sessions of the Historiography Seminar of the Canadian Society for Biblical Studies held in the late spring of 2007 University of Saskatchewan The papers in these focused sessions dealt with issues of self identification community identity and ethnicity in Judahite and Yehudite historiography The scholars present addressed a range of issues such as the understanding presentation and delimitation of Israel in various biblical texts the relationship of Israelites to Judahites in Judean historical writings the definition of Israel over against other peoples and the possible reasons why the ethnoreligious community Israel was the focus of Judahite Yehudite historiography Papers approached these matters from a variety of theoretical and disciplinary vantage points For example some pursued an inner biblical perspective pentateuchal sources writings Former Prophets Latter Prophets Chronicles Ezra Nehemiah while others pursued a cross cultural comparative perspective ancient Near Eastern ancient Greek and Hellenistic historiographies Western and non Western historiographic traditions Still others attempted to relate the material remains to the question of community identity in northern Israel monarchic Judah and postmonarchic Yehud Becoming Christian David G. Horrell,2013-07-04 The first letter of Peter remains a relatively neglected corner of the New Testament the number of monographs devoted to it is tiny compared with those on the Gospels and Pauline letters Yet it is a text so this book argues that offers much insight into crucial processes in the development of Christian identity In particular 1 Peter illustrates with particular clarity the complex ways in which Christian identity was forged from Jewish traditions and negotiated in the generally hostile Roman empire As such studies of this particular letter illuminate central themes in the making of Christianity in the earliest centuries Becoming Christian is a collection of essays that treat various facets of the first letter of Peter in its social and historical setting in some cases using new social scientific and postcolonial methods to shed light on the ways in which the letter contributes to the making of Christian identity At the heart of the book are chapters 5 7 which examine the contribution of 1 Peter to the construction of Christian identity the persecution and suffering of Christians in Asia Minor the significance of the name Christian and the response of the letter to the hostility encountered by Christians in society There are no recent books which bring together such a wealth of information and analysis of this crucial early Christian text Becoming Christian has developed out of Horrell s ongoing research for the International Critical Commentary on 1 Peter Together these essays will offer a series of significant and original engagements with this letter and a resource for studies of 1 Peter for some time to come Narrative, Calling, and Missional Identity in 1 Peter David Shaw, 2023-11-13 A story well told and subsequently imbibed by its recipients has the power to shape one's beliefs, identity and way of life. So what happens when a person or community is swept up in such a story? In this study Shaw draws upon the dual methodologies of Narrative Transportation and Social Identity theories to consider how 1 Peter's use of Old Testament narratives and language serves to transport its recipients into an identity defined as elect sojourners. Amidst suffering 1 Peter calls the Anatolian believers to a priestly ministry blessing their antagonists as they await their eternal glory in Christ.

Acculturation and Psychological Adaptation Vanessa S. Castro, 2003-01-30 This volume addresses the psychological impact of interethnic contact and acculturation in Latin American settings focusing on the effects of acculturation on self-esteem among adolescents. Opening with an account of relevant theoretical and empirical literature on interethnic contact and acculturation, this book represents an acid test of the cross-cultural applicability of theory and method largely derived from research on acculturation to North American and European settings. Much research has focused on acculturation processes among ethnic immigrants and ethnic minorities leading to the impression that host or majority groups remain unchangeable during acculturation. By contrast, this volume shows that psychological changes occur in all groups involved in the contact, reinforcing the idea that acculturation is a special case of mutual influence. This book will be of special interest for researchers, scholars or students seeking to understand the acculturation process outside North America and Europe. Strong evidence is presented showing the development of positive ties with both one's own and other relevant groups provides a more solid basis for self-esteem than relinquishing ties to the ethnic group of reference.
