Globalization, Environmental Change, and Social History Peter Boomgaard, Marjolein 't Hart, 2011-02-24 Throughout all ages the activities of mankind have weighed heavily upon the environment In turn changes in that environment have favoured the rise of certain social groups and limited the actions of others Despite this environmental history has remained a blind spot for most social and economic historians This is to be regretted as the various and unequal effects of environmental change often explain the strengths and weaknesses of certain social groups irrespective of their being defined along the lines of class gender and ethnicity This volume brings together the expertise of social and environmental historians in an effort to assess the extent to which transnational agents changed socioecological space as a consequence of globalization since the Late Middle Ages

Environment and Identity Politics in Colonial Africa Emmanuel Mbah, 2016-12-08 Economic political and ethnic favoritism are common themes in the historiography of colonial Africa Land ownership and control and the abilities of the respective landscapes to sustain Africa s growing population have created recurrent identity crises throughout Africa The chapters discuss the recurrent environmental issues the problems of contested ownership of land autochthonism as well as the blending of different cultures in a restricted area Also highlighted is a neglected aspect of the history of Fulani migrations in West Africa the colonial extension of the Fulani into the Southern Cameroons

The Environment and World History Edmund Burke, Kenneth Pomeranz, 2009-04-08 In 11 essays the contributors examine the connections between environmental change and other major topics of early modern world history population growth commercialization imperialism industrialization the fossil fuel revolution and more

Rethinking South Africa's Past Christopher J. Lee, Andrew Offenburger, 2025-03-18 This book presents key historical scholarship published in Safundi from 1999 to 2024 tracing South Africa s past through approaches of comparative history transnational history and visual history in addition to addressing the importance of topics like gender labor and class dynamics as well as regional historiographies The first section of the book focuses on comparative history as a founding method for Safundi given the journal's origins in American and South African studies while also recalibrating this approach through a variety of topics cities biographies and practices of violence rather than nation states writ large Drawing upon innovative sources of evidence the second section moves beyond the comparative method to address transnational histories as a new narrative technique for storytelling and analysis Whether issues of education immigration or visiting musicians to South Africa these chapters demonstrate the importance of a post national approach for understanding the past The sections that follow fan out into other subject areas including the uses of visual history gender roles class cultures and environmental history all of which illuminate connections between South African history and other parts of the world This book will be an indispensable resource for scholars students activists and policymakers as well as those readers who are generally interested in understanding South Africa's complex history over the past several centuries

Environmental Infrastructure in African History Emmanuel Kreike, 2013-05-13 Environmental Infrastructure in African History offers a new approach for analyzing and narrating environmental change Environmental change conventionally is understood as occurring in a linear fashion moving from a state of more nature to a state of less nature and more culture In this model non Western and premodern societies live off natural resources whereas more modern societies rely on artifact or nature that is transformed and domesticated through science and technology into culture In contrast Emmanuel Kreike argues that both non Western and premodern societies inhabit a dynamic middle ground between nature and culture He asserts that humans in collaboration with plants animals and other animate and inanimate forces create environmental infrastructure that constantly is remade and reimagined in the face of ongoing processes of change

The ^AOxford Handbook of Environmental History Andrew C. Isenberg, 2014-09-18 The Oxford Handbook of Environmental History draws on a wealth of new scholarship to offer diverse perspectives on the state of the field Riding High Sandra Swart, 2010-01-01 An examination of the role of horses in the colonial economies of South Africa Horses were key to the colonial economies of southern Africa buttressing the socio political order and inspiring contemporary imaginations Just as they had done in Europe Asia the Americas and North Africa these equine colonizers not only provided power and transportation to settlers and later indigenous peoples but also helped transform their new biophysical and social environments The horses introduced to the southern tip of Africa were not only agents but subjects of enduring changes This book explores the introduction of these horses under VOC rule in the mid seventeenth century their dissemination into the interior their acquisition by indigenous groups and their ever shifting roles In undergoing their relocation to the Cape the horse of the Dutch empire in southeast Asia experienced a physical transformation over time Establishing an early breeding stock was fraught with difficulty and horses remained vulnerable in the new and dangerous environment They had to be nurtured into defending their owners ambitions first those of the white settlement and then African and other hybrid social groupings The book traces the way horses were adapted by shifting human needs in the nineteenth century It focuses on their experiences in the South African War on the cusp of the twentieth century and highlights how horses remained integral to civic functioning on various levels replaced with mechanization only after lively debate The book thus reinserts the horse into the broader historical narrative The socio economic and political ramifications of their introduction is delineated The idea of ecological imperialism is tested in order to draw southern African environmental history into a wider global dialogue on socio environmental historiographical issues The focus is also on the symbolic dimension that led horses to be both feared and desired Even the sensory dimensions of this species interaction with human societies is explored Finally the book speculates about what a new kind of history that takes animals seriously might offer us Landscape, Environment and Technology in Colonial and Postcolonial Africa Toyin Falola, Emily Brownell, 2013-03 This volume explores the concepts of environment and landscape in colonial and postcolonial discourse about Africa analysing the points of convergence and conflict between Western notions of pastoral Africa and the introduction of colonial technology scientific ideas and capitalist agriculture Plunder for Profit Elijah Doro, 2023-04-13 Examines the history of tobacco farming in Zimbabwe to illuminate debates on landscapes people and political economy Indigenous Knowledge and the Environment in Africa and North America David M. Gordon, Shepard Krech III, 2012-03-01 Indigenous knowledge has become a catchphrase in global struggles for environmental justice Yet indigenous knowledges are often viewed incorrectly as pure and primordial cultural artifacts This collection draws from African and North American cases to argue that the forms of knowledge identified as indigenous resulted from strategies to control environmental resources during and after colonial encounters At times indigenous knowledges represented a middle ground of intellectual exchanges between colonizers and colonized elsewhere indigenous knowledges were defined through conflict and struggle The authors demonstrate how people claimed that their hybrid forms of knowledge were communal religious and traditional as opposed to individualist secular and scientific which they associated with European colonialism Indigenous Knowledge and the Environment offers comparative and transnational insights that disturb romantic views of unchanging indigenous knowledges in harmony with the environment The result is a book that informs and complicates how indigenous knowledges can and should relate to environmental policy making Contributors David Bernstein Derick Fay Andrew H Fisher Karen Flint David M Gordon Paul Kelton Shepard Krech III Joshua Reid Parker Shipton Lance van Sittert Jacob Tropp James L A Webb Jr Marsha Weisiger A History of Water: Series III, Volume 3 Terje Tvedt, Terje Oestigaard, 2016-08-31 Major changes in policy and management across the entire agricultural production chain will be needed to ensure the best use of available water resources in meeting growing demands for food and other agricultural products This new volume in the successful History of Water Series focuses on the African continent to address this key issue Humanity has its roots in Africa and many of our food systems developed there All types of agricultural production are present and the sheer size of the continent offers wide ecological variation from extreme desert to dense rainforest Drawing together leading international contributors from a wide variety of disciplines Water and Food offers new insights into the evolution of food systems from early hunter gatherers to the global challenges of the modern world

Sub-Saharan Africa Gregory H. Maddox,2006-03-24 A wealth of information and analysis on the environmental forces that have helped shaped the cultures of the African continent A scholarly reference work that will also appeal to the general reader Sub Saharan Africa sets the story of the African environment within the context of geological time and shows how the continent s often harsh conditions prompted humans to develop unique skills in agriculture animal husbandry and environmental management Part of ABC CLIO s Nature and Human Societies series this book enables readers to better grasp the extent of humanity s effect on our world Of particular interest are the book s sections dealing with the impact of the Biafran famine of the 1960s the Sahelian drought of the 1970s population growth and the ongoing challenges of war and HIV AIDS Crucially the book also shows how despite their relative poverty many African states have coped admirably with rapid urbanization and have developed world class conservation and sustainability programs in order to protect and harness some of the most endangered species in the world

Wielding the Ax Thaddeus Sunseri,2014-08-26 Forests have been at the fault lines of contact between African peasant communities in the Tanzanian coastal hinterland and outsiders for almost two centuries In recent decades a global call for biodiversity preservation has been the main challenge to Tanzanians and their forests Thaddeus Sunseri uses the lens of forest history to explore some of the most profound transformations in Tanzania from the nineteenth century to the present He explores anticolonial rebellions the world wars the depression the Cold War oil shocks and nationalism through their intersections with and impacts on Tanzania s coastal forests and woodlands In Wielding the Ax forest history becomes a microcosm of the origins nature and demise of colonial rule in East Africa and of the first fitful decades of independence Wielding the Ax is a story of changing constellations of power over forests beginning with African chiefs and forest spirits both known as ax wielders and ending with international conservation experts who wield scientific knowledge as a means to controlling forest access The modern international concern over tropical deforestation cannot be understood without an awareness of the long term history of these forest struggles Humans and the Environment Matthew I. J. Davies,Freda Nkirote M'Mbogori,2013-06-27 The environment has always been a central concept for archaeologists and although it has been conceived in many ways its role in archaeological explanation has fluctuated from a mere backdrop to human action to a primary factor in the understanding of society and social change Archaeology also has a unique position as its base of interest places it temporally between geological and ethnographic timescales spatially between global and local dimensions and epistemologically between empirical studies of environmental change and more heuristic studies of cultural practice Drawing on data from across the globe at a variety of temporal and spatial scales this volume resituates the way in which archaeologists use and apply the concept of the environment Each chapter critically explores the potential for archaeological data and practice to contribute to modern environmental issues including problems of climate change and environmental degradation Overall the volume covers four basic themes archaeological approaches to the way in which both scientists and locals conceive of the relationship between humans and their environment applied environmental archaeology the archaeology of disaster and new interdisciplinary directions The volume will be of interest to students and established archaeologists as well as practitioners from a range of applied disciplines Ordering Africa Helen Tilley, Robert Gordon, 2017-03-01 African research played a major role in transforming the discipline of anthropology in the twentieth century Ethnographic studies in turn had significant effects on the way imperial powers in Africa approached subject peoples Ordering Africa provides the first comparative history of these processes With essays exploring metropolitan research institutes Africans as ethnographers the transnational features of knowledge production and the relationship between anthropology and colonial administration this volume both consolidates and extends a range of new research questions focusing on the politics of imperial knowledge Specific chapters examine French West Africa the Belgian and French Congo the Anglo Egyptian Sudan Italian Northeast Africa Kenya and Equatorial Africa Gabon as well as developments in Britain France Germany Italy and Switzerland A major collection of essays that will be welcomed by scholars interested in imperial history and the history of Africa Environment, Power, and Justice Graeme Wynn, Jane Carruthers, Nancy J. Jacobs, 2022-07-26 Spanning the colonial postcolonial and postapartheid eras these historical and locally specific case studies analyze and engage vernacular activist and scholarly efforts to mitigate social environmental inequity This book highlights the ways poor and vulnerable people in South Africa Lesotho and Zimbabwe have mobilized against the structural and political forces that deny them a healthy and sustainable environment Spanning the colonial postcolonial and postapartheid eras these studies engage vernacular activist and scholarly efforts to mitigate social environmental inequity Some chapters track the genealogies of contemporary activism while others introduce positions actors and thinkers not previously identified with environmental justice Addressing health economic opportunity agricultural policy and food security the chapters in this book explore a range of issues and ways of thinking about harm to people and their ecologies Because environmental justice is often understood as a contemporary phenomenon framed around North American examples these fresh case studies will enrich both southern African history and global environmental studies Environment Power and Justice expands conceptions of environmental justice and reveals discourses and dynamics that advance both scholarship and social change Contributors Christopher Konz Marc Epprecht Mary Galvin Sarah Ives Admire Mseba Muchaparara Musemwa Matthew A Schnurr Cherryl Walker The Routledge Handbook of Biopolitics Sergei Prozorov, Simona Rentea, 2016-08-05 The problematic of biopolitics has become increasingly important in the social sciences Inaugurated by Michel Foucault's genealogical research on the governance of sexuality crime and mental illness in modern Europe the research on biopolitics has developed into a broader interdisciplinary orientation addressing the rationalities of power over living beings in diverse spatial and temporal contexts The development of the research on biopolitics in recent years has been characterized by two tendencies the increasingly sophisticated theoretical engagement with the idea of power over and the government of life that both elaborated and challenged the Foucauldian canon e g the work of Giorgio Agamben Antonio Negri Roberto Esposito and Paolo Virno and the detailed and empirically rich investigation of the concrete aspects of the government of life in contemporary societies Unfortunately the two tendencies have often developed in isolation from each other resulting in the presence of at least two debates on biopolitics the historico philosophical and the empirical one This Handbook brings these two debates together combining theoretical sophistication and empirical rigour The volume is divided into five sections While the first two deal with the history of the concept and contemporary theoretical debates on it the remaining three comprise the prime sites of contemporary interdisciplinary research on biopolitics economy security and technology Featuring previously unpublished articles by the leading scholars in the field this wide ranging and accessible companion will both serve as an introduction to the diverse research on biopolitics for undergraduate students and appeal to more advanced audiences interested in the current state of the art in biopolitics studies

Savannas and Dry Forests Andrea Berardi, 2017-05-15 Parched landscapes biodiversity loss encroaching deserts and deforestation are some of the environmental crises taking place in tropical savannas and dry forests throughout the world To date much research into these regions has treated humans as outside or as an impact only However over and over again examples show that in fact humans are not external factors but integral components of these systems Humans are key determinants of savannas and dry forests affecting patterns and processes as well as impacts on natural resources Unless we understand the human environment relationship in these regions we will never truly identify the causes or be able to provide solutions This book therefore focuses on the roles of the past present and future human perceptions and actions on savannas and dry forests It examines how the views of local farmers NGO workers government officials and international scientists differ on the links between the social and ecological components of savannas It deals with these multiple perspectives by using systems diagramming and conceptual modelling to provide a clearer and more explicit understanding and to promote better communication between the various actors concerned
