Sociology and the Twilight of Man Charles C. Lemert,1990      Sociology and the Twilight of Man Charles C.

Lemert,1979 A critique of modern sociological theory this brilliant new work rather than announcing the twilight of man accepts the event both as an intellectual conclusion and an empirical fact and proceeds systematically to examine the alternatives beyond the Weber Durkheim Parsons episteme Addressing himself to the issues of pluralism in sociological theory Lemert rigorously examines representative writings of important theorists in America and Europe including the writings of Homans Lexical Explanation Blalock Theory Constructionism Parsons Analytic Realism Blumer Symbolic Interactionism Schutz Berger Luckmann Phenomenology Cicourel Ethnomethodology and Habermas Critical Theory Lemert challenges the celebrated pluralism hypothesis in his argument that recent sociological theory is not so pluralistic after all and has not made particular use of available styles of thinking Sociology and the Twilight of Man is an important contribution to the modern sociological enterprise for several reasons First it raises basic questions about the progress made beyond earlier theoretical writings Second it questions the explanatory force of current theories Third it questions whether contemporary theory can continue to develop in a meaningful way without a profound reexamination of its assumptions and premises And fourth it demonstrates the value of discursive analysis to theoretical studies Lemert's critique could lead to fundamental revisions of sociologists perception of their discipline      Bibliography of Semiotics, 1975-1985,1986-01-01 This

Order and Agency in Modernity Kwang-ki Kim, 2012-02-01 In this unique analysis of three prominent theorists of modern sociology theory is understood as implicitly but importantly reflecting especially modern problems of individual and social life From the grand theoretical systems of Talcott Parsons to the unique symbolic interactionism of Erving Goffman and the radically mundane ethnomethodology of Harold Garfinkel a wide variety of noted sociological theories have addressed central issues of sociology against the backdrop of modern society When this modern backdrop is brought into the foreground of analysis sociological theories assume new depth and breadth and new historical significance The author outlines features of the modern experience drawing upon neglected cultural theorists of modernity and then shows how these features of modernity are reflected and incorporated in the scholarship of Parsons Goffman and Garfinkel The result is an original and eclectic analysis that illuminates previously overlooked dimensions to modern sociological theory and suggests new possibilities for meaningful and rewarding comparisons between theoretical traditions
