Making the March King Patrick Warfield, 2013-10-16 John Philip Sousa's mature career as the indomitable leader of his own touring band is well known but the years leading up to his emergence as a celebrity have escaped serious attention In this revealing biography Patrick Warfield explains how the March King came to be by documenting Sousa's early life and career Covering the period 1854 to 1893 this study focuses on the community and training that created Sousa exploring the musical life of late nineteenth century Washington D C and Philadelphia as a context for Sousa s development Warfield examines Sousa s wide ranging experience composing conducting and performing in the theater opera house concert hall and salons as well as his leadership of the United States Marine Band and the later Sousa Band early twentieth century America s most famous and successful ensemble Sousa composed not only marches during this period but also parlor minstrel and art songs parade concert and medley marches schottisches waltzes and polkas and incidental music operettas and descriptive pieces Warfield s examination of Sousa s output reveals a versatile composer much broader in stylistic range than the bandmaster extraordinaire remembered as the March King In particular Making the March King demonstrates how Sousa used his theatrical training to create the character of the March King The exuberant bandmaster who pleased audiences was both a skilled and charismatic conductor and a theatrical character whose past and very identity suggested drama spectacle and excitement Sousa s success was also the result of perseverance and lessons learned from older colleagues on how to court win and keep an audience Warfield presents the story of Sousa as a self made business success a gifted performer and composer who deftly capitalized on his talents to create one of the most entertaining enduring figures in American music

Brass Bands of the British Isles 1800-2018 - a historical directory Gavin Holman, Of the many brass bands that have flourished in Britain and Ireland over the last 200 years very few have documented records covering their history This directory is an attempt to collect together information about such bands and make it available to all Over 19 600 bands are recorded here with some 10 600 additional cross references for alternative or previous names This volume supersedes the earlier British Brass Bands a Historical Directory 2016 and includes some 1 400 bands from the island of Ireland A separate work is in preparation covering brass bands beyond the British Isles A separate appendix lists the brass bands in each county

German Ragtime & Prehistory of Jazz: The sound documents Rainer E. Lotz,1985 Reruns on File Donald G. Godfrey,2013-09-13 For more than half a century broadcast recordings have reflected an important aspect of our culture and history An increasing number of archivists and private collectors have restored and exchanged radio and television materials However despite the awareness of these primary resource materials there is still some reluctance to utilize this aural and visual history resource A part of this reluctance is due to the fact that little is known about the existence of many collections throughout the nation This volume provides a comprehensive directory of electronic media archives in the United States and Canada It describes each collection focusing on its speciality providing the serious researcher with ready access information to these electronic media program resources Focusing on both private and institutional collections it is organized by state and city with indexes to provide the scholar with subject and location of specific topics of interest

America's Musical Life Richard Crawford,2001 An illustrated history of America s musical heritage ranges from the earliest examples of Native American traditional song to the innovative sound of contemporary rock and jazz
