We Do Not Want the Gates Closed between Us Justin Gage,2020-10-08 In the 1860s and 1870s the United States government forced most western Native Americans to settle on reservations These ever shrinking pieces of land were meant to relocate contain and separate these Native peoples isolating them from one another and from the white populations coursing through the plains We Do Not Want the Gates Closed Between Us tells the story of how Native Americans resisted this effort by building vast intertribal networks of communication threaded together by letter writing and off reservation visiting Faced with the consequences of U S colonialism the constraints population loss and destitution Native Americans far from passively accepting their fate mobilized to control their own sources of information spread and reinforce ideas and collectively discuss and mount resistance against onerous government policies Justin Gage traces these efforts drawing on extensive new evidence including more than one hundred letters written by nineteenth century Native Americans His work shows how Lakotas Cheyennes Utes Shoshones Kiowas and dozens of other western tribal nations shrewdly used the U S government s repressive education system and mechanisms of American settler colonialism notably the railroads and the Postal Service to achieve their own ends Thus Natives used literacy a primary tool of assimilation for U S policymakers to decolonize their lives much earlier than historians have noted Whereas previous histories have assumed that the Ghost Dance itself was responsible for the creation of brand new networks among western tribes this book suggests that the intertribal networks formed in the 1870s and 1880s actually facilitated the rapid dissemination of the Ghost Dance in 1889 and 1890 Documenting the evolution and operation of intertribal networking Gage demonstrates its effectiveness and recognizes for the first time how through Native activism long distance intercultural communication persisted in the colonized American West Nebraska During the New Deal Marilyn Irvin Holt,2019-12 2020 Nebraska Book Award As a New Deal program the Federal Writers Project FWP aimed to put unemployed writers teachers and librarians to work The contributors were to collect information write essays conduct interviews and edit material with the goal of producing guidebooks in each of the then forty eight states and U S territories Project administrators hoped that these guides known as the American Guide Series would promote a national appreciation for America s history culture and diversity and preserve democracy at a time when militarism was on the rise and parts of the world were dominated by fascism Marilyn Irvin Holt focuses on the Nebraska project which was one of the most prolific branches of the national program Best remembered for its state guide and series of folklore and pioneer pamphlets the project also produced town guides published a volume on African Americans in Nebraska and created an ethnic study of Italians in Omaha In Nebraska during the New Deal Holt examines Nebraska s contribution to the project both in terms of its place within the national FWP as well as its operation in comparison to other state projects New Complete Bookkeeping Louis Lafayette Williams,Fernando E.
