South Italian Festivals A Local History Of Ritual And Change:

South Italian Festivals Herman Tak, 2000 South Italian Festivals is a story and study of socio economic changes in an Italian mountain town Calvello Basilicata over a five hundred year period from traditional society to modernity Instead of exploring a single festival the book studies a ritual one year cycle of local and ecclesiastical rituals With the analysis of field research oral history iconography topography as well as archival sources Herman Tak reveals an interplay between the structures of social life and their ritual expression South Italian Festivals elucidates processes of ritual continuity and change by exploring the dialectic between local production reproduction and reworking of rituals It also analyses the structures of power underlying an interplay of internal and external forces which govern socio economic relations , Imperial Ambition in the Early Modern Mediterranean Céline Dauverd, 2015 Imperial Ambition in the Early Modern Mediterranean Genoese Merchants and the Spanish Crown This book examines the alliance between the Spanish Crown and Genoese merchant bankers in southern Italy throughout the early modern era when Spain and Genoa developed a symbiotic economic relationship undergirded by a cultural and spiritual alliance Analyzing early modern imperialism migration and trade this book shows that the spiritual entente between the two nations was mainly informed by the religious division of the Mediterranean Sea The Turkish threat in the Mediterranean reinforced the commitment of both the Spanish Crown and the Genoese merchants to Christianity Spain's imperial strategy was reinforced by its willingness to acculturate to southern Italy through organized beneficence representation at civic ceremonies and spiritual guidance during religious holidays Celine Dauverd is Assistant Professor of History and a board member of the Mediterranean Studies Group at the University of Colorado Boulder Her research focuses on sociocultural relations between Spain and Italy during the early modern era 1450 1650 She has published articles in the Sixteenth Century Journal the Journal of World History Mediterranean Studies and the Journal of Levantine Studies Becoming Neapolitan John A. Marino, 2011-01-03 2011 Winner of the Phyllis Goodhart Gordan Book Prize of the Renaissance Society of America Naples in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries managed to maintain a distinct social character while under Spanish rule John A Marino's study explores how the population of the city of Naples constructed their identity in the face of Spanish domination As Western Europe's largest city early modern Naples was a world unto itself Its politics were decentralized and its neighborhoods diverse Clergy nobles and commoners struggled to assert political and cultural power Looking at these three groups Marino unravels their complex interplay to show how such civic rituals as parades and festival days fostered a unified Neapolitan identity through the assimilation of Aragonese customs Burgundian models and Spanish governance He discusses why the relationship between mythical and religious representations in ritual practices allowed Naples's inhabitants to identify themselves as citizens of an illustrious and powerful sovereignty and explains how this semblance of stability and harmony hid the city's political cultural and social fissures In the process Marino finds that being and becoming Neapolitan meant manipulating the city's rituals until their original content and meaning were lost The consequent widening of divisions between rich and poor led Naples's vying castes to turn on one another as the Spanish monarchy weakened Rich in source material and tightly integrated this nuanced synthetic overview of the disciplining of ritual life in early modern Naples digs deep into the construction of Neapolitan identity Scholars of early modern Italy and of Italian and European history in general will find much to ponder in Marino's keen insights and compelling arguments
