Enhancing Democracy With Coalition Governments and Politics Tshishonga, Ndwakhulu Stephen, 2024-05-20 Political coalition formation is a global strategy employed by leaders and parties in their pursuit of power. This practice takes on particular significance in post colonial Africa where coalition governments have emerged as responses to challenges faced by the electoral base of liberation parties. In countries like Congo Kinshasa Zimbabwe Nigeria Mauritius South Africa and the Kingdom of Lesotho coalition politics serves as a model for conflict resolution and democratic governance. Enhancing Democracy With Coalition Governments and Politics delves into this complex landscape thoroughly investigating the pivotal role of coalition governments formed both before and after elections. It sheds light on the challenges posed to dominant liberation movements and the urgent need for a radical agenda to address corruption maladministration and the abuse of political power. The book focuses on Africa's pursuit of sound electoral democracy and democratic governance. Enhancing Democracy With Coalition Governments and Politics aims to conceptually understand coalition governments trace their historical evolution in Africa interrogate the triggers for coalition formation assess their impact on electoral democracy and explore coalition politics at both local and national levels. By providing theoretical and empirical insights the book equips policymakers practitioners scholars and researchers in the fields of Politics Sociology Public Administration and Development Studies with tools to comprehend form manage and sustain political coalitions as vehicles for democratic governance.

Crisis of the State Bruce Kapferer, Bjørn Enge Bertelsen, 2009-04-01 Analyzing both historical contexts and geographical locations this volume explores the continuous reformation of state power and its potential in situations of violent conflict. The state otherwise understood as an abstract and transcendent concept in many works on globalization in political philosophy is instead located and analyzed here as an embedded part of lived reality. This relationship to the state is exposed as an integral factor to the formation of the social whether in Africa the Middle East South America or the United States. Through the examination of these particular empirical settings of war or war like situations the book further argues for the continued importance of the state in shifting social and political circumstances. In doing so the authors provide a critical contribution to debates within a broad spectrum of fields that are concerned with the future of the state the nature of sovereignty and globalization.

Security and Democracy in Southern Africa Gavin Cawthra, André Du Pisani, Abillah H. Omari, 2007 A study of the ambiguity of democratization and how it can generate violence. Southern Africa has embarked on one of the world's most ambitious security co operation initiatives seeking to roll out the principles of the United Nations at regional levels. This book examines the triangular relationship between democratization the character of democracy and its deficits and national security practices and perceptions of eleven southern African states. Based on national studies conducted by African academics and security practitioners over three years it includes an examination of the way security is conceived and managed as well as a comparative analysis of regional security co operation in the developing world. The study concludes that democratization is ambiguous and uncertain.

and can in some cases generate violent conflict Building a common security regime in southern Africa will require moving beyond regime solidarity In particular progress will mean building multinational institutions entrenching democratic practices drawing on civil society and integrating the southern African project with that of the African Union The authors conclude with a set of policy recommendations that aim to strengthen both states and civil society within the framework of an emerging common security system African Journal of Political Science ,1997 Namibia National Bibliography ,1990

African Books in Print ,1978 Multi-party Elections in Africa Michael Cowen,Liisa Laakso,2002 This volume contains electoral studies of multiparty politics in 14 African countries during the 1990s Most are about national elections in Anglophone Africa There are also less well known examples from Sudan Ethiopia and Guinea Bissau The collection also features studies of the local elections in Namibia and of a significant by election in Malawi The multiparty period had been put wherever possible within the historical context of earlier elections in Africa Questions addressed include how did incumbent governing regimes learn to live with multiparty politics Why have some elections been so closely fought and others have suffered from apathy Why has there been relatively open political expression and activity when the elections have increased the political and economic manipulation by incumbent governments Why have the elections of the 1990s been so marked by local and ethnic variations To what extent did this wave of democracy result from pressure from donor countries Crafting Constitutional Democracies Edward Schneier,2006-05-12 By examining the institutions of government through the lens of constitution making Crafting Constitutional Democracies provides a broad and insightful introduction to comparative politics Drawn from a series of lectures given in Jakarta Indonesia on the drafting of the U S constitution the book illustrates the problems faced by generations of founders through numerous historic and contemporary examples Both Indonesia in 1999 and the United States in 1789 faced the same basic issue how to construct a central government for a large and diverse nation that allowed the majority of the people to govern themselves without intruding on the rights of minorities What kinds of institutions make for good government What factors need to be considered in designing a government Author Edward Schneier explores these questions through a rich variety of examples from both recent and historic transitions to democracy Drawing frequently upon the arguments of the American Federalist Papers and more contemporary theories of democratization Crafting Constitutional Democracies lucidly explores the key questions of how and why democracies succeed and fail A concluding chapter on constitutional change and decline raises provocative and important questions about the lessons that citizens of the world s older democracies might take from the struggles of the new

The African Book Publishing Record ,1997 Eastern and Southern Africa Debby Potts,T.A.S. Bowyer-Bower,2016-02-04 A unique and comprehensive introduction to contemporary development issues in East and Southern Africa and represents a significant departure from the often descriptive approach adopted by existing regional and development texts on African regions Each contribution is carefully chosen to highlight the theoretical basis to development issues and the practical problems of implementing development plans in this vital subregion Overall this produces comprehensive and balanced coverage of historical economic political and social issues The twin issues of globalisation and modernisation give the book a clear focus Bibliographic Guide to Black Studies Schomburg Center for Research in Black Culture,1997 Challenges for the Democratisation Process in Tanzania Jonas Ewald,2013-07-24 Tanzania has been independent in 2011 for 50 years While most neighbouring states have gone through violent conflicts Tanzania has managed to implement extensive reforms without armed political conflicts Hence Tanzania is an interesting case for Peace and Development research This dissertation analyses the political development in Tanzania since the introduction of the multiparty system in 1992 with a focus on the challenges for the democratisation process in connection with the 2000 and 2005 elections The question of to what extent Tanzania had moved towards a consolidation of democracy is analysed by looking at nine different institutions of importance for democratisation grouped in four spheres the state the political civil and economic society Focus is on the development of the political society and the role of the opposition in particular The analysis is based on secondary and primary material collected between September 2000 to April 2010 The main conclusion is that even if the institutions of liberal democracy have gradually developed in practice single party rule has continued manifested in the 2005 election when the CCM won 92% of seats Despite impressive economic growth poverty remains deep and has not been substantially reduced On a theoretical level this brings the old debate between liberal and substantive democracy back to the fore Neither the economic nor the political reforms have brought about a transformation of the political and economic system resulting in the poor majority gaining substantially more political influence and improved economic conditions Hence it is argued that the interface between the economic political and administrative reforms has not been sufficiently considered in the liberal democratic tradition Liberal democracy is necessary for a democratic development but not sufficient for democracy to be consolidated For that a substantive democratic development is necessary Elections in Namibia Gerhard Töttemeyer,Arnold Wehmhoerner,Heribert Weiland,Friedrich-Ebert-Stiftung,1996
