Southern African Futures Critical Factors For Regional Development In Southern Africa Discussion Paper S:

Southern African Futures Bertil Odén, 1996 The fall of apartheid in South Africa and post cold war international development changed the preconditions for regionalization in southern Africa From being used as an instrument in the overlaying conflict between apartheid South Africa and the rest of the region it can now be constructively used to improve regional development This study examines a number of decisive factors for future southern African regionalization One of its conclusions is that the process will mainly be spontaneous rather than politically guided Functional integration in sectors like hydropower water management transport and communication is easier to envisage than traditional trade integration Investments rather than trade will be the driving force Threats to the three main interrelated components of a positive scenario for the region high economic growth political stability and absence of major armed conflicts between and within the countries are analyzed The risk that regionalization by default may lead to enclaves of growth and wealth in a sea of poverty is noted

Land Reform Under Structural Adjustment in Zimbabwe Sam Moyo, 2000 This study represents a first systematic effort to document Zimbabwe's new land uses during the years of economic crisis the role of the state in promoting them the differentiation associated with them not only between black and white farmers but also among them and the implications of all these for the political economy of the Zimbabwean land question The fact that some of the new land uses avoid redistribution of clearly under utilised large scale commercial farms suggests that the Zimbabwean land question will remain a live political issue for a long time

Fault-lines in South African Democracy Fred Hendricks, 2003 The transition from apartheid to democracy in South Africa has raised questions on the one hand about the tension between the imperatives of justice and equality and on the other reconciliation Transforming the decades old apartheid system under conditions of a political compromise has turned out to be a formidable challenge This paper is about the complexity of the transformation process going on in South Africa Although too early for a real assessment of the experiment the tensions dilemmas contradictions paradoxes and some of the changes have already begun to manifest themselves The paper shows how political deals affect the administration of justice and how they impinge upon the nature of democracy often by frustrating efforts to realise social goals in the post authoritarian phase It also raises the fundamental question of the broader necessities for the long term survival of democracy in South Africa

The New Partnership for Africa's Development (NEPAD) Henning Melber, 2002 From 24 to 26 February 2002 the Hanns Seidel Foundation based in Germany came together in Dar es Salaam with African counterparts for its annual workshop This Discussion Paper publishes some of the presentations to the workshop in an effort to document the newly initiated debate from different positions

Structural Stability in an African Context Robert Kappel, Andreas Mehler, Henning Melber, 2003 Structural Stability is a particular focus for reconceptualizing developmental strategy and development aid and has provoked unforeseen responses in the course of a recent mainly German debate This debate began late in 2000 when a number of prominent

German scholars in African Studies initiated a policy dialogue through a widely circulated and publicly discussed Afrika Memorandum centred on the notion of structural stability Its arguments are relevant not only to a German audience but offer stimulating and thought provoking inputs into the debate in the wider European context on bilateral and multilateral relations with Africa This Discussion Paper presents the revised contributions to a Consultative Workshop on Structural Stability in an African Context that took place at the Nordic Africa Institute in Uppsala on 31 March and 1 April 2003

Measuring Democracy and Human Rights in Southern Africa Yul Derek Davids,2002 Attitudes Among the Youth

Political Cultures in Democratic South Africa M. Neocosmos,Raymond Suttner,Ian Taylor,2002 The contributions to this Discussion Paper reflect upon different but related aspects of South African democracy after Apartheid as represented in a variety of social forces institutions and individuals They illustrate that societies in transition have to make sustained efforts to overcome the legacies of the past and that the present reproduces some of the past structural constraints and patterns of power and control in the new framework The contributions were originally presented to a workshop organized in Cape Town in December 2001 Development from Below Reinhart Kössler,Henning Melber,Per Strand,2003 Covers aspects of rebuilding post apartheid society with particular reference to marginalized groups the Nama Outlines the event of the annual Festival at Gibeon commemorating a political manifestation started by Kaptein Hendrik Witbooi in 1930 Following the main paper Reflections on Heroes Day by R Kössler gives the rejoinders The local and the global a comment by P Strand and Nama or Namibian by H Melber Zimbabwe Suzanne Dansereau,Mario Zamponi,2005 The two articles are revised versions of papers presented at the end of May 2004 to a Zimbabwe Conference at the Nordic Africa Institute which was co organized by the project Liberation and Democracy in Southern Africa LiDeSA They highlight current socio economic aspects of Zimbabwean society By doing so they raise relevant issues yet ones that have tended to be neglected given the almost exclusive concentration on political events While this is understandable the articles fill the gap in our knowledge and add insights into important sectors of society These include information on the Zimbabwean economy and the present constraints of the decline which together help us to understand the structural legacy that any future government will have to deal with What is more the elections in Zimbabwe in 2005 provide an ideal moment to discuss such matters This Discussion Paper will thereby make a substantive contribution to the analysis of the overall picture in Zimbabwe Language, Democracy and

Education in Africa Birgit Brock-Utne,2002 This publication is built on two papers In the first paper the author looks at the language question through the eyes of a social and political scientist The second paper is an extended version of the author s talk to the NAI Research Forum on 24 January 2002 Regulating Mining in Africa Bonnie K. Campbell,2004 Liberalisation of the mining sector in Africa in the 1980s a developmental perspective II Monitoring the Process of Regional Integration in SADC Christian Peters-Berries,Michael Thomas Marx,2000 Ethnicity, State Power and the Democratisation Process in Uganda Juma Okuku,2002 The broad base legitimacy and power South Africa's Recent Foreign Policy Towards

Africa Roger Pfister, 2000      Bushmen and Diamonds Kenneth Good, 2003 Botswana's democracy is often considered to be a comparatively advanced and positive example of an African state in terms of political culture and the notion of good governance. This paper challenges the assumption that the country's current political and socio-economic system is in fact exemplary. It highlights some of the limitations by focusing on the particular situation of the Bushmen San as a marginalized minority denied citizens' rights and losing out against the material interests accompanying the exploration and exploitation of diamonds, the most lucrative natural resource contributing to Botswana's success story. The author has on previous occasions presented and published related analyses within the research network on Liberation and Democracy in Southern Africa LiDeSA which is currently coordinated through the Nordic Africa Institute. This publication is another result of the collaboration within this project.      Regional Cooperation in Southern Africa Bertil Odén, Haroub Othman, Nordiska Afrikainstitutet, 1989 A conference in Harare, Zimbabwe, in September 1988 arranged on the initiative of the Southern African Research Association SADRA and the Scandinavian Institute of African Studies SIAS aimed to initiate research and cooperation between Nordic and Southern African researchers.      Perspectives on Côte D'Ivoire Cyril I. Obi, 2007 The three articles in this Discussion Paper explore different perspectives to the complex causes of the civil war that broke out in Côte d'Ivoire in September 2002. They are written against the background of the signing of yet another peace agreement between the Ivorian government and the former rebel New Forces (NF) in March 2007. This volume also provides a context where the prospects for post-conflict peace, national reconciliation and democracy in Côte d'Ivoire could be critically analyzed.

African Economic Outlook 2015: Regional Development and Spatial Inclusion African Development Bank, OECD, United Nations Development Programme, 2015-05-25 The African Economic Outlook 2015 analyses Africa's growing role in the world economy and predicts the continent's two-year prospects in crucial areas: macroeconomics, financing, trade policies and regional integration, human development and governance.      Konflikt und Entwicklung im Südlichen Afrika Peter Meyns, 2013-03-09 Die Region des Südlichen Afrika stellte jahrzehntlang einen der brisantesten Konflikttherde auf dem afrikanischen Kontinent, ja in der Dritten Welt insgesamt, dar. Zentraler, wenngleich nicht alleiniger Unruhefaktor der Region war das Apartheidregime in Südafrika. Die Situation im Südlichen Afrika war zugleich durch andere Konfliktmomente wie den Ost-West-Konflikt sowie lokale Machtkonflikte geprägt. Um die Komplexität der regionalen Konflikte und der Entwicklung zu erfassen, wird auf vertikaler Ebene eine Konfliktanalyse vorgenommen, die die internationale, regionale und nationale Dimension umfasst. Auf einer horizontalen Ebene behandelt der Autor die verschiedenen Dimensionen des Sicherheitsbegriffs: militärische, politische, wirtschaftliche, gesellschaftliche und ökologische Dimensionen. In einer historischen Analyse werden schließlich die verschiedenen Phasen der Entwicklung im Südlichen Afrika und die je spezifischen Merkmale der Konfliktkonstellationen im zeitlichen Verlauf dargestellt. Das Buch zeigt, dass auch nach dem Ende der Apartheid die fortbestehenden Ungleichheiten zwischen Südafrika und dem übrigen Südlichen Afrika die regionale Entwicklung prägen und

neues Konfliktpotential enthalten
