The Geology of Greece Dimitrios I. Papanikolaou, 2021-05-15 This book introduces the reader to the unique geology of Greece. This country is a natural geology laboratory that can help us understand the present day active geodynamic processes in the Hellenic orogenic arc including earthquakes, volcanoes, coastline changes and other processes of uplift and subsidence as well as the intense erosion, transport and deposition of sediments. Additionally, Greece offers a remarkable geological museum reflecting the complex history of the area over the last 300 million years. By studying the rocks of Greece, one can discover old oceanic basins, e.g. in the Northern Pindos and Othrys mountains, crystalline rocks of Palaeozoic age, old granitic and volcanic rocks as well as other sedimentary rocks including fossils from the shallow neritic facies to pelagic and abyssal facies. The younger sediments demonstrate the continuously changing palaeogeography of Greece with areas of lakes, high plateaus and gulfs that are transformed into new forms of islands, peninsulas or high mountains etc. All the above subjects are included in the book which describes the tectonic structure of the geological strata together with the evolutionary stages of the palaeogeography and geodynamics within the broader Mediterranean context. A special characteristic of the book is the development of the orogenic model of the Hellenides with the application of the tectono-stratigraphic terrane concept in the Tethyan system.

The Wider Island of Pelops David Michael Smith, William G. Cavanagh, Angelos Papadopoulos, 2023-03-23 This volume explores the myriad ways in which pottery was created, utilized and experienced in the prehistoric Aegean across a period of more than 4000 years between the Middle Neolithic and the Early Iron Age transition.

The Earth and Its Inhabitants: Southern Europe (Greece, Turkey, Rumania, Serbia, Italy, Spain and Portugal) Elisée Reclus, 1876

Greek Waters Pilot Rod and Lucinda Heikell, 2025-06-26 Greek Waters Pilot is the definitive cruising guide to the coasts and islands of Greece covering the entire area from the Ionian Islands to the Aegean, Rhodes and Crete and includes details of over 450 harbours and anchorages in a single volume. Greek Waters Pilot has been painstakingly compiled from Rod and Lucinda Heikell's own survey work and exploration over four decades as well as first-hand information from their network of contributors. The organisation of so much detail within the confines of a single volume is impressive. This fifteenth edition has again been thoroughly updated to reflect developments and changes across the whole region. Enriched with fascinating historical, mythological and gastronomic information, Greek Waters Pilot is an incomparable resource and companion for anyone planning to spend time in these endlessly enticing waters.

The South Aegean Active Volcanic Arc M. Fytikas, G. Vougioukalakis, 2005-09-13 This book is a collection of 22 selected papers from the homonymous Conference held in September 2003, Milos, Greece. The aim of the conference was to serve as a forum for the presentation and constructive discussion of the state of the art and emerging issues on the South Aegean Volcanic Arc. In the first part of the book, the tectonic-geodynamic setting and the present upper mantle structure of the Aegean area are discussed. It includes an interesting interpretation of data on the spatial distribution of intermediate focal depth earthquakes.

fault plane solutions and deep velocity structures to further investigate active tectonics related to the deep structure of the southern Aegean volcanic arc The second part deals with general volcanological petrological and tectonic characteristics of the SAAVA presenting an extensive review of volcanological chemical isotope and tectonic data using a large amount of new field and laboratory data Interesting conclusions are presented regarding the present volcanic associations the volcanic fields location and shape in respect to the large tectonic lineaments and the plate motions the source of the SAAVA parental magmas Presented in the third part is an extensive review on the volcanic hazard assessment and the monitoring state of the SAAVA centers Seismic and geodetic monitoring of the Santorini volcano and the recent 1995 1998 crisis of Nisyros volcano are presented and discussed The last part deals with hydrothermal deposits and processes in the SAAVA as well as products and processes in adjacent areas with a particular interest and significance that link them to the SAAVA processes Systematic re evaluation on the geodynamic and tectonic setting of the Aegean active volcanic centers Thorough review with new data and ideas on the magma source region the magma differentiation processes in both the deep and shallow levels and the volcanological processes related both to the magma composition and storage depth as well as to the tectonic regime of the volcano growth area Up to date estimation of the volcanic hazard in the Aegean area and a detailed presentation of the present state and the monitoring efforts of the South Aegean active centers National Geographic Traveler: Athens and the Islands Joanna Kakissis, 2011 A guide to traveling in Athens and the Greek islands that provides in depth descriptions and background information on the culture and history of the region as well as famous sights hotels restaurants shops and tours

Cultures in Contact Joan Aruz, Sarah B. Graff, Yelena Rakic, 2013 The exhibition Beyond Babylon Art Trade and Diplomacy in the Second Millennium B C held in 2008 2009 at The Metropolitan Museum of Art demonstrated the cultural enrichment that emerged from the intensive interaction of civilizations from western Asia to Egypt and the Aegean in the Middle and Late Bronze Ages During this critical period in human history powerful kingdoms and large territorial states were formed Rising social elites created a demand for copper and tin as well as for precious gold and silver and exotic materials such as lapis lazuli and ivory to create elite objects fashioned in styles that reflected contacts with foreign lands This quest for metals along with the desire for foreign textiles was the driving force that led to the establishment of merchant colonies and a vast trading network throughout central Anatolia during the early second millennium B C Texts from palaces at sites from Hattusa modern Bogazk y in Hittite Anatolia to Amarna in Egypt attest to the volume and variety of interactions that took place some centuries later creating the impetus for the circulation of precious goods stimulating the exchange of ideas and inspiring artistic creativity Perhaps the most dramatic evidence for these far flung connections emerges out of tragedy the wreckage of the oldest known seagoing ship discovered in a treacherous stretch off the southern coast of Turkey near the promontory known as Uluburun Among its extraordinary cargo of copper glass and exotic raw materials and luxury goods is a gilded bronze statuette of a goddess perhaps the patron deity on board who failed in her mission to protect the ship To explore the themes of the exhibition art trade and diplomacy viewed from an international perspective a two day symposium and related scholarly events allowed colleagues to explore many facets of the multicultural societies that developed in the second millennium B C Their insights which dramatically illustrate the incipient phases of our intensely interactive world are presented largely in symposium order beginning with broad regional overviews and examination of particular archeological contexts and then drawing attention to specific artists and literary evidence for interconnections In this introduction however their contributions are viewed from a somewhat more synthetic perspective one that focuses attention on the ways in which ideas in this volume intersect to enrich the ongoing discourse on the themes elucidated in the exhibition
