Materializing Memory in Art and Popular Culture Laszlo Muntean, Liedeke Plate, Anneke Smelik, 2016-12-08

Memory matters. It matters because memory brings the past into the present and opens it up to the future. But it also matters literally because memory is mediated materially. Materiality is the stuff of memory. Meaningful objects that we love or hate function not only as aide mmoire but are integral to memory. Drawing on previous scholarship on the interrelation of memory and materiality, this book applies recent theories of new materialism to explore the material dimension of memory in art and popular culture. The book's underlying premise is twofold: on the one hand, memory is performed, mediated, and stored through the material world that surrounds us; on the other hand, inanimate objects and things also have agency on their own, which affects practices of memory as well as forgetting. Chapters 1, 4, and 5 of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non-Commercial No Derivatives (CC BY-NC-ND 3.0) license.

Amateur Filmmaking Laura Rascaroli, Gwenda Young, Barry Monahan, 2014-02-27. With the advent of digital filmmaking and critical recognition of the relevance of self-expression, first-person narratives and personal practices of memorialization, interest in the amateur moving image has never been stronger. Bringing together key scholars in the field and revealing the rich variety of amateur filmmaking from home movies of Imperial India and film diaries of life in contemporary China to the work of leading auteurs such as Joseph Morder and Peter Forgács, Amateur Filmmaking highlights the importance of amateur cinema as a core object of critical interest across an array of disciplines. With contributions on the role of the archive on YouTube and on the impact of new technologies on amateur filmmaking, these essays offer the first comprehensive examination of this growing field.

Tourism, Art and Souvenirs David Hume, 2013-10-01. This book examines the relationship between art and tourism through the study of the material culture of tourism: tourist art and souvenirs. It thoroughly examines how to categorise the material culture of tourism within the discourses of contemporary art and cultural anthropology and demonstrates that tourist art is a unique expression of place and genuine artistic style. The first investigation to consider the activity of souvenirs from both indigenous and settler tourist sites, it brings a unique addition to the existing, dated research in the area. Working initially from Graburn's definition of tourist art as the art of one culture made specifically for the consumption of another, Tourism, Art and Souvenirs sheds light on important aspects of the souvenir that have not been widely discussed. The most recent research is used to consider how the souvenir is designed and consumed, consumer expectations and influence on the character of the souvenir, how the souvenir maker is consumed by the tradition of heritage, and how products become successful as souvenirs. The title also investigates the language involved in the representation of place and the recording of experience through the souvenir, developing a method that expresses the descriptive data of individual souvenir artefacts graphically so the patterns of language may be analysed Enhancing the understanding of material culture in tourism and therefore adding to future tourism development this volume will be of interest to upper level students researchers and academics in tourism culture heritage and sustainability Tourism and Memories of Home Sabine Marschall, 2017-02-03 This book investigates home and homeland as destinations of touristic journeys and adds to recent scholarly interest in the intersection between tourism and migration It covers the temporary visits and journeys in search of home and homelands by migrants displaced people exiles and diasporic communities in a wide range of different geographical and historical contexts Personal and collective forms of memory are shown to play a key role in the motivation for and experience of such journeys The volume contributes to the investigation of the tourism memory nexus as it conceptualizes memory as underpinning touristic mobility experience and performativity Based on ethnographic case studies and other types of qualitative empirical research the chapters of this book foreground individual touristic experiences emotions memories perceptions the search for identity and a sense of belonging The book will be of interest to students and researchers in the fields of tourism heritage anthropology identity studies memory studies and migration diaspora studies The Ohio Teacher ,1906 The Concept of Service Quality in Commercial Practice Amelikeh Confidence E. marketing trade and business practices and exposes the aesthetic communicative and ethical qualities that lie behind the enormous success of postcards at the turn of the 20th century This comprehensive study is positioned as a thought provoking invitation to scholars and students interested in material culture media studies and human interactions as well as to history enthusiasts art lovers and postcard collectors Offering a distinctive contribution the book not only fills a void in the literature but also encourages readers to question and reflect on the transformative power inherent in the postcard s radical openness presenting a novel and unparalleled analysis of this seemingly trivial yet culturally significant object
