Economic Reform in Three Giants Richard Edward Feinberg,John Echeverri Gent,Friedemann MÅ¼ller,1990-01-01 Three of the largest and strategically most important nations in the world the Soviet Union China and India are currently in the throes of historical change The reforms in the giants are transforming global economic and geopolitical relations The United States must reexamine central tenets of its foreign policy if it is to seize the opportunities presented by these changes This pathbreaking volume in the Overseas Development Council's series analyzes economic reform in the giants and its economy to foreign trade and investment. What consequences will this have for international trade? Each giant is attempting to catch up to global technological frontiers by absorbing foreign technologies. In what areas might cooperation enhance American interests and in what areas must the U.S. protect its competitive and strategic assets? What role can key international economic institutions play to help integrate the giants into the international economy? The contributors suggest how U.S. foreign policy should anticipate these new circumstances in ways that enhance international cooperation and security. Richard E. Feinberg is vice president of the Overseas Development Council and co-editor of the U.S. Third World Policy Perspectives series. John Echeverri-Gent is a visiting fellow at the Overseas Development Council and an assistant professor at the University of Virginia. Friedmann Miller is a visiting fellow at the Overseas Development Council and a senior research associate at Stiftung Wissenschaft und Politik, Ebenhausen, West Germany.
