Soviet Citizenship Law:

The Citizenship Law of the USSR George Ginsburgs, 1983-01-01 Commentary on the nationality legislation of the USSR covers historical background federal and republican citizenship marriage children dual nationality emigration immigration extradition statelessness naturalization loss and restoration of citizenship administrative aspects and civil rights Bibliography

The Citizenship Law of the USSR George Ginsburgs, 2024-12-02 In 1968 the predecessor of this volume was published as Number 15 of the Law in Eastern Europe series under the title Soviet Citizenship Law The decision to put out a new version of that study was prompted by the enactment in 1978 of the CUTtent Law on the Citizenship of the USSR and the various changes in Soviet practice in this domain which occurred in the intervening decade I have drawn on the earlier work for background material and in order to make comparisons between the previous record here and the substance of the latest statute However the present monograph is not a second edition in the sense of being an expanded and updated revision of the original but stands as an independent piece of research and analysis Thus three of the chapters out of a total of six featured in the 1968 volume citizenship and state succession state succession and option of nationality and refugees and displaced persons have now been omitted for the simple reason that the situation in these areas has remained virtually static during the past ten years so that the initial treatment requires no significant alteration On the other hand fresh problems have meantime arisen such as for instance the connection between citizenship and emigration and the relationship between citizenship status and the international protection of human rights which called for attention and are dealt with in this book

Soviet Citizenship Law George Ginsburgs, 1968 Digest of United States Practice in International Law, 1979

Cumulative Digest of United States Practice in International Law, 1983 Citizenship of the USSR Viktor

Sergeevich Shevtsov, 1979 Monograph citizenship and civil rights USSR includes a Russian language bibliography pp 281 to 283 Migration, Refugee Policy, and State Building in Postcommunist Europe Oxana Shevel, 2011-10-24 Why do similar postcommunist states respond differently to refugees Why do some states privilege certain refugee groups while other states do not This book presents a theory to account for this puzzle and it centers on the role of the politics of nation building and of the office of the UN High Commissioner for Refugees UNHCR A key finding of the book is that when the boundaries of a nation are contested and thus there is no consensus on which group should receive preferential treatment in state policies a political space for a receptive and nondiscriminatory refugee policy opens up The book speaks to the broader questions of how nationalism matters after communism and under what conditions and through what mechanisms international actors can influence domestic policies The analysis is based on extensive primary research the author conducted in four languages in the Czech Republic Poland Russia and Ukraine International and National Law in Russia and Eastern Europe Ferdinand J.M. Feldbrugge, Roger Clark, Stanislaw Pomorski, 2021-11-22 The disappearance of the USSR as a superpower to be replaced by the Russian Federation and a host of new states has had wide ranging consequences in the field of law The establishment of market economies and the need to set up institutional frameworks to foster the rule of law have precipitated comprehensive domestic law reforms in the countries concerned The major focus of the present work however is on the metamorphosis of the network of international law relations brought about by the fundamental change in the political and constitutional climate and the emergence of numerous new actors Apart from the relations between states as the classical province of international law the impact of international law on national legal orders has acquired overwhelming importance and the successor states of the Soviet Union have not escaped the effect of this development Some of the most urgent questions thrown up by these developments are analyzed by a team of leading legal specialists from the Russian Federation North America and Western Europe Extraterritorial Citizenship in Postcommunist Europe Timofey Agarin,Ireneusz Pawel Karolewski,2015-09-29 What role does the protection of citizens abroad play in motivating states policies How does citizenship of non residents map onto domestic nation building projects And in what ways do extraterritorial citizenship issues differ from those related to diaspora and migration This volume develops a new analytical framework for emerging research on how states establish relationships with non resident citizens and resident non citizens It provides new insights on the changing relationship between states and the societies they govern particularly in light of the liberalization of the state institutions on the one hand and their approach to citizenship as a political resource on the other Examining a range of European states in the post communist region the book illustrates the complex geopolitical interests and interstate relations involved with these policy decisions whilst highlighting the relevance of similar issues around the globe International Migration Law Richard Plender,2024-01-09 Fluid Russia Vera Michlin-Shapir,2021-12-15 Fluid Russia offers a new framework for understanding Russian national identity by focusing on the impact of globalization on its formation something which has been largely overlooked This approach sheds new light on the Russian case revealing a dynamic Russian identity that is developing along the lines of other countries exposed to globalization Vera Michlin Shapir shows how along with the freedoms afforded when Russia joined the globalizing world in the 1990s came globalization s disruptions Michlin Shapir describes Putin s rise to power and his project to reaffirm a stronger identity not as a uniquely Russian diversion from liberal democracy but as part of a broader phenomenon of challenges to globalization She underlines the limits of Putin s regime to shape Russian politics and society which is still very much impacted by global trends As well Michlin Shapir questions a prevalent approach in Russia studies that views Russia s experience with national identity as abnormal or defective either being too weak or too aggressive What is offered is a novel explanation for the so called Russian identity crisis As the liberal postwar order faces growing challenges Russia s experience can be an instructive example of how these processes unfold This study ties Russia s authoritarian politics and nationalist rallying to the shortcomings of globalization and neoliberal economics potentially making Russia patient zero of the anti globalist populist wave and rise of neo authoritarian regimes In this way Fluid Russia contributes to the broader understanding of national identity in the current age and the complexities of identity formation in the global world Struggles for Belonging Dieter Gosewinkel,2021 This book recounts the history of citizenship in 20th century Europe focussing on six countries Great Britain France Germany Czechoslovakia Poland and Russia It is the history of a central legal institution that significantly represents and at the same time determines struggles over migration integration and belonging Russia and Ukraine Maria Popova,Oxana Shevel,2023-11-08 In February 2022 Russian missiles rained on Ukrainian cities and tanks rolled towards Kyiv to end Ukrainian independent statehood President Zelensky declined a Western evacuation offer and Ukrainians rallied to defend their country What are the roots of this war which has upended the international legal order and brought back the spectre of nuclear escalation How did these supposedly brotherly peoples become each other's worst nightmare In Russia and Ukraine Entangled Histories Diverging States Maria Popova and Oxana Shevel explain how since 1991 Russia and Ukraine diverged politically ending up on a collision course Russia slid back into authoritarianism and imperialism while Ukraine consolidated a competitive political system and pro European identity As Ukraine built a democratic nation state Russia refused to accept it and came to see it as an anti Russia project After political and economic pressure proved ineffective and even counterproductive Putin went to war to force Ukraine back into the fold of the Russian world Ukraine resisted determined to pursue European integration as a sovereign state These irreconcilable goals rather than geopolitical wrangling between Russia and the West over NATO expansion are the authors argue essential to understanding Russia's war on Ukraine Congressional Record United States.
