The English Landscape Past Present And Future:

The Landscape of Britain Michael A. Reed, 1990-01-01 The landscape of Britain has an extraordinarily rich historical density and this lavishly illustrated book explores some of the principal themes in its history The landscape of today is the product both of natural geological processes and of some 10 000 years of human habitation Professor Michael Reed looks at the main factors at work in its evolution and examines the evidence that enables us to recreate landscapes of the past Britain's landscape is a palimpsest a text upon which each generation has written its own social autobiography without however being able to erase the contribution of its predecessors This remarkable book examines the endless processes of accretion which have created the rural and urban landscapes as today's inhabitants have inherited them from the past It will appeal to those interested in exploring the rich diversity of Britain as well as regional and historical geographers Contents Part I Foundations Part II Medieval Britain Part III Towards the modern world Index

Fry, 2013-06-29 This book has been initiated by the workshop on Cultural heritage in changing landscapes held during the IALE International Association for Landscape Ecology European Conference that started in Stockholm Sweden in June 2001 and continued across the Baltic to Tartu Estonia in July The papers presented at the workshop have been supported by invited contributions that address a wider range of the cultural heritage management issues and research interfaces required to study cultural landscapes The book focuses on landscape interfaces Both the ones we find out there in the landscape and the ones we face while doing research We hope that this book helps if not to make use of these interfaces then at least to map them and bridge some of the gaps between them The editors wish to thank those people helping us to assemble this collection First of all our gratitude goes to the authors who contributed to the book We would like to thank Marc Antrop Mats Widgren Roland Gustavsson Marion Potschin Barbel Tress Tiina Peil Helen Soovali and Anu Printsmann for their quick and helpful advice opinions and comments during the different stages of editing Helen Soovali and Anu Printsmann together with Piret Pungas thank you for technical help
