South Africa A Study In Conflict University Of California Press Paperback Cal 153:

Political Science Quarterly Columbia University. Faculty of Political Science, 1968 A review devoted to the historical statistical and comparative study of politics economics and public law Catalog of Reprints in Series ,1972 University Bulletin University of California, Berkeley, 1967 The Routledge Handbook of Ethnic Conflict Karl Cordell, Stefan Wolff, 2016-01-22 A definitive global survey of the interaction of ethnicity nationalism and politics this handbook blends rigorous theoretically grounded analysis with empirically rich illustrations to provide a state of the art overview of the contemporary debates on one of the most pervasive international security challenges today Fully updated for the second edition the book includes a new section which offers detailed analyses of contemporary cases of conflict such as in Ukraine Kosovo the African Great Lakes region and in the Kurdish areas across the Middle East thus providing accessible examples that bridge the gap between theory and practice The contributors offer a 360 degree perspective on ethnic conflict from the theoretical foundations of nationalism and ethnicity to the causes and consequences of ethnic conflict and to the various strategies adopted in response to it Without privileging any specific explanation of why ethnic conflict happens at a particular place and time or why attempts at preventing or settling it might fail or succeed The Routledge Handbook of Ethnic Conflict enables readers to gain a better insight into such defining moments in post Cold War international history as the disintegration of the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia and their respective consequences the genocide in Rwanda and the relative success of conflict settlement efforts in Northern Ireland By contributing to understanding the varied and multiple causes of ethnic conflicts and to learning from the successes and failures of their prevention and settlement the Handbook makes a powerful case that ethnic conflicts are neither unavoidable nor unresolvable but rather that they require careful analysis and thoughtful and measured responses The Publishers Weekly ,1968 An Ethnographic Approach to Peacebuilding Gearoid Millar, 2014-04-24 This book aims to outline and promote an ethnographic approach to evaluating international peacebuilding interventions in transitional states While the evaluation of peacebuilding and transitional justice efforts has been a growing concern in recent years too often evaluations assess projects based on locally irrelevant measures reinforce the status quo distribution of power in transitional situations and uncritically accept the implicit conceptions of the funders planners and administrators of such projects This book argues that evaluating the effects of peacebuilding interventions demands an understanding of the local and culturally variable context of intervention Throughout the book the author draws on real world examples from extensive fieldwork in Sierra Leone to argue that local experiences should be considered the primary measure of a peacebuilding project s success An ethnographic approach recognizes diversity in conceptions of peace justice development and reconciliation and takes local approaches and local critiques of the international agenda seriously It can help to empower local actors hold the international peacebuilding industry accountable to its supposed beneficiaries and challenge the Western centric ideas of what peace entails and how peacebuilding is achieved This book will be of much interest to students and scholars of peacebuilding peace and conflict studies transitional justice African politics ethnography International Relations and security studies as well as practitioners working in the field

Reporting War and Conflict Janet Harris, Kevin Williams, 2018-10-03 Reporting War and Conflict brings together history theory and practice to explore the issues and obstacles involved in the reporting of contemporary war and conflict The book examines the radical changes taking place in the working practices and day to day routines of war journalists arguing that managing risk has become central to modern war correspondence How individual reporters and news organisations organise their coverage of war and conflict is increasingly shaped by a variety of personal professional and institutional risks The book provides an historical and theoretical context to risk culture and the work of war correspondents paying particular attention to the changing nature of technology organisational structures and the role of witnessing The conflicts in Iraq Afghanistan and Syria are examined to highlight how risk and the calculations of risk vary according to the type of conflict The focus is on the relationship between propaganda censorship the sourcing of information and the challenges of reporting war in the digital world The authors then move on to discuss the arguments around risk in relation to gender and war reporting and the coverage of death on the battlefield Reporting War and Conflict is a guide to the contemporary changes in warfare and the media environment that have influenced war reporting It offers students and researchers in journalism and media studies an invaluable overview of the life of a modern war correspondent

Routledge Handbook of Ethnic Conflict Karl Cordell, Stefan Wolff, 2010-10-18 A definitive global survey of the interaction of race ethnicity nationalism and politics this handbook blends theoretically grounded rigorous analysis with empirical illustrations to provide a state of the art overview of the contemporary debates on one of the most pervasive international security challenges today The contributors to this volume offer a 360 degree perspective on ethnic conflict from the theoretical foundations of nationalism and ethnicity to the causes and consequences of ethnic conflict and to the various strategies adopted in response to it Without privileging any specific explanation of why ethnic conflict happens at a specific place and time or why attempts at preventing or settling it might fail or succeed the Routledge Handbook of Ethnic Conflict enables readers to gain better insights into such defining moments in post Cold War international history as the disintegrations of the Soviet Union and Yugoslavia and their respective consequences and the genocide in Rwanda as well as the relative success of conflict settlement efforts in Northern Ireland Macedonia and Aceh By contributing to understanding the varied and multiple causes of ethnic conflicts and to learning from the successes and failures of its prevention and settlement the Handbook makes a powerful case that ethnic conflicts are neither unavoidable nor unresolvable but rather that they require careful analysis and thoughtful and measured responses

Peace Psychology in Australia Diane Bretherton, Nikola Balvin, 2012-01-16 This book is a case study of the development of peace psychology in Australia While there is in comparison to other countries relatively little overt violence Australia the nation was founded on the dispossession of Indigenous people and their oppression continues today Peace Psychology in Australia covers the most significant issues of peace and conflict in the country It begins with a review of conflict resolution practices among Australia's ancient Indigenous cultures and succinctly captures topics of peace and conflict which the country has faced in the past 222 years since British settlement The fast population growth thriving multiculturalism leadership in international affairs and environmental isolation make Australia a microcosm for the study of human conflicts and peace movements State Fragility and Resilience in sub-Saharan Africa John Idriss Lahai, Isaac Koomson, 2020-02-18 This book focuses on the indicators of fragility and the resilience of state led interventions to address them in sub Saharan Africa It analyzes the figure of fragile states as the unit the analysis and situates the study of fragility governance and political adaptation within contemporary global and local political economic and socio cultural contexts The chapters offer an indispensable econometrically informed guide to better understanding issues that have an impact on fragility in governance and nation building and affect policy making and program design targeting institutions in various circumstances These issues as they relate to the indicators of fragility are the contexts and correlates of armed conflicts on statehood and state fragility the poverty trap pandemics and household food insecurity and child labor Case studies from across 46 sub Saharan African SSA countries are assessed to offer clear broad and multidisciplinary views of what the future holds for them and the international donor communities at large Regarding state led interventions the authors utilize insightful statistical methods and epistemologies to explain the correlates of behavioral language frames and conflict de escalation on battle related deaths across the conflict zones within the sub region the regional and country level interventions to end child labor the institutional frameworks and interventions in the advancement of food security and health This book will be of interest to scholars of economics development politics in developing countries Area and African Studies peace conflict and security studies

Affective Encounters Di Wu, 2020-08-17 Against the background of China's rapidly growing and sometimes highly controversial activities in Africa this book is among the first of its kind to systematically document Sino African interactions at the everyday level Based on sixteen months of ethnographic fieldwork at two contrasting sites in Lusaka Zambia a Chinese state sponsored educational farm and a private Chinese family farm Di Wu focuses on daily interactions among Chinese migrants and their Zambian hosts Daily communicative events e.g. banquets market negotiations work place disputes and various social encounters across a range of settings are used to trace the essential role that emotion affect plays in forming and reproducing social relations and group identities among Chinese migrants Wu suggests that affective encounters in everyday situations as well as failed attempts to generate affect should not be overlooked in order to fully appreciate Sino African interactions Deeply researched and with rich ethnographic detail this book will be relevant to scholars of anthropology international development and others interested in Sino African relations Library Journal, 1968 A Sense of Justice Sandra Brunnegger, Karen Ann Faulk, 2016-06-15 Throughout Latin America the idea of justice serves as the ultimate goal and rationale for a wide variety of actions and causes In the Chilean Atacama Desert residents have undertaken a prolonged struggle for their right to groundwater Family members of bombing victims in Buenos Aires demand that the state provide justice for the attack In Colombia some victims of political violence have turned to the courts for resolution while others reject the state's ability to fairly adjudicate their grievances and have constructed a non state tribunal In each of these examples the protagonists seek one main thing justice A Sense of Justice ethnographically explores the complex dynamics of justice production across Latin America The chapters examine in justice as it is lived and imagined today and what it means for those who claim and regulate its parameters including the Brazilian police force the Permanent Peoples Tribunal in Colombia and the Argentine Supreme Court Inextricable as justice is from inequality violence crime and corruption it emerges through memory in space and where ideals meet practical limitations Ultimately the authors show how understanding the dynamic processes of constructing justice is essential to creating cooperative rather than oppressive forms of law

Why Does Development Fail in Resource Rich Economies Elissaios Papyrakis, 2019-05-17 There has been a lot of interest within the scientific and policy communities in the resource curse that is the tendency of mineral rich economies to turn into development failures Yet after more than 20 years of intensive research and action the curse still lingers as a very real global problem because of volatile mineral prices bad governance and conflict This book incorporates current original research on the resource curse from some of the most prominent contributors to this literature combined with a critical reflection on the current stock of knowledge It is a unique attempt to provide a more holistic and interdisciplinary picture of the resource curse and its multi scale effects This edited volume reflects the current academic diversity that characterises the resource curse literature with a mix of different methodological approaches both quantitative and qualitative analyses and a diverse geographical focus Latin America Sub Saharan Africa global Taken together the studies emphasize the complexities and conditionalities of the curse its presence intensity being largely context specific depending on the type of resources socio political institutions and linkages with the rest of the economy and society This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Development Studies

Scholarly Books in America, 1967 Handbook of Defense Economics Todd Sandler, Keith Hartley, 2007-04-12 The second volume of the Handbook of Defense Economics addresses defense needs practices threats and policies in the modern era of globalization This new era concerns the enhanced cross border flows of all kinds e g capital and labor flows revolutionary rhetoric guerrillas and terrorists including the spillovers of benefits and costs associated with public goods and transnational externalities i e uncompensated interdependencies affecting two or more nations These ever increasing flows mean that military armaments and armies are less able to keep out security threats. Thus novel defense and security barriers are needed to protect borders that are porous to terrorists, pollutants, political upheavals and conflicts. Even increased trade and financial flows imply novel security challenges and defenses. Globalization also underscores the importance of a new set of institutions, e.g. the European Union and global governance networks and agents, e.g. nongovernmental organizations and partnerships. This volume addresses the security challenges in this age of globalization where conflicts involve novel tactics, new technologies, asymmetric warfare, different venues and frightening weapons. Volume 2 contains topics not covered in volume 1, i.e. civil wars, peacekeeping, economic sanctions, the econometrics of arms races, conversion, peace economics and the interface of trade, peace and democracy. Volume 2 also revisits topics from volume 1 where there has been a significant advancement of knowledge, i.e. conflict analysis, terrorism, arms races, arms trade, military manpower and arms industries. All of the main security concerns of today are analyzed. Chapters are written by the leading contributors in the topic areas. Up to date surveys on the pressing defense issues, theoretical, empirical and policy issues. Coverage of theoretical and empirical studies of terrorism. Contributions by the leading researchers in the field of defense economics.

Women's Access to Transitional Justice in Timor-Leste Noemí Pérez Vásquez, 2022-06-16. Seeing the role of transitional justice as an area of contestation, this book focuses on the principle of equality guaranteed in the access to transitional justice mechanisms. By raising women's experiences in dealing with the law and policies as well as the implications of community and family practices during post-conflict situations, the book shows how these mechanisms may have been implemented mechanically without considering the different intersections of discrimination, the public and private divides that exist in the local context or the stereotypes and values of international and national actors. The book argues that without unpacking the barriers in the administration of transitional justice, the different mechanisms that are implemented in a post-conflict situation may set a higher threshold for the participation of women. Moreover, by taking into account women's perceptions of justice, it further argues that scholars have paid insufficient attention to the welfare structures that are produced after a conflict, particularly the pensions of veterans. Going beyond the focus on sexual violence, a relationship between the violations and post-conflict economic justice may have longer term consequences for women since it perpetuates their inequality and lack of recognition in times of peace. The use of transitional justice may thus exacerbate the invisibility of and discrimination against certain sections of the population. Inspired by the work of Hannah Arendt and based on extensive field research in Timor-Leste, the book has larger implications for the overarching debate on the social consequences of transitional justice.
