South Pole 900 Miles On Foot:

South Pole Gareth Wood, Eric Jamieson, 1996 Canadian Gareth Wood along with two Englishmen successfully walked across Antarctica to the South Pole. Each man hauled a sledge loaded with 350 pounds of survival gear 900 miles through the unimaginable cold of the empty hostile continent. Unlike Robert F. Scott's 1911-12 Antarctica expedition, this trek to the bottom of the world ended with success and survival. Roger Mear, Robert Swan, and Gareth Wood overcame 9,000 feet of altitude and 900 miles of frozen barriers en route to the South Pole without dogs, radios, mechanical support, or caches of food. In tribute to their American predecessor, they used Scott's log. Their epic struggle tested these self-assured individuals and taught them the value of co-operation and teamwork in the face of disaster. For Gareth Wood, the day they finally reached the Pole was more the beginning of a new journey than the end of his quest. The ship that was to have collected the team was crushed in the ice. Not only did Wood survive another year in the Antarctic, but he also lived to describe the horrific attack by a savage leopard seal.

The Mammoth Book of Antarctic Journeys Jon E. Lewis, 2012-01-19 The very best writing on the Antarctic from James Cook's eighteenth-century assertion that no man will ever venture further than I have done to Lynne Cox's description of her epic icy swim in the twenty-first century. 32 first-hand accounts of men and women challenging one of the Earth's last true wildernesses. Here you will find both legendary tales of heroism and startling contemporary accounts of the impact of global warming on the Earth's sole undeveloped continent, including Dog Days by Robert Falcon Scott, The Loss of the Endurance by Ernest Shackleton, Alone by Richard E. Byrd, The Killer under the Water by Gareth Wood, Melting Point by David Helvarg, Swimming to Antarctica by Lynne Cox.

In the Ghost Country Peter Hillary, John E. Elder, 2003-12-30 A reflective memoir by a world-famous explorer delves into the astonishing adventures of his career, including his trips to the Himalayas, the Andes, the Arctic, and an almost fatal trip to the South Pole.

The Mammoth Book of Polar Journeys Jon E. Lewis, 2011-08-04 Exerting a magnetic pull on our imaginations, the poles have been the object of many gripping first-hand accounts of exploration, literally journeys to the ends of the earth. A passport to the last wildernesses of Earth, this is the definitive collection of first-hand accounts of polar exploration: 50 true stories of intrepid travel through the desolate and dangerous regions of both Arctic and Antarctic. Beginning with Sir John Franklin's starvation trek through Alaska in 1821 and ending with Vassili Gorshkovsky's northern expedition aboard a creaking ice breaker in 2005, these true stories encompass every kind of triumph and disaster. The inspired but doomed courage of Captain Scott and the marvellous leadership of Shackleton are well known, but here are many other stories, including The Bear by Frederick A. Cook, 1908; Meeting with Polar Eskimos by Knud Rasmussen, 1932; By Dog Sledge to the Top of the World by Wally Herbert, 1968; Hell on Earth by Reinhold Messner, 1989-90; Solo by Pen Hadow, 2003; and many more.

Quest for Antarctica John F. Borell, 2011-07-13 Antarctica fools you into thinking you are safe that appearances are reality. Antarctica is not what she seems. Since he was thirteen years old, author

John Barells life long and life enriching dream has been to sail to Antarctica and explore its wild and expansive territories. Quest for Antarctica: A Journey of Wonder and Discovery recounts Barells Antarctic adventure that is not only captivating but also educational. Fostered by knowing Americas foremost polar explorer Rear Admiral Richard E Byrd and with strong family support Barells dream continues south to McMurdo Sound and to the two mile thick polar plateau. Follow Barells expeditions including becoming a teacher and learn how all of the survival lessons of Antarctica apply to striving for our own goals and being successful.
