This volume focuses on environmental governance as a key issue of analysis to provide an important new conceptualisation of region and regional power      The Armed Forces: Instrument of Peace, Strength, Development and Prosperity Joseph Babatunde Fagoyinbo, 2013-05-28

Across the ages technological developments have been accelerated by the military This results from the fact that able bodied vibrant youths are generally involved and are also exposed to high tech training prevailing at their times for assignments defence and security that are essential but not desired They form the Armed Forces for the nations Such brilliant military officers like Caesar and Napoleon made their marks and in contemporary times the Armed Forces of United States France Britain Australia etc are making remarkable contributions to technological developments Such infrastructure as the Internet the GPS and the cell phones are products that have significant military contributions This book scans across the major regions of the world highlights the efforts of representative countries in the regions and observes that nations that have harnessed the efforts of their Armed Forces have progressively developed It is also observed that developments in America and Europe though not entirely dependent on their Armed Forces have been greatly affected by their efforts In Asia such countries as the People s Republic of China Brazil India Pakistan and Singapore utilise the human and material resources within the Armed Forces for national growth and cohesion Development effort is least in the African Region except South Africa and Egypt notwithstanding the high potentials as exhibited by Nigeria s Armed Forces Although attempts to industrialise through the Armed Forces may be able to create economic development for developing nations such factors as historical background economic resources political climate government policies and infrastructure are equally important Economic development programme of an aspiring country should i promote education and access to knowledge ii aspire to economic self sufficiency in economic power iii allow and promote private sector and foreign participation in defence production research and development iv commit itself to the establishment and support of defence industries v indigenise defence programmes establish a balance between military and economic development and vi mobilise the nation s economy through technology partnership with the private sector and foreign investors      Handbook of Marine Fisheries Conservation and Management R. Quentin Grafton, 2010-01-21

This handbook is the most comprehensive and interdisciplinary work on marine conservation and fisheries management ever compiled Its many valuable contributions offer a way forward to both understanding and resolving the multifaceted problems facing the world s oceans      ADB Publications Asian Development Bank, 2006      Regimes in Southeast Asia Henriette Litta, 2011-11-01

In the context of massive environmental problems in Southeast Asia the countries in the region have decided at least in some instances to create regimes to solve these problems jointly This empirical observation is surprising given the Southeast Asian countries general reluctance to regional cooperation the governance and budgetary constraints that are typical for developing countries and the huge heterogeneity of the involved countries in terms of environmental vulnerability economic capacity and hegemonic power This book analyzes the creation and effectiveness of two environmental regimes one on transboundary haze pollution and a second on resource management of the Mekong It will be shown that regime creation is extremely problematic and strategies to overcome conflicting actor constellations are mostly lacking Report of the FAO Regional Workshop on the Elaboration of National Plans of Action to Prevent, Deter and Eliminate Illegal, Unreported and Unregulated Fishing, Southeast Asia Subregion, 2005 ADB Review Asian Development Bank, 2002

Routledge Handbook of the Environment in Southeast Asia Philip Hirsch, 2016-09-13 The environment is one of the defining issues of our times and it is closely linked to questions and dilemmas surrounding economic development Southeast Asia is one of the world's most economically and demographically dynamic regions and it is also one in which a host of environmental issues raise themselves The Routledge Handbook of the Environment in Southeast Asia is a collection of 30 chapters dealing with the most significant scholarly debates in this rapidly growing field of study Structured in four main parts it gives a comprehensive regional overview of and insight into the environment in Southeast Asia Wide ranging and balanced this handbook promotes scholarly understanding of how environmental issues are dealt with from diverse theoretical perspectives It offers a detailed empirical understanding of the myriad environmental problems and challenges faced in Southeast Asia This is the first publication of its kind in this field a helpful companion for a global audience and for scholars of Southeast Asian studies from a variety of disciplines China, India, and East and Southeast Asia: Assessing Sustainability Ray C. Anderson, Sam Geall, Jingjing Liu, Sony Pellissery, E. N. Anderson, Joel R. Campbell, Joanna I. Lewis, Muhammad Aurang Zeb Mughal, Mark Wilson, 2012-11-01 China India and East and Southeast Asia Assessing Sustainability provides unprecedented analyses by regional experts and scholars elsewhere in the world on China India and their neighbors Despite growing demands internally on their natural resources China and India alone are home to more than one third of the world's population the expanding global economic influence of this region makes these countries vital players in a sustainable future for all citizens of the Earth Regional coverage includes topics such as business and commerce environmental and corporate law and lifestyles and values Environmental Governance in Europe and Asia Jona Razzaque, 2013 This book looks at environmental governance in both Asia and Europe and offers a comparative analysis of the two regions in order to provide a better understanding of the concept of environmental governance and its status in Europe and Asia The book assesses the legislative institutional and participatory mechanisms which affect the overall development of environmental governance and analyses current issues concerns and strategies in respect of environmental governance at the local national and international levels The rapid changes in economic social and political life have had an enormous impact on Asia's ecosystems and resources Asian countries in the name of economic development are following the same environmentally destructive path their European counterparts followed in the past The key to the environmental future of these two regions lies in the evolution of the character of governance the ensemble of social ethics public policies and institutions which structure how state actors and the civil society interact with the environment This book will be valuable to scholars and students of environmental politics EU and Asian studies public policy environmental law and to decision makers and policy analysts

A Primer on Health Impacts of Development Programs Genandrialine L. Peralta, Joseph Michael Hunt, 2003 Acknowledging that pollution tends to be concentrated in poor residential areas this overview of environmental impact proposes that all sectors of development utilize environmentally friendly policies Designing development policies and selecting investment allocations that support environmental health are discussed as a prime objective to all development programs Social sectors including agriculture forestry water and sanitation energy transportation and education are covered in detail to provide urban and rural planners the information required to implement development projects that respect the health of all citizens
