Good Governance in Asia Linda Chelan Li,2016-03-22 The international aid community has advocated governance reforms as a necessary complement to economic aid to developing countries The resultant Good Governance Agenda has been criticised for its ahistorical bias The empirical case studies reported in this book further illustrate the limitations by showing the complex logics of governance reforms and their relations with development in the Asian context The analysis highlights the importance of taking full notice of the Asian reform experiences in the ongoing reflection over the global institutional and development agenda The message is not to deny the need for governance reforms or the utility of international learning and sharing of experiences Global development will benefit however from a better understanding of the linkages between governance reforms and the diverse historical conditions they are embedded in both developing or the advanced economies This book was published as a special issue of Journal of Contemporary Asia

The US Policy Making Process for Post Cold War China Wenzhao Tao, 2017-07-13 Combining a study of American Think Tanks and a study of American diplomatic policy on China following the Cold War this book explores in detail the policy making process procedures and mechanisms as well as the roles of various interest groups in the policy making process for China related policies Further it dissects the policy making process with regard to selected sensitive policies such as the US diplomatic policy on Taiwan China US trade policy on China US human rights policy on China and US environmental and energy policy on China and analyzes the function and influence of the American Think Tanks in the policy debates Characterized by its high theoretical value wealth of historical materials and painstaking analysis the book is not only of important academic value but also offers a valuable reference guide to support the practical work of related departments in the Chinese government

COVID-19 in Southeast Asia Hyun Bang Shin, Murray Mckenzie, Do Young Oh, 2022-01-06 COVID 19 has presented huge challenges to governments businesses civil societies and people from all walks of life but its impact has been highly variegated affecting society in multiple negative ways with uneven geographical and socioeconomic patterns The crisis revealed existing contradictions and inequalities in society compelling us to question what it means to return to normal and what insights can be gleaned from Southeast Asia for thinking about a post pandemic world In this regard this edited volume collects the informed views of an ensemble of social scientists area studies development studies and legal scholars anthropologists architects economists geographers planners sociologists and urbanists representing academic institutions activist and charitable organisations policy and research institutes and areas of professional practice who recognise the necessity of critical commentary and engaged scholarship These contributions represent a wide ranging set of views collectively producing a compilation of reflections on the following three themes in particular 1 Urbanisation digital infrastructures economies and the environment 2 Migrants im mobilities and borders and 3 Collective action communities and mutual action Overall this edited volume first aims to speak from a situated position in relevant debates to challenge knowledge about the pandemic that has assigned selective and inequitable visibility to issues people or places or which through its inferential or interpretive capacity has worked to set social expectations or assign validity to certain interventions with a bearing on the pandemic s course and the future it has foretold Second it aims to advance or renew understandings of social challenges risks or inequities that were already in place and which without further or better action are to be features of our post pandemic world as well This volume also contributes to the ongoing efforts to de centre and decolonise knowledge production It endeavours to help secure a place within these debates for a region that was among the first outside of East Asia to be forced to contend with COVID 19 in a substantial way and which has evinced a marked and instructive diversity and dynamism in its fortunes World Focus, 1987 A Companion to American Foreign Relations Robert Schulzinger, 2008-04-15 This is an authoritative volume of historiographical essays that survey the state of U S diplomatic history The essays cover the entire range of the history of American foreign relations from the colonial period to the present They discuss the major sources and analyze the most influential books and articles in the field Includes discussions of new methodological approaches in diplomatic history

The Cambridge History of Southeast Asia Nicholas Tarling, 1999 Volume 2 discusses Southeast Asia's interaction with foreign countries during the period c 1500 to c 1800 The Five Power Defence Arrangements Ang Cheng Guan, 2025-03-04 Ang describes the development of the Five Power Defence Arrangements FPDA an important security regional arrangement from its inception to the present from the perspectives of the five FPDA allies The book recounts the establishment of the FPDA in 1971 from the Anglo Malaysian Defence Agreement and its development in the first 20 years to the end of the Cold War in 1990 Based on declassified archival documents and secondary literature it explores how the FDPA has evolved and adapted to provide different benefits to each of its partners after the Cold War Ang contextualises the FPDA within existing scholarship and offers a glimpse into possible future trajectories A valuable resource for scholars students researchers and professionals interested in international history defence and security Encyclopedia of Monasticism William M. Johnston, 2013-12-04 The two volume Encyclopedia of Monasticism describes the monastic traditions of both Christianity and Buddhism with more than 600 entries on important monastic figures of all periods and places surveys of countries and localities and topical essays covering a wide range of issues e g art behavior economics liturgy politics theology and scholarship Coverage encompasses not only geography and history worldwide but also the contemporary dilemmas of monastic life Recent upheavals in certain countries are highlighted Korea Russia Sri Lanka etc Topical essays subtitled Christian Perspectives and Buddhist Perspectives explore in imaginative fashion comparisons and contrasts between Christian and Buddhist monasticism Encyclopedia of Monasticism also includes more than 500 color and black and white illustrations covering all aspects of monastic life art and architecture A Heritage of Ruins William R. Chapman, 2013-07-31 The ancient ruins of Southeast Asia have long sparked curiosity and romance in the world's imagination They appear in accounts of nineteenth century French explorers as props for Indiana Jones adventures and more recently as the scene of Lady Lara Croft's fantastical battle with the forces of evil They have been featured in National Geographic magazine and serve as backdrops for popular television travel and reality shows Now William Chapman's expansive new study explores the varied roles these monumental remains have played in the histories of Southeast Asia's modern nations Based on more than fifteen years of travel research and visits to hundreds of ancient sites A Heritage of Ruins shows the close connection between ruins conservation and both colonialism and nation building. It also demonstrates the profound impact of European derived ideas of historic and aesthetic significance on ancient ruins and how these continue to color the management and presentation of sites in Southeast Asia today. Angkor Pagan, Bagan, Borobudur and Ayutthaya lie at the center of this cultural and architectural tour, but less visited sites including Laos's stunning Vat Phou, the small temple platforms of Malaysia's Lembah Bujang Valley, the candi of the Dieng Plateau in Java and the ruins of Mingun in Burma and Wiang Kum Kam near Chiang Mai in northern Thailand are also discussed. All share a relative isolation from modern urban centers of population, sitting in park like settings serving as objects of tourism and as lynchpins for local and even national economies. Chapman argues that these sites also remain important to surrounding residents both as a means of income and as continuing sources of spiritual meaning. He examines the complexities of heritage efforts in the context of present day expectations by focusing on the roles of both outside and indigenous experts in conservation and management and on attempts by local populations to reclaim their patrimony and play a larger role in protection and interpretation. Tracing the history of interventions aimed at halting time's decay, Chapman provides a chronicle of conservation efforts over a century and a half, highlighting the significant part foreign expertise has played in the region and the ways that national programs have in recent years begun to break from earlier models. The book ends with suggestions for how Southeast Asian managers and officials might best protect their incomparable heritage of art and architecture and how this legacy might be preserved for future generations.
