Southeast Asian Chinese China:

Southeast Asian Studies in China Saw Swee-Hock, 2003-08-01 This book a project of the ASEAN China Study Programme of ISEAS is designed to promote a better understanding between the people of the two regions as China continues to exert a dominant political and economic presence in Southeast Asia Needless to say scholars and academics from both sides have a significant role to play in terms of creating greater awareness of each other through research workshops and conferences Whilst many universities and research institutes in the ASEAN region are conducting studies on various aspects of China it is equally important for the Chinese counterparts to be fully engaged in Southeast Asian Studies in order to deepen their knowledge of the region for mutual benefit The book traces the development of Southeast Asian Studies in China discusses the current status of these studies examines the problems encountered in the pursuit of these studies and attempts to evaluate their prospects in the years ahead

Ethnic Chinese as Southeast Asians Leo Suryadinata, 1997 More than 80 per cent of the Chinese outside China live in Southeast Asia and many of them have been integrated into the local societies However the resurgence of China and ethnic Chinese investment in their ancestral land have caused concern among some non Chinese Southeast Asian elites They have begun to question the position and identity of the Chinese population in their countries Ethnic Chinese as Southeast Asians addresses these ethnic Chinese issues as well as ethnic Chinese relations with China and with indigenous groups in the region Written by leading scholars in Southeast Asia including both ethnic Chinese and non Chinese the volume also explores the position of the ethnic Chinese in contemporary as well as the future Southeast Asia providing readers with a most up to date and comprehensive study on the subject

Southeast Asian Chinese Leo Suryadinata, 1995

The Chinese in Southeast Asia and Beyond Ching-Hwang Yen, 2008 The Chinese in Southeast Asia with their growing economic clout have been attracting attention from politicians scholars and observers in recent decades The rise of China as a global economic power and its profound influence over Southeast Asia has cast a spotlight on the role of Southeast Asian Chinese in the region s economic relations with China The Southeast Asian Chinese as an economic force and their growing importance with China are to a certain extent determined by the nature and development of their communities This book uses a multifaceted approach to unravel the forces that helped to transform the communities in the past Containing 17 papers written within a span of six and a half years from 2000 to 2006 the book focuses on the social economic and political aspects of these communities with special emphasis on the Chinese in Malaysia and Singapore

Changing Identities of the Southeast Asian Chinese Since World War II Jennifer Cushman, Gungwu Wang, 1988-11-01 In June 1985 a symposium Changing Identities of the Southeast Asian Chinese since World War II was held at the Australian National University in Canberra This volume includes many of the papers from that symposium presented by ANU scholars and those from universities elsewhere in Australia North America and Southeast Asia Participants looked at the current thinking about the parameters of identity and shared their own research into the complex issues that overlapping categories of identity raise Identity was chosen as the focus of the symposium because perceptions of self whether by others or by the individual Chinese concerned appear to lie at the heart of the present day Chinese experience in Southeast Asia It is also evident that identity wears many guises and that we cannot talk about a single Chinese identity when identity can be determined by the different political social economic or religious circumstances an individual faces at any given time One of the distinctive characteristics of all the essays in this volume is that they are written from an historical perspective While the papers focus on how recent developments in Southeast Asian society have shaped Chinese identity they also discuss those changes in terms of the historical matrix from which they developed Because many of the essays in this volume combine an historical overview with more recent statistical data it should serve as a useful companion to the increasingly popular case studies in which much of the writing about the Chinese in Southeast Asia is now cast

Sojourners and Settlers Anthony Reid, 2001-04-01 Only recently has the role of Chinese minorities at the forefront of Southeast Asia's rapid economic growth attracted world attention Yet interactions between Chinese and Southeast Asians are longstanding and intense reaching back a thousand years and making it difficult if not specious to attempt to disentangle what is Chinese and what is indigenous in much of Southeast Asian culture Sojourners and Settlers now back in print written by some of the most distinguished specialists in the field demonstrates the depth of that relationship Contributors Leonard Bluss Mary Somers Heidhues Jamie C Mackie Anthony Reid Craig Reynolds Claudine Salmon G William Skinner Wang Gungwu O W Wolters Southeast Asian Chinese and China Leo Suryadinata, 1995 The 20 million ethnic Chinese in Southeast Asia make up almost 80 per cent of the ethnic Chinese living outside mainland China Taiwan and Hong Kong Originally sojourners who left China in search of a livelihood they have over the generations become an integral part of the countries in which they live With the resurgence of China as an economic and political power the relations between the ethnic Chinese in Southeast Asia and China have come under renewed scrutiny This volume of contributions from an international panel of academics examines the economic position of the ethnic Chinese in Southeast Asia their role in China's economic development the extent of their economic and political links with China and their place in Southeast Asian economy and society The papers in this volume were originally presented at the International Conference on Southeast Asian Chinese Culture Economy and Society held in Singapore in 1994 Southeast Asia in China Ying-kit Chan, Chang-Yau Hoon, 2022-11-28 As part of China's south Southeast Asia has historically assumed a peripheral position when juxtaposed against the power of the Chinese state In the existing scholarly literature the power asymmetry is reflected in the ostensible bias where most studies are about China's presence in or engagement with Southeast Asia rather than the reverse studies on the presence or influence of Southeast Asia in China have been a marginal enterprise The present volume aims to fill this void by exploring the historical entanglements and contemporary engagements of Southeast Asians in China through a Southeast Asian perspective As China seeks to understand Southeast Asia's presence in the country on its own terms it is also engaged in a process of self discovery and defining where and how it should stand in relation to the region Departing from the discourse of China as the a priori center dominating the scholarship on China Southeast Asia relations the present volume hopes to subvert such power relations in order to bring fresh perspectives on the historical and contemporary contributions of Southeast Asians in China Southeast Asian Personalities of Chinese Descent Leo Suryadinata,2012 This is a bold project recording the lives of a particular group of Southeast Asians Most of the people whose biographies are included here have settled down in the ten countries that constitute the region Each of them has either self identified as Chinese or is comfortable to be known as someone of Chinese ancestry There are also those who were born in China or elsewhere who came here to work and do business including seeking help from others who have ethnic Chinese connections With the political and economic conditions of the region in a great state of flux for the past two centuries it is impossible to find consistency in the naming process Confucius had stressed that correct names make for the best relationships In this case Professor Leo Suryadinata has been pursuing for decades the elusive goal of finding the right name to give to the large numbers of people who have in one way or another made their homes in or made some difference to Southeast Asia I believe that when he and his colleagues selected the biographies to be included here they have taken a big step towards the rectification of identities for many leading personalities In so doing he has done us all a great service Professor Wang Gungwu National University of Singapore Producing China in Southeast Asia Chih-yu Shih,2017-03-21 This book presents studies on Chinese intellectuals in Southeast Asia and how they understand China and Chineseness in the 21st century It posits through analyses of works and oral histories of a number of Chinese scholars in the region that the dominant but distinctive approaches adopted by them are those that are rooted in humanism and pragmatism In doing so the book explores the significant population local conditions and strategy of survival among the Southeast Asian Chinese as factors that influence their views and perspectives Studies presented in the book simultaneously implicate subjectivity where authors and their readers position themselves among ethnic national and civilizational identities It highlights that while national level identity necessarily involves dangerous self interrogation and at times politics that is often suppressive and confrontational intellectual writings on China that stick to the ethnic and civilizational levels provide more sensible exits With that the book then goes on to make the argument that in Southeast Asian Chinese studies the humanities usually prevail over the social sciences at these two alternative levels Lastly the book also shows how the humanities can be instrumental to Southeast Asian Chinese scholars choice of identity strategy which makes pragmatism an important theme The book will be of interest to students and researchers involved in Southeast Asian and Chinese studies Chinese Food and Foodways in Southeast Asia and Beyond Tan Chee-Beng,2012-08-01 Chinese cuisine has had a deep impact on culinary traditions in Southeast Asia where the lack of certain ingredients and access to new ingredients along with the culinary knowledge of local people led Chinese migrants to modify traditional dishes and to invent new foods This process brought the cuisine of southern China considered by some writers to be the finest in the world into contact with a wide range of local and global cuisines and ingredients When Chinese from Southeast Asia moved on to other parts of the world they brought these variants of Chinese food with them completing a cycle of culinary reproduction localization and invention and globalization The process does not end there for the new context offers yet another set of ingredients and culinary traditions and the embedding and fusing of foods continues creating additional hybrid forms Written by scholars whose deep familiarity with Chinese cuisine is both personal and academic Chinese Food and Foodways in Southeast Asia and Beyond is a book that anyone who has been fortunate enough to encounter Southeast Asian food will savour and it provides a window on this world for those who have yet to discover it

Law and the Chinese in Southeast Asia M Barry Hooker, 2002 This collection of essays focuses on law and the diaspora Chinese They show us a variety of answers to such questions as what are the laws of China outside China what are the laws of the Chinese in Southeast Asia what were are the laws for the Chinese in Southeast Asia and is there a Confucian Chinese The answers in some cases are reasonably certain but in others they are tentative and debatable The legal material raises these issues in a way which is fundamental to diaspora studies

Ethnic Chinese As Southeast Asians NA NA, 2016-04-30 This book addresses ethnic Chinese issues as well as ethnic Chinese relations with China and with indigenous groups in the region

Contesting Chineseness Chang-Yau Hoon, Ying-kit Chan, 2021-03-15 Combining a historical approach of Chineseness and a contemporary perspective on the social construction of Chineseness this book provides comparative insights to understand the contingent complexities of ethnic and social formations in both China and among the Chinese diaspora in Southeast Asia This book focuses on the experiences and practices of these people who as mobile agents are free to embrace or reject being defined as Chinese by moving across borders and reinterpreting their own histories By historicizing the notion of Chineseness at local regional and global levels the book examines intersections of authenticity authority culture identity media power and international relations that support or undermine different instances of Chineseness and its representations It seeks to rescue the present from the past by presenting case studies of contingent encounters that produce the ideas practices and identities that become the categories nations need to justify their existence The dynamic fluid representations of Chineseness illustrate that it has never been an undifferentiated whole in both space and time Through physical movements and inherited knowledge agents of Chineseness have deployed various interpretive strategies to define and represent themselves vis vis the local regional and global in their respective temporal experiences This book will be relevant to students and scholars in Chinese studies and Asian studies more broadly with a focus on identity politics migration popular culture and international relations The Chinese overseas often saw themselves as caught between a rock and a hard place The collection of essays here highlights the variety of experiences in Southeast Asia and China that suggest that the rock can become a huge boulder with sharp edges and the hard places can have deadly spikes A must read for those who wonder whether Chineseness has ever been what it seems Wang Gungwu

University Professor National University of Singapore By including reflections on constructions of Chineseness in both China itself and in various Southeast Asian sites the book shows that being Chinese is by no means necessarily intertwined with China as a geopolitical concept while at the same time highlighting the incongruities and tensions in the escapable relationship with China that diasporic Chinese subjects variously embody expressed in a wide range of social phenomena such as language use popular culture architecture and family relations The book is a very welcome addition to the necessary ongoing conversation on Chineseness in the 21st century Ien Ang Distinguished Professor of Cultural Studies Western Sydney University Understanding the Ethnic Chinese in Southeast Asia Leo Suryadinata, 2007 About 80 percent of the ethnic Chinese outside China live in Southeast Asia This book examines that community in the context of both national and international dimensions Chinese In Southeast Asia And Beyond, The: Socioeconomic And Political Dimensions Ching-hwang Yen, 2008-07-21 The Chinese in Southeast Asia with their growing economic clout have been attracting attention from politicians scholars and observers in recent decades The rise of China as a global economic power and its profound influence over Southeast Asia has cast a spotlight on the role of Southeast Asian Chinese in the region's economic relations with China The Southeast Asian Chinese as an economic force and their growing importance with China are to a certain extent determined by the nature and development of their communities This book uses a multifaceted approach to unravel the forces that helped to transform the communities in the past Containing 17 papers written within a span of six and a half years from 2000 to 2006 the book focuses on the social economic and political aspects of these communities with special emphasis on the Chinese in Malaysia and Singapore Connecting and Distancing Ho Khai Leong, 2003-08-01 Connecting and distancing have been two prominent themes permeating the writings on the historical and contemporary developments of the relationship between Southeast Asia and China As neighbours the nation states in Southeast Asia and the giant political entity in the north communicated with each other through a variety of diplomatic overtures political agitations and cultural nuances In the last two decades with the rise of China as an economic powerhouse in the region Southeast Asia's need to connect with China has become more urgent and necessary as it attempts to reap the benefit from the successful economic modernization in China At the same time however there were feelings of ambivalence hesitation and even suspicions on the part of the Southeast Asian states vis a vis the rise of a political power which is so less understood or misunderstood The contributors of this volume are authors of various disciplinary backgrounds history political science economics and sociology They provide a spectrum of perspectives by which the readers can view Sino Southeast Asia relations Southeast Asia's Chinese Businesses in an Era of Globalization Leo Suryadinata, 2003-08-01 This book addresses the rise of China and its impact on Southeast Asia's economies and businesses especially on those of ethnic Chinese It also discusses Southeast Asian government policies particularly their economic and business policies towards local Chinese and Southeast Asian Chinese businesses both conglomerates and SMEs in an era of globalization Leading experts from the Southeast Asian region were invited to write the papers presenting the most up to date analyses on the subject
