Southern Connection:

The Southern Connection Robert Bechtold Heilman, 1991-04 An engaging collection of essays by an astute observer of the South In 1935 Robert Bechtold Heilman a native Pennsylvanian and recent Harvard Ph D accepted a position in the Louisiana State University English department He came to the Bayou State bringing with him a sense of curiosity in people and places a delight in the drama of life that was compatible with the temperament of the South's still largely rural and storytelling society. He came moreover to one of the most dramatic contemporary settings in the South the Louisiana of Huey P Long He was present at the Louisiana State Capitol on the day Long was assassinated In Baton Rouge he found a provincial university in the capital city that was acquiring for the first time in its history a faculty of some distinction Heilman's enduring association with the South both personally and professionally is the focus of The Southern Connection a collection of seventeen delightful and thought provoking essays The first section of the book consists of essays in which Heilman recalls Louisiana and LSU as he found them in the autumn of 1935 He describes the atmosphere at the University and in the surrounding town offers vivid portraits of some of his colleagues including Robert Penn Warren Cleanth Brooks and Eric Vogelin and meditates on the reasons an obscure university in an impoverished southern state was able to attract and nurture a faculty of outstanding talent and achievement Having been at LSU during the scandals of the late 1930s and the war years of the 1940s Heilman makes a significant contribution through his recollections to the history of these crucial times In the book's second section Heilman presents critical essays on a number of important southern writers and their works There are discussions of the Agrarian movement and its connection with European culture on Cleanth Brooks and The Well Wrought Urn on Eudora Welty's work especially Losing Battles and on Katherine Anne Porter's Ship of Fools Heilman also includes two essays on Robert Penn Warren's work The first discusses All the King's Men as tragedy and the second examines the moral complexities of World Enough and Time Another essay in the group compares Arthur Miller's Death of a Salesman with Eudora Welty's The Death of a Traveling Salesman Finally Heilman offers two extended reflections on the South as a region and a culture In The South Falls In he discusses the paradoxes in the southern character and in national perceptions of the South In The Southern Temper he considers the southern sense of the concrete as it is reflected in the work of various southern writers and in the southern character in general As a whole The Southern Connection offers an enjoyable and illuminating assessment of the South by one of the most perceptive and sensitive critics of our time Willa Cather's Southern Connections Ann Romines, 2000 Though Cather 1837 1947 moved with her family to Nebraska when she was nine her fiction throughout her life drew heavily from the people places and issues of her native Reconstruction South Novice and veteran literature scholars from around the US examine such connections as racial language sexual dynamics and clothes and gender The 17 essays were selected from a 1997 symposium in Frederick County Virginia Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Interstate Commerce Commission Reports United States.

Power of Place James Robson, 2020-03-17 Throughout Chinese history mountains have been integral components of the religious landscape They have been considered divine or numinous sites the abodes of deities the preferred locations for temples and monasteries and destinations for pilgrims Early in Chinese history a set of five mountains were co opted into the imperial cult and declared sacred peaks yue demarcating and protecting the boundaries of the Chinese imperium The Southern Sacred Peak or Nanyue is of interest to scholars not the least because the title has been awarded to several different mountains over the years The dynamic nature of Nanyue raises a significant theoretical issue of the mobility of sacred space and the nature of the struggles involved in such moves Another facet of Nanyue is the multiple meanings assigned to this place political religious and cultural Of particular interest is the negotiation of this space by Daoists and Buddhists The history of their interaction leads to questions about the nature of the divisions between these two religious traditions James Robson's analysis of these topics demonstrates the value of local studies and the emerging field of Buddho Daoist studies in research on Chinese religion
