Southern Railway's Historic Spencer Shops Larry K. Neal, Jr., 2011 Southern Railway's Spencer Shops was a vibrant part of the Southeast's transportation network for more than 80 years Starting in the late 1800s and continuing until its closure in 1979 the shop complex and its accompanying yards transfer sheds and stockyards constituted a major force in the economy of North Carolina and Southern states The trains that the shop prepared were hauling everyday freight Appalachian lumber Piedmont textiles and perishables or were famous passenger trains like the Crescent the Peach Queen and many more Others were more notable such as the locomotive in the folk ballad The Wreck of the Old 97 or President Roosevelt s funeral train in 1945 The Spencer Shops was an industrial power whose prominence today is celebrated in its continued role as the home to the North Carolina Transportation Museum This book tells the story of how Spencer Shops came to be its role in transportation and its continued use today as a North Carolina Historic Site Southern Railway, Lord Nelson Class

4-6-0s Tim Hillier-Graves,2020-09-19 The Lord Nelson Class has come to be viewed as an also ran amongst express locomotives and is largely overlooked for that reason It had the misfortune to be sandwiched on Southern metals between the classic and much revered King Arthurs and Schools and by Bullied s controversial Pacifics In such company any design might suffer by comparison And yet when first appearing they attracted plaudits from railway professionals including the footplate crew and the public alike But with only 16 being built their impact was muted and any faults in their design were magnified beyond their actual impact In truth they deserved far better than this and were in fact sturdy reliable performers that served the company well on the heavy boat trains for which they were designed and across their other passenger services for 30 years and more in peace and war Much has been written about these locomotives but no story is ever complete with new information and photographs emerging to deepen our understanding of them This book provides an in depth view that re examines these impressive engines using new material eye witness accounts contemporary assessments and more than 200 photographs and drawings Southern Railway, 0-6-0 Tender Goods Locomotive Classes DAVID.

MAIDMENT,2021-03-30 This is a book that looks at the 0 6 0 tender goods locomotives of the Southern Railway from the steam locomotive classes taken over at the railway grouping in 1923 through to the two classes introduced during Southern Railway days that of the Q and Q1 classes The Southern Railway had a rich and varied number of 0 6 0 tender goods classes originating from all three former main line pre grouping companies many of them lasted until the late 1950s and early 1960s Many of the older Victorian and Edwardian classes of locomotive taken over in 1923 did not last very long with the new company but are covered here for historical and modelling interest Alfred Raworth's Electric Southern Railway Peter Steer,2022-05-05 The Southern Railway between 1923 and 1939 was the only British company to carry out a sustained programme of electrification which became known as the Southern Electric Unlike many recent projects each incremental step was completed on time and within budget This successful project was more impressive as it was achieved during a period of economic stagnation including the great depression and despite government disapproval of the method of electrification The driving force behind this endeavor was the railway s general manager Sir Herbert Walker but at his side was his electrical engineer Alfred Raworth the man one journalist described as an electrification genius Alfred Raworth s career began working with his father the eminent consulting engineer and entrepreneur John Smith Raworth Following the collapse of his father s business Alfred joined the railway industry and devised an ambitious and innovative electrification design This was discarded when the railways of southern England were grouped into the Southern Railway after which he took responsibility for the implementation of the electrification schemes With Walker s retirement in 1937 those who continued to support steam traction took the policy lead A marginalised Raworth retired but was later to witness the fruition of many of his discarded ideas The Concise Illustrated Book of Steam Trains D. Avery,1989 Briefly describes the types of steam locomotives used all over the world Locomotives in Detail 10 Peter Swift,2009-10-19 The 2 6 0 mogul steam locomotives were designed by Richard Maunsell for passenger duties on the Southern Railway and they were used mainly on cross country and semi fast expresses Able to operate over most of the Southern Railway network after grouping in 1923 the sturdy 2 6 0 moguls survived until 1966 when all had been withdrawn from service The author looks in detail at the design development and working lives of these reliable and economical engines Packed with photographs of the locomotives in both colour and mono together with detailed design drawings this new book will be ideal for modellers of the class It is also an essential work of reference for the growing band of Southern Railway followers Smoky Mountain Railways Jacob Morgan Plott and Bob Plott,2021 The Great Smoky Mountains were a remote and inaccessible place with no major highways or railroads until well after the Civil War Using first enslaved and later convict labor the Western North Carolina Railroad and Murphy Branch connected the mountains with the remainder of the state by 1891 The railroad brought commerce and tourism and tourists and rail buffs continue to come to Bryson City to experience travel by steam train on the Great Smoky Mountains Railroad The history of this line is a story like no other It is a tale filled with tragedy heroism brains blood sweat tears nitroglycerin and humor Local authors Jacob Morgan Plott and Bob Plott tell the story of a line that refused to die

Steam Locomotives and Boats Richard E. Prince,1965 Account of a transportation empire A Memory of Trains Louis Decimus Rubin (Jr.),2000 The author a literary critic and historian uses over 100 of his own photographs to recall his life long love of trains Steam's Camelot Jim Wrinn,2001-05-06 When diesel power began to displace steam in earnest during the early 1960s the publicity departments at Southern and later at Norfolk Southern after the merger of the former with Norfolk Western began offering excursions on passenger trains pulled by classic locomotives like Southern Railway No 4501 N W Class J No 611 and the giant N W A Class No 1218 For three decades these steam powered excursions delighted railfans throughout the Southeast Color photography of these bygone behemoths and others in action transport readers back to the pastoral steam era just as the excursion trains did for 30 years A fascinating text details the nostalgia filled public relations steam operations of 1964 to 1994 and is accompanied by rosters of every excursion documented during the period
