

An aerial photograph of a vast, arid landscape. The terrain is characterized by a complex network of winding, light-colored paths or dry riverbeds that snake across a darker, more textured ground. The overall color palette is dominated by earthy browns, tans, and greys, suggesting a desert environment. The lighting creates strong shadows, emphasizing the ruggedness of the land.

Soviet Tanks in Manchuria 1945 William E. Hiestand, 2023-03-16 A new illustrated study of the devastating but little known Soviet armored blitzkrieg against the Japanese in the last weeks of World War II and how it influenced Soviet tank doctrine as the Cold War dawned Although long overshadowed in the West by the dropping of the atomic bombs on Hiroshima and Nagasaki the USSR's lightning strike into Manchuria in August 1945 was one of the most successful and unique campaigns of the era Soviet forces led by over 5 500 tanks and self propelled guns attacked across huge distances and deserts marshes and mountains to smash Japan's million strong Kwantung Army in a matter of days Japanese forces were short of training and equipment but nevertheless fought fiercely inflicting 32 000 casualties on the Soviets Red Army operations were characterized by surprise speed and deep penetrations by tank heavy forces born of the brutal lessons they had learned during years fighting the Wehrmacht Lessons from the campaign directly shaped Soviet Cold War force structure and planning for mechanized operations against the West Illustrated with contemporary artwork and rare photos from one of the best collections of Soviet military photos in the West this fascinating book explains exactly how the last blitzkrieg of World War II was planned fought and won and how it influenced the Red Army's plans for tank warfare against NATO in Europe     Background Information on the Soviet Union Air University (U.S.). Air Command and Staff College, Kenneth R. Whiting, 1959     August Storm: The Soviet 1945 Strategic Offensive In Manchuria [Illustrated Edition] Colonel David M Glantz, 2015-11-06 Includes 15 tables 1 tables 26 maps In August 1945 only three months after the rumble of gunfire had subsided in Europe Soviet armies launched massive attacks on Japanese forces in Manchuria In a lightning campaign that lasted but ten days Soviet forces ruptured Japanese defenses on a 4 000 kilometer front paralyzed Japanese command and control and plunged through 450 kilometers of forbidding terrain into the heartland of Manchuria Effective Soviet cover and deception masked the scale of offensive preparations and produced strategic surprise Imaginative tailoring of units to terrain flexible combat formations and bold maneuvers by armor heavy task organized forward detachments and mobile groups produced operational and tactical surprise and ultimately rapid and total Soviet victory For the Soviet Army the Manchurian offensive was a true postgraduate combat exercise The Soviets had to display all the operational and tactical techniques they had learned in four years of bitter fighting in the west Though the offensive culminated an education it also emerged as a clear case study of how a nation successfully begins a war in a race against the clock and not only against an enemy but also against hindering terrain Soviet military historians and theorists have recently focused on the Manchurian offensive a theater case study characterized by deep mobile operations on a broad front designed to pre-empt and overcome defenses Because these characteristics appear relevant to current theater operations the Soviets study the more prominent operational and tactical techniques used in Manchuria in 1945 What is of obvious interest to the Soviet military professional should be of interest to the U S officer as well with overseeing the surrender and repatriation of millions of Japanese in the heart of dangerous territory Spector casts new and startling light on this pivotal time and sets the record straight about this contested and important period in history
