The Exonerated:

The Exonerated Jessica Blank, Erik Jensen, 2004 Based on interviews with exonerated former death row inmates The Spectacle of Death Kristin Boudreau, 2006-04-04 In 1787 Benjamin Rush cautioned that public punishments were dangerous to the social and legal authority of the new nation For Rush irrepressible human sentiments all but guaranteed that public punishments would turn spectators against the institutions responsible for the punishments Although public executions of criminals ended early in the 19th century debate over the morality of capital punishment has continued to this day In this unique and fascinating glimpse into public reactions to prominent executions from colonial times to the 1990s Kristin Boudreau focuses on the central role of populist often ephemeral literary forms in shaping attitudes toward capital punishment Surveying popular poems ballads plays and novels she shows that at key times of social unrest in American history many Americans have felt excluded by the political and legal processes and have turned instead to inexpensive literary forms of expression in an attempt to change the course of history Among the significant capital cases that the author discusses are the Haymarket anarchist trial of 1886 the lynching of Leo Frank in 1914 the murder of Emmett Till in 1955 and its effects on the Civil Rights movement Norman Mailer's treatment of the Gary Gilmore case in the 1979 novel The Executioner's Song and the 1998 execution of Karla Faye Tucker a convicted murderer who became a born again Christian on death row In the concluding chapter Boudreau examines contemporary writers musicians actors and other artists who are using their artistic media to influence official policies of states that permit capital punishment By examining these neglected texts Boudreau brings to light a compelling story about ordinary Americans fighting an entrenched legal system at times of great national crisis Terrorist Death Penalty Enhancement Act of 2005, and the Streamlined Procedures Act of 2005 United States. Congress. House. Committee on the Judiciary. Subcommittee on Crime, Terrorism, and Homeland Security, 2005 The Seven T's Judy Collins, 2007-05-31 Beloved singer songwriter Judy Collins draws on her personal experience with her son's suicide to guide readers through grieving the loss of a loved one who has died under tragic circumstances The death of a loved one is always painful and the grieving process complex and profound Yet when the loss occurs under tragic circumstances there is a whole other set of emotional variables that the people left behind must face Questions abound such as Could I have stopped this Feelings of guilt shame and even anger combine with the overwhelming sadness of losing someone who was dearly loved Drawing on her own experience of losing her son to suicide as well as her conversations with hundreds of people who have grieved the tragic death of a friend or family member revered singer songwriter Judy Collins has culled together seven powerful steps toward healing The Seven T's are TRUTH Tell it Regardless of how terrible the facts may be and how hard it is to talk about don't hide the truth about how you lost the person you loved TRUST Allow it Don't let the painful circumstances surrounding the death of your loved one prevent you from talking with friends about your loss THERAPY Get it Seek help whether through traditional talk therapy your art meditation or whatever method you choose but get the help you need TREASURE Hold on Don't stop treasuring your loved one Don't let the horrible events leading to his or her death wash away all of the things that were good and beautiful about that person's life THRIVE Keep living with your eyes wide open Don't give in to the temptation to use alcohol or any other addiction to blunt or blur your sadness TREAT Be kind to yourself Give yourself the gift of self nourishment TRIUMPH You must Live a life of joy abundance and forgiveness From a woman famous for her wisdom and compassion The Seven T's is destined to become a classic on the subject of grieving and loss
