The English Novel in Transition, 1885-1940, 1940 William Coleman Frierson, 1942 Realismstheorien in England (1692-1919) Walter F. Greiner, Fritz Kemmler, 1997 New Feminist Essays on Virginia Woolf Jane Marcus, 1981-06-18 Empire Girls Mandy Treagus, 2014-05-12 The dominant form of the nineteenth century novel was the Bildungsroman a story of an individual s development that came to speak more widely of the aspirations of nineteenth century British society Some of the most famous examples David Copperfield Great Expectations Jane Eyre validated the world from which they sprang in which even orphans could successfully make their way Empire Girls the colonial heroine comes of age is a critical examination of three novels by writers from different regions of the British Empire Olive Schreiner s The Story of An African Farm South Africa Sara Jeannette Duncan s A Daughter of Today Canada and Henry Handel Richardson s The Getting of Wisdom Australia All three novels commence as conventional Bildungsromane yet the plots of all diverge from the usual narrative structure as a result of both their colonial origins and the clash between their aspirational heroines and the plots available to them In an analysis including gender empire nation and race Empire Girls provides new critical perspectives on the ways in which this dominant narrative form performs very differently when taken out of its metropolitan setting Modernism Melba Cuddy-Keane, Adam Hammond, Alexandra Peat, 2014-02-05 Guided by the historical semantics developed in Raymond Williams pioneering study of cultural vocabulary Modernism Keywords presents a series of short entries on words used with frequency and urgency in written modernism tracking cultural and literary debates and transformative moments of change Short listed for The Modernist Studies Association 2015 Book Prize for an Edition Anthology or Essay Collection Highlights and exposes the salient controversies and changing cultural thought at the heart of modernism Goes beyond constructions of plural modernisms to reveal all modernist writing as overlapping and interactive in a simultaneous and interlocking mix Draws from a vast compilation of more than a thousand sources ranging from vernacular prose to experimental literary forms Spans the long modernist period from its incipient beginnings c 1880 to its post WWII aftermath Approaches English written modernism in its own terms tempering explanations of modernism often derived from European poets and painters Models research techniques based on digital databases and collaborative work in the humanities Charles Dickens Philip Collins, 2013-01-11 The Critical Heritage gathers together a large body of critical sources on major figures in literature Each volume presents contemporary responses to a writer s work enabling students and researchers to read for themselves for example comments on early performances of Shakespeare s plays or reactions to the first publication of Jane Austen s novels The carefully selected sources range from landmark essays in the history of criticism to journalism and contemporary opinion and little published documentary material such as letters and diaries Significant pieces of criticism from later periods are also included in order to demonstrate the fluctuations in an author s reputation Each volume contains an introduction to the writer s published works a selected bibliography and an index of works authors and subjects The Collected Critical Heritage set will be available as a set of 68 volumes and the series will also be available in mini sets selected by period in slipcase boxes and as individual volumes

Selected Letters of Robert Penn Warren Robert Penn Warren, 2008-05-01 Volume four of the Selected Letters of Robert Penn Warren covers a crucial time of personal and professional rejuvenation in Warren's life. During the fifteen year period spanned by this correspondence he completed Brother to Dragons, Segregation, The Inner Conflict in the South and Who Speaks for the Negro. As these titles suggest these years were marked by Warren's immersion in American history and his maturing interest in race relations. They also saw his return to lyric poetry after a ten year hiatus with the publication of the Pulitzer Prize winning collection Promises Along with seeing the completion of some of his most successful work. This period was a time of momentous change in Warren's life including his move to Yale University, his marriage to his second wife Eleanor and the birth of his two children. As a chronicle of Warren's thoughts on his family, his work, his friends, the state of literary studies and the culture at large, these letters are invaluable. Unlike many writers, Warren rarely drafted his correspondence with future readers and scholars in mind; he typically saved his prepared statements about the human condition and the state of the world for his poetry, fiction and social commentary. His letters offer a candid and personal glimpse of Warren's relationships as well as his personal views on literature, politics and social trends. Their recipients include Ralph Ellison, Allen Tate, Saul Bellow, Robert Lowell, Eudora Welty and Louis Rubin, as well as Warren's editors, reviewers, collaborators and other friends. Providing an unusually vivid and personal account of Warren's rich and fully realized life, these missives are equally revealing of his thoughts on the state of contemporary American culture during this dynamic time in American history.

Arthur Morrison and the East End Eliza Cubitt, 2019-02-21 This is the first critical biography of Arthur Morrison (1863-1945) presenting his East End writing as the counter-myth to the cultural production of the East End in late Victorian realism. Morrison's works, particularly Tales of Mean Streets (1894) and A Child of the Jago (1896), are often discussed as epitomes of slum fictions of the 1890s as well as prime examples of nineteenth-century realism, but their complex contemporary reception reveals the intricate paradoxes involved in representing the turn-of-the-century city. Arthur Morrison and the East End examines how an understanding of the East End in the Victorian cultural imagination operates in Morrison's own writing. Engaging with the contemporary vogue for slum fiction, Morrison redressed accounts written by outsiders, positioning himself as uniquely knowledgeable about a place considered unknowable. His work provides a vigorous challenge to the fictionalised East End created by his predecessors whilst also paying homage to Charles Dickens, George Gissing, Walter Besant and Guy de Maupassant. Examining the London sites which Morrison lived in and wrote about, this book is an excursion not into the Victorian East End but into the fictions constructed around it.

Decadent Women Jad Adams, 2023-10-01 The never before told story of the extraordinary women behind a trailblazing British magazine. During the 1890s British women for the first time began to leave their family homes to seek work, accommodation and financial and sexual freedom Decadent Women is an account of some of these women who wrote for the innovative art and literary journal The Yellow Book. For the first time and drawing on original research, Jad Adams describes the lives and work of these vibrant and passionate women from well-connected and fashionable aristocrats to the desperately poor. He narrates the challenges they faced in a literary marketplace and within a society that overwhelmingly favored men, showing how they were pioneers of a new style, living lives of lurid adventure and romance as well as experiencing poverty, squalor, disease, and unwanted pregnancy.
