as challenging and opinionated as the day they first appeared Reconstructing Modernism Ashley Maher, 2020-03-12

Reconstructing Modernism establishes for the first time the centrality of modernist buildings and architectural periodicals to British mid century literature Drawing upon a wealth of previously unexplored architectural criticism by British authors this book reveals how arguments about architecture led to innovations in literature as well as to redesigns in the concept of modernism itself While the city has long been a focus of literary modernist studies architectural modernism has never had its due Scholars usually characterize architectural modernism as a parallel modernism or even an incompatible modernism to literature Giving special attention to dystopian classics Brave New World and Nineteen Eighty Four this study argues that sustained attention to modern architecture shaped mid century authors political and aesthetic commitments After many writers deemed modernist architects to be agents for communism and other collectivist movements they squared themselves and literary modernist detachment and aesthetic autonomy against the seemingly tyrannical utopianism of modern architecture literary aesthetic qualities were reclaimed as political qualities In this way Reconstructing Modernism redraws the boundaries of literary modernist studies rather than simply adding to its canon it argues that the responsibility for defining literary modernism for the mid century public was shared by an incredible variety of authors Edwardians modernists satirists and even anti modernists Evelyn Waugh's Brideshead Revisited Ronald R. Gray, 2023-04-06 This is a comprehensive and detailed encyclopedia for readers of Evelyn Waugh's Brideshead Revisited one of the most popular and critically acclaimed novels of the twentieth century It contains 175 entries on all aspects of the novel covering such topics as the novel's main characters cultural literary and political references themes organization homosexuality the novel's critical reception and its film adaptations It also pays particular attention to the importance of Catholicism in the story discussing such subjects as sin good and evil divine grace time art and love A helpful list of recommended readings is included The Cambridge Companion to English Novelists Adrian Poole, 2009-12-10 In this Companion leading scholars and critics address the work of the most celebrated and enduring novelists from the British Isles excluding living writers among them Defoe Richardson Sterne Austen Dickens the Brontës George Eliot Hardy James Lawrence Joyce and Woolf The significance of each writer in their own time is explained the relation of their work to that of predecessors and successors explored and their most important novels analysed These essays do not aim to create a canon in a prescriptive way but taken together they describe a strong developing tradition of the writing of fictional prose over the past 300 years This volume is a helpful guide for those studying and teaching the novel and will allow readers to consider the significance of less familiar authors such as Henry Green and Elizabeth Bowen alongside those with a more established place in literary history Modernism and World War II Marina MacKay, 2007-01-18 World War II marked the beginning of the end of literary modernism in Britain However this late period of modernism and its response to the war have not yet received the scholarly attention they deserve In this full length study of modernism and World War II Marina MacKay offers historical readings of Virginia Woolf Rebecca West T S

Eliot Henry Green and Evelyn Waugh set against the dramatic background of national struggle and transformation In recovering how these major authors engaged with other texts of their time political discourses mass and middlebrow culture this study reveals how World War II brought to the surface the underlying politics of modernism s aesthetic practices Through close analyses of the revisions made to modernist thinking after 1939 MacKay establishes the significance of this persistently neglected phase of modern literature as a watershed moment in twentieth century literary history British Novelists in Hollywood, 1935-1965 L. Colletta,2013-12-10 British Novelists in Hollywood 1935 1965 calls attention to the shifting grounds of cultural expression by highlighting Hollywood as a site that unsettled definitions and narratives of colonialism and national identity for prominent British novelists such as Christopher Isherwood P G Wodehouse Evelyn Waugh and J B Priestley The Image of the English Gentleman in Twentieth-Century Literature Christine Berberich,2016-03-03 Studies of the English gentleman have tended to focus mainly on the nineteenth century encouraging the implicit assumption that this influential literary trope has less resonance for twentieth century literature and culture Christine Berberich challenges this notion by showing that the English gentleman has proven to be a remarkably adaptable and relevant ideal that continues to influence not only literature but other forms of representation including the media and advertising industries Focusing on Siegfried Sassoon Anthony Powell Evelyn Waugh and Kazuo Ishiguro whose presentations of the gentlemanly ideal are analysed in their specific cultural historical and sociological contexts Berberich pays particular attention to the role of nostalgia and its relationship to Englishness Though Englishness and by extension the English gentleman continue to be linked to depictions of England as the green and pleasant land of imagined bygone days Berberich counterbalances this perception by showing that the figure of the English gentleman is the medium through which these authors and many of their contemporaries critique the shifting mores of contemporary society Twentieth century depictions of the gentleman thus have much to tell us about rapidly changing conceptions of national class and gender identity

Radicals on the Road Bernard Schweizer,2001-11-29 In the 1930s the discourse of travel furthered widely divergent and conflicting ideologies socialist conservative male chauvinist and feminist and the major travel writers of the time revealed as much in their texts Evelyn Waugh was a declared conservative and fascist sympathizer George Orwell was a dedicated socialist Graham Greene wavered between his bourgeois instincts and his liberal left wing sympathies and Rebecca West maintained strong feminist and liberationist convictions Bernard Schweizer explores both the intentional political rhetoric and the more oblique almost unconscious subtexts of Waugh Orwell Greene and West in his groundbreaking study of travel writing s political dimension Radicals on the Road demonstrates how historically and culturally conditioned forms of anxiety were compounded by the psychological dynamics of the uncanny and how in order to dispel such anxieties and to demarcate their ideological terrains 1930s travelers resorted to dualistic discourses Yet any seemingly fixed dualism particularly the opposition between the political left and the right the dichotomy between home and abroad or the rift between utopia and dystopia was undermined by the rise of totalitarianism and by an increasing sense of global crisis which was soon followed by political disillusionment. Therefore argues Schweizer traveling during the 1930s was more than just a means to engage the burning political questions of the day; traveling and in turn travel writing also registered the travelers' growing sense of futility and powerlessness in an especially turbulent world.

Bibles and Baedekers Michael Grimshaw, 2014-12-05

Contemporary tourism and travel have become a form of religion, a new opiate of the masses. However, could Church and theology be religious forms of tourism and travel? Bibles and Baedekers offers a theology of tourism and exile for a modern and postmodern world. It examines the ways in which location, identity and movement have made use of religious texts and metaphor and questions the relative absence of secular texts and ideas in theology. The theology of the tourist and traveller is one of new experiences: the acquisition of identity through movement. Bibles and Baedekers uniquely applies this to the postmodern Christian, embodying the fulfilment of Bonhoeffer's religionless Christianity dislocated from both a secular and religious world.
