Understanding Nature Hub Zwart, 2008-01-29 This summons clearly resonates with the archetypal image associated with water as a basic element discussed in Chapter 2 water as the element of freedom of mobility of widening one's horizon Although Nietzsche himself refrained from doing what he summoned others to do scientists like Darwin and novelists like Melville actually went to sea Darwin although regarded by Nietzsche as an arid and mediocre mind exposed himself to the experience of a long term trans oceanic voyage in the course of which he did discover new worlds new justifications new moral watchwords even struggle for life that were to have a tremendous impact on science philosophy and even culture at large Other perspectives are present in Moby Dick as well such as the theologian s one depicting the whale as the biblical Leviathan and the ocean as that part of the world where the great flood never abated Indeed the interpretation of marine p nomena in Biblical terms is more or less omnipresent in the novel and also resounds in the views and language of the philosophical sailor and story teller Ishmael But what about the novelist s whale Actually there is not one novelist s whale Ishmael the narrator unmistakably sides with the whaler s point of view but Melville the author is interested in and tries to do justice to a plurality of voices

Intelligence and Wisdom Bing Song,2021-09-08 This book centers on rethinking foundational values in the era of frontier technologies by tapping into the wisdom of Chinese philosophical traditions It tries to answer the following questions How is the essence underpinning humans nature and machines changing in this age of frontier technologies What is the appropriate ethical framework for regulating human machine relationships What human values should be embedded in or learnt by AI Some interesting points emerged from the discussions For example the three dominant schools of Chinese thinking Confucianism Daoism and Buddhism invariably reflect non anthropocentric perspectives and none of them places humanity in a supreme position in the universe While many Chinese philosophers are not convinced by the prospect of machine intelligence exceeding that of humans the strong influence of non anthropocentrism in the Chinese thinking contributed to much less panic in China than in the West about the existential risks of AI The thinking is that as human beings have always lived with other forms of existence living with programs or other forms of beings which may become more capable than humans will not inevitably lead to a dystopia Second all three schools emphasize self restraint constant introspection and the pursuit of sage hood or enlightenment These views therefore see the potential risks posed by frontier technologies as an opportunity for the humanity to engage in introspection on the lessons learned from our social and political history It is long overdue that humanity shall rethink its foundational values to take into account a multi being planetary outlook This book consists of nine leading Chinese philosophers reflections on AI s impact on human nature and the human society This is a groundbreaking work which has pioneered the in depth intellectual exploration involving traditional Chinese philosophy and frontier technologies and has inspired multidisciplinary and across area studies on AI philosophy and ethical implications Chapters 1 3 5 7 and 10 are available open access under a Creative Commons Attribution
