Legal Translation and the Dictionary Marta Chromá, 2013-10-10 This study concentrates on three major issues creating a basis for the making of the Czech English Law Dictionary with Explanations namely language including terminology in both the Czech and Anglo American systems of law the process of legal translation and the lexicographic method of producing a bilingual law dictionary Terminology has been considered the most significant feature of language for legal purposes It encompasses a wide range of special purpose vocabulary and higher syntactic units including legal jargon Conceptual analysis is to be pursued whenever an identical term in the target language does not exist or its full equivalent is in doubt Legal translation should be based primarily on comparative legal linguistic and genre analysis in order to make the transfer of legal information as precise accurate and comprehensible as possible The primary objective of legal translation is for the target recipient to be provided as explicit extensive and precise legal information in the target language as is contained in the source text complemented by the translator with facts rendering the original information fully comprehensible in the different legal environment and culture A dictionary which will help its users to produce legal texts in the target language should be founded upon a profound comparative legal and linguistic analysis that will determine equivalents at the levels of vocabulary syntax and genre b select the appropriate lexicographic material to be included in the dictionary and c create entries in a user friendly manner

Translation and Minority Lawrence Venuti, 2016-04-29 The premise of this volume is a question What can the concept of minority bring to the practice and study of translation Minority is understood here to mean a cultural or political position that is subordinate whether the social context that so defines it is local national or global This position is occupied by languages and literatures that lack prestige or authority the non standard and the non canonical what is not spoken or read much by a hegemonic culture Yet minorities also include the nations and social groups that are affiliated with these languages and literatures the politically weak or underrepresented the colonized and the disenfranchised the exploited and the stigmatized Translation today is itself a minor use of language a lesser art an invisible craft that commands less cultural capital and fewer legal privileges than original composition Yet the focus in this collection is not on what translators worldwide have in common but on the distinctive forms that translating takes when it is done by or on behalf of minorities The articles in this volume present a variety of case studies that illuminate the linguistic and cultural problems posed by such translating as well as the economic and political agendas it has served Together these pieces show that the concept of minority is worth exploring because it inspires innovation in translation practice and research Minor cultures are coincident with new translation strategies new translation theories and new syntheses of the diverse methodologies that constitute the discipline of translation studies Media and Translation Dror

Abend-David,2014-07-31 Over the last decade there has been a dramatic increase in publications on media and translation In fact there are those who believe that so much has been published in this field that any further publications are superfluous But if one views media and translation as anything ranging from film and television drama to news casting commercials video games web pages and electronic street signs it would seem that research in media and translation has barely scratched the surface The research in this field is shared largely by scholars in communication and translation studies often without knowledge of each other or access to their respective methods of scholarship This collection will rectify this lack of communication by bringing such scholars together and creating a context for a theoretical discussion of the entire emerging field of Media and Translation with a preference for theoretical work rather than case studies on translation and communications of various forms and through various media Specialised Translation M. Rogers,2015-05-26 This book shifts the common perception of specialised or LSP translation as necessarily banal and straightforward towards a more realistic understanding of it as a complex and multilayered phenomenon which belies its standard negative binary definition as non literary The Routledge Handbook of Translation Studies and Linguistics Kirsten Malmkjaer,2017-12-14 The Routledge Handbook of Translation Studies and Linguistics explores the interrelationships between translation studies and linguistics in six sections of state of the art chapters written by leading specialists from around the world The first part begins by addressing the relationships between translation studies and linguistics as major topics of study in themselves before focusing in individual chapters on the relationships between translation on the one hand and semantics semiotics and the sound system of language on the other Part II explores the nature of meaning and the ways in which meaning can be shared in text pairs that are related to each other as first written texts and their translations while Part III focuses on the relationships between translation and interpreting and the written and spoken word Part IV considers the users of language and situations involving more than one language and Part V addresses technological tools that can assist language users Finally Part VI presents chapters on the links between areas of applied linguistics and translation and interpreting With an introduction by the editor and an extensive bibliography this handbook is an indispensable resource for advanced students of translation studies interpreting studies and applied linguistics An Introduction to Arabic Translation Hussein

Advertising Material Beverly Adab, Cristina Valdes, 2016-04-01 Much has been written about the marketing aspects of promotional material in general and several scholars particularly in linguistics have addressed questions relating to the structure and function of advertisements focusing on images rhetorical structure semiotic functions discourse features and audio visual media amongst other aspects of the genre Not much on the other hand has been written within translation studies about the complexities involved in the transfer of an advertising message Contributors to this volume explore various interdependent aspects of the interlingual and intercultural transfer of an advertising message They emphasize features of culture specificity of multi medial semiotic interaction of values and stereotypes and most importantly they recommend strategies and approaches to assist translators Topics covered include a critique of the Western based approach to advertising in the context of the Far East different perceptions of the concept of cleanliness in advertising texts in Italy Russia and the UK the Walls Cornetto strategy of internationalization of product appeal followed by localization the role of the translator in recreating appeal in different lingua cultural contexts what constitutes Italianness in advertisements for British consumers and strategies for repackaging France as a tourist destination Translating Words, Transferring Wisdom, Traversing Worlds Mimi Yang, 2025-09-17 What happens when Translation Studies merges with Cultural Studies The merger unveils an encyclopedic world hidden behind the cross linguistic surface catapulting us into the realms of multilingual studies cognitive sciences social sciences history geopolitics the humanities and now the exponentially growing field of AI technologies This book brings together scholars from a multitude of disciplines to attest to the merger on a 21st century intercultural and interdisciplinary platform where inter cultural agility interpretative adaptability and resonant creativity emerge as a galvanizing force in Translation Studies In doing so cutting edge theories and concepts in the field such as trans creation and eco translation among others are highlighted More significantly the chapter authors examine linguistic hierarchies embedded in geopolitical power structures and dive into the cultural and historical depth to capture the essence of the paradoxes between translatability and untranslatability among traditions cognitive frameworks mental precepts and linguistic constructs Thus disciplinary boundaries fade into the background and a symbiotic linguistic cultural undertaking in Translation Studies is crystallized The book treats translation as both a linguistic and cultural endeavor with multimodal and multi layered interactions across all human realms

Annotated Texts for Translation Christina Schäffner, Uwe Wiesemann, 2001-01-01 This text presents a functionalist approach to translation as a framework for dealing with recurring translation problems in a number of genres On the basis of illustrative sample texts the decisions taken in the production of the target texts are commented on in view of the specified translation assignments

Research and Professional Practice in Specialised Translation Federica Scarpa, 2020-09-18 Specialised translation has received very little attention from academic researchers but in fact accounts for the bulk of professional translation on a global scale and is taught in a growing number of university level translation programmes This book aims to provide three things Firstly it offers a description of what makes the approach to specialised translation distinctive from wider ranging approaches to Translation Studies adopted by translation scholars and applied linguists Secondly unlike the traditional approach to specialised translation this book explores a perspective on specialised translation that is much less focused on terminology and more on the function and reception of specialised translated texts Finally the author outlines a professionally oriented hands on approach to the teaching of specialised translation resulting from many years of teaching it to MA students The book will be of interest to Translation Studies students and scholars as well as professional translators who are interested in the theory on which their activity is based
