Geography, Institutions and Regional Economic Performance

Riccardo Crescenzi,Marco Percoco,2012-12-13 The book aims to present traditional features of regional science as geographical concepts and institutions as well as relatively new topics such as innovation and agglomeration economies In particular it demonstrates that contrary to what has been argued by recent economics literature both geography and institutions or culture are relevant for local development In fact these phenomena along with the movement of goods and workers are among the main reasons for persisting development differentials These intriguing relationships are at the heart of the analysis presented in this book and form the conceptual basis for a promising institutional approach to economic geography

The Emergence of Global Maoism Matthew Galway, 2022-03-15 The Emergence of Global Maoism examines the spread of Mao Zedong's writings ideology and institutions when they traveled outside of China Matthew Galway links Chinese Communist Party efforts to globalize Maoism to the dialectical engagement of exported Maoism by Cambodian Maoist intellectuals How do ideas manifest outside of their place of origin Galway analyzes how universal ideological systems became localized both in Mao's indigenization of Marxism Leninism and in the Communist Party of Kampuchea's indigenization of Maoism into its own revolutionary ideology By examining the intellectual journeys of CPK leaders who during their studies in Paris in the 1950s became progressive activist intellectuals and full fledged Communists he shows that they responded to political and socioeconomic crises by speaking back to Maoism adapting it through practice without abandoning its universality Among Mao's greatest achievements the Sinification of Marxism enabled the CCP to canonize Mao's thought and export it to a progressive audience of international intellectuals These intellectuals would come to embrace the ideology as they set a course for social change The Emergence of Global Maoism illuminates the process through which China moved its goal from class revolution to a larger anticolonial project that sought to cast out European and American imperialism from Asia

European Regional Development Paweł Churski, Tomasz Herodowicz, Barbara Konecka-Szydłowska, Robert Perdał, 2021-11-18 This book offers a comprehensive overview of contemporary issues of regional development It places particular emphasis on its socio economic and socio political determinants which accompany the problem of existing and ever widening differences in the level of regional development in various parts of Europe In order to diagnose the scale of those differences and to indicate the main forces behind the divergence of development the authors propose an original systematisation of regional development factors drawing attention to the need to consider them within the framework of present day socio economic megatrends The proposed approach to the development factors is also used for the author s operationalisation of the concept of territorial capital which is at the centre of regional place based policy The wide spatial aspect of the analysis national and local and its extensive temporal scope 2004 2019 yields unique results and creates an important element of added value for this book which shows the regularities of the process of regional development in Europe at three spatial levels pan European national and intra regional Furthermore it indicates the challenges faced by regionalists who attempt to carry out research on different territorial levels with a diverse number of units 205 EU regions 16 Polish voivodeships 2 478 Polish local units and extended observation periods 2004 2017 The solutions proposed by the authors who show the potential of overcoming the barriers resulting from limited access to complete and comparable statistical data series should be inspiring for many researchers The unique results of direct research carried out on a large sample of respondents and entrepreneurs via diverse field research techniques constitute a valuable source of information on local conditions that impact contemporary development processes in less developed regions Their value is even greater because they were carried out in a unique laboratory created by the authors for testing the regularity of formation and impact of socio economic development factors in various locally determined conditions of this process It consists of purposefully selected test units LAU2 Located in a less developed region they represent all growth types and functional test units identified in the course of the research Consequently the results obtained may be generalised and applied to other areas showing similar features of territorial capital The monograph is addressed primarily to a wide group of regionalists connected with economic and social sciences as well as to practitioners involved in the implementation of development policies at various levels
