Testing The Field Of Vision:

Testing the Field of Vision Douglas R. Anderson,1982      Field of Vision Jason J. S. Barton,Michael Benatar,2003-04-30 A comprehensive survey on the use of bedside skills and perimetric devices to the test visual fields and how to interpret the results To develop the clinician s interpretative skills the authors include a chapter on visual anatomy and an atlas of 100 real life cases arranged in anatomic order from retina to striate cortex By placing a brief clinical vignette with a visual field on one side of the page and a description of the field and its causal lesion on the opposite side the reader will be able to learn interpretation in a simulated clinical setting An additional quiz section of twenty randomly arranged visual fields provides readers with an opportunity to test their newly acquired skills      Procedures for Testing Color Vision ,1981-01-01      A Treatise on Diagnostic Methods of Examination Hermann Sahli,1911      How to Examine the Nervous System Robert T. Ross,2006-02-24 Concise introductory text focusing on the development of reliable examination techniques Provides detailed instruction on technique and briefly discusses how to interpret findings      A Compend of the diseases of the eye and refraction George Milbry Gould,1897      A Compend of the Diseases of the Eye and Refraction Including Treatment and Surgery George Milbry Gould,Walter Lytle Pyle,1897      Colour Vision Deficiencies XII B. Drum,2012-12-06 From the 98 presentations of the XIIth Symposium on Colour Vision Deficiencies 61 were selected after peer review and revision by the authors In addition to these contributions this volume contains a cumulative index to all authors in the IRGCVD proceedings since the first one in 1968 including the present volume The contents include contributions on basic questions of anatomical and electrophysiological organisation of the neural pathways underlying colour vision and on ways in which disturbances of these pathways can produce acquired colour vision deficiencies Further contributions deal with genetics and congenital red green colour deficiencies and colour vision testing The resulting publication contains much of interest to basic vision scientists as well as to specialists in colour vision deficiencies

Proceedings of the Philadelphia County Medical Society. ... Philadelphia County Medical Society,1897      Eye Movements and Vision A. L. Yarbus,2013-11-11      Visual Optics and Sight Testing Lionel Laurance,1926      Colour Vision Deficiencies XI B. Drum,2012-12-06 The eleventh Symposium of the International Research Group on Colour Vision Deficiencies IRGCVD was held 20 23 June 1991 in Sydney Aus tralia ably hosted by local organizer Stephen Dain A total of 35 talks and 10 posters were presented Papers based on 37 of these presentations are included here in Colour Vision Deficiencies XI The scientific program featured sessions on three special topics with each topic highlighted by an invited speaker The opening session on the Genetics of congenital colour vision deficiencies began with a superb invited lecture by Charles Weitz about his pioneering work on the molecular genetics of tritanopia The session on the second special topic Spatial aspects of colour vision began with the launching of a new IRGCVD tradition as 1991 Verriest Memorial Award recipient Harry Sperling presented the first Ver riest Memorial Lecture on his recent studies of spatial discrimination of heterochromatic stimuli Dr Sperling reported new evidence that certain asymmetries in red green opponent colour vision can be explained by the spatial organization of colour opponent retinal neurons In the third special session on Occupational aspects of colour vision Barry Cole took the audience on a fascinating tour of the historical development of colour vision standards in his invited lecture entitled Does defective colour vision really matter In addition to the three special topics many interesting presentations were given in topical sessions on Variations in normal colour vision Acquired colour vision deficiencies and Colour vision tests and testing methods

Stereoscopic acuity in ocular pursuit of moving objects Matthias Sachsenweger, Ulrich Sachsenweger, 2012-12-06 There has been growing acceptance of the insight that the methods so far used in the testing of visual functions have been inadequate when it comes to specific problems and should therefore be supplemented with more specialised methods for dynamic testing As long as two decades ago large scale mass screening produced evidence to the effect that visual acuity so far exclusively determined by means of still samples was not identical with visual acuity in the ocular pursuit of moving targets dynamic visual acuity In other words vision testing can at present provide little information on an individual's capability of identification appreciation and judgement of mobile objects Spatial three dimensional perception of moving targets hereafter referred to as dynamic stereoacuity is the particular subject on which findings are reported in this article Findings of that kind are of considerable relevance to everyday life since many of the phenomena that have to be three dimensionally perceived in private life and in occupational practice are in movement So far dynamic stereoacuity has never been systematically studied and is still a blank space on the maps of ophthalmology and physiology This is equally true for dynamic stereoscopy in binocular vision as well as for perception on the basis of movement parallax a phenomenon of differentiated contour displacement within a given field of vision which is also available to the monocular individual under conditions of head or body or object movement within the visual space
