Text And Culture:

Culture as Text, Text as Culture Elodie Lafitte, Christina Wall, Mary Cobb Wittrock, 2020-05-22 Culture as Text Text as Culture represents a novel interdisciplinary analysis of textuality as it pertains to Cultural Studies More specifically the work examines how the analysis of texts has shaped the most vital contemporary debate of Cultural Studies the recognition that all texts and their contexts are constructs Building upon a Post structural Post modern understanding of truth as a construct Cultural Studies has long since acknowledged the ability of texts to express the time and culture of their origin This work however expands this idea demonstrating not only how a culture is preserved in a text but how that text can in turn define its culture even redefine its history This compendium is structured around four of the most prominent contemporary topics of Cultural Studies the relationship between historical and fictional writing the ability of authors to recreate or redefine history the relationship between language and image and the ability for traditionally marginalized groups to reassert their place in history The book presents articles from a large spectrum of disciplinary fields and civilizations in order to demonstrate how the application of Cultural Studies can unite seemingly disparate disciplines Text, Culture, Reception Rüdiger Ahrens, Heinz Antor, 1992 What Does it Mean? Emma Robinson, Sophie Robinson, 2003 Provides students and teachers with an understanding of our relationship to culture and society as individuals and consumers Students will learn the key ideas and terminologies of contemporary issues within cultural studies and the respective political social meanings within text Culture, Language, Text Fredrik Christian Brøgger, 1992 This book is a pioneering attempt within the university study of English as a foreign language to provide the discipline of culture studies particularly the study of American British civilization with a theory and methodology of its own Focusing on the anthropological concept of culture as belief systems the author suggests that culture studies should be primarily concerned with the analysis of the interplay between language and ideology Essentially interdisciplinary the field is conceived as a philological text oriented study of culture Text and Culture, 1989 Culture & Text Cate Poynton, Alison Lee, 2000 In an exciting departure in the growing field of discourse analysis Culture Text combines a fresh approach to theory with exemplary demonstrations of interdisciplinary analysis Despite its emphasis on text cultural studies has kept most forms of discourse analysis at arm's length Positioned at the conjunction of linguistic and poststructuralist approaches to discourse analysis this book argues for a textual metalanguage for cultural studies and for a reevaluation of methodology Biblical Text and Exegetical Culture Michael Fishbane, 2022-01-25 In this wide ranging collection Michael Fishbane investigates the complex and diverse relationships between the biblical text and exegetical culture The author demonstrates the multiple literary dimensions and interpretative strategies that came to form the Hebrew Bible in the context of the ancient Near East the Dead Sea Scrolls in the context of an emergent biblical Jewish culture and the classical rabbinic Midrash in the context of an emergent rabbinic civilization in late antiquity Within each study and in the collection as a whole the author shows a broad range of creative methods always with a scholarly concern to illuminate the religious ideas of Scripture as it was perceived through diverse hermeneutical lenses and exegetical methodologies The studies range from the purely literary to the highly analytic from myth to law and from studies of symbols to the study of exegetical methods The Taming of the Text Willie Van Peer,2016-08-19 The contributors of this text first published in 1988 provide a dynamic view of the social functioning of texts taking account of linguistic literary and cultural elements They bring together innovative perspectives on literary analysis and theory on pragmatics and discourse analysis as well as on text linguistics and reception theory Various text types are examined and the editor introduces each chapter in order to draw them all together to make a fascinating and cohesive whole The Cultural Analysis of Texts Mikko Lehtonen,2000-07-19 Drawing upon a range of perspectives from textual and cultural studies this book synthesizes textual contextual and audience analysis into an overall picture of meaning making Using examples ranging from Balzac to blonde jokes modernist poetry to pop lyrics the book discusses the factors that contribute to the formation of meaning language media texts contexts and readers In the cultural study of texts texts contexts and practices are equally important the author argues Meaning making takes place in the articulation between these different elements But how can one examine all three areas at the same time In The Cultural Analysis of Texts Mikko Lehtonen develops a model to enable just such an approach Understanding Material Text Cultures Markus Hilgert,2016-12-19 The present volume comprises 6 highly original studies on material text cultures in different nontypographic societies stretching from the 3rd millennium cuneiform textual record of Ancient Mesopotamia to 20th century Qur'anic boards of northern and central African provenience It provides a multidisciplinary approach to material text cultures complementary to the interdisciplinary strongly theory grounded research scheme of the CRC 933 Six research fellowships were awarded to outstanding young researchers for innovative high risk research proposals pertinent to the CRC 933's overall research scheme Their studies contained in this volume add multidisciplinary dimension to material text culture research satisfy the curiosity as to the applicability of the theoretical premises and methodology developed and tested by the CRC 933 to research on inscribed artefacts carried out on an international level and in different research environments and contribute to anchoring material text culture research as proposed by the CRC 933 within the tradition and broader context of other research strategies devoted to the material dimension of writing such as the filologia materiale The Companion to Juri Lotman Marek Tamm,Peeter Torop,2021-12-30 Juri Lotman 1922-1993 the Jewish Russian Estonian historian literary scholar and semiotician was one of the most original and important cultural theorists of the 20th century as well as a co-founder of the well known Tartu-Moscow School of Semiotics This is the first authoritative volume in any language to explore the main facets of Lotman's work and discuss his main ideas in the context of contemporary scholarship Boasting an interdisciplinary cast of contributing academics from across mainland Europe as well as the USA the UK Australia Argentina and Brazil The Companion to Juri Lotman is the definitive text about Lotman's intellectual legacy The book is structured into three main sections Context Concepts and Dialogue which simultaneously provide ease of navigation and intriguing prisms through which to view his various scholarly contributions Saussure Bakhtin Language Memory Space Cultural History New Historicism Literary Studies and Political Theory are just some of the thinkers themes and approaches examined in relation to Lotman while the introduction and thematic Lotman bibliography that frame the main essays provide valuable background knowledge and useful information for further research The book foregrounds how Lotman s insights have been especially influential in conceptualizing meaning making practices in culture and society and how they in turn have inspired the work of a diverse group of scholars The Companion to Juri Lotman shines a light on a hugely significant and all too often neglected figure in 20th century intellectual history      Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima

Makaryk,1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture      Signs, Language, and

Culture: The Semograms of the Pyramid Texts between Iconicity and Referential Reality Josep Cervelló Autuori,Marc Orriols-Llonch,2025-04-17 The signs of Egyptian hieroglyphic writing are pictograms i e images that represent beings and objects of reality The main characteristic of pictograms is their iconicity An icon conveys meaning through the image which distinctly refers to a real referent by depicting several of its defining features This volume focuses on semograms which are lexical or semantic pictograms meaning the image itself participates directly in the encoding of the linguistic message The Pyramid Texts of the late 3rd millennium BCE constitute the oldest corpus of funerary texts in Egyptian and human history Their semograms iconically reflect cultural realities of Old Kingdom Egypt and perhaps earlier The studies you will find in this book are devoted to the dialectics between text sign iconicity and referential reality      Dialogics of Self, the Mahabharata and Culture Lakshmi Bandlamudi,2011 Dialogics of Self the Mahabharata and Culture The History of

Understanding and Understanding of History explores the interrelationships between individual and cultural historical dynamics in interpreting texts using key concepts from Bakhtin's theory of dialogics. This ambitious volume discusses the limits of fixed monologic discourses and the benefits of fluid dialogic discourses and provides a cultural and psychological analysis of the epic Indian text the Mahabharata. Encyclopedia of Rhetoric and Composition Theresa Enos, 2013-10-08 First Published in 1996 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company. Culture in the Domains of Law René Provost, 2017-02-02 This book examines whether law as a cultural practice can apply across cultural boundaries to bind people with vastly different beliefs and practices. The Cambridge History of American Literature: Volume 8, Poetry and Criticism, 1940-1995 Sacvan Bercovitch, Cyrus R. K. Patell, 1994 Multi volume history of American literature. Authorship and Text-making in Early China Hanmo Zhang, 2018-10-08 This book is a timely response to a rather urgent call to seek an updated methodology in rereading and reappraising early Chinese texts in light of newly discovered early writings. For a long time the concept of authorship in the formation and transmission of early Chinese texts has been misunderstood. The nominal author who should mainly function as a guide to text formation and interpretation is considered retrospectively as the originator and writer of the text. This book illustrates that although some notions about the text as the author's property began to appear in some Eastern Han texts a strict correlation between the author and the text results from later conceptions of literary history. Before the modern era there existed a conceptual gap between an author and a writer. A pre-modern Chinese text could have had both an author and a writer or even multiple authors and multiple writers. This work is the first study addressing these issues by more systematically emphasizing the connection of the text, the author and the religious and sociopolitical settings in which these issues were embedded. It is expected to constitute a palpable contribution to Chinese studies and the discipline of philology in general.

Contextual Frames of Reference in Translation Ernst Wendland, 2014-04-08 Bible translation theory and practice rightly tend to focus on the actual text of Scripture. But many diverse yet interrelated contextual factors also play an important part in the implementation of a successful translation program. The aim of this coursebook is to explore in varying degrees of detail a wide range of these crucial situational variables and potential influences using a multidisciplinary approach to the task. Thus in order to expand and enrich the field of vision a progressive study of this complex process of intercultural interlinguistic communication is carried out according to a set of overlapping sociocultural, organizational and situational cognitive orientations. These contextual factors provide a broader frame of reference for analyzing, interpreting and communicating the original Scriptures in a completely new contemporary setting of transmission and reception. The three dimensions are then applied in a practical way to explore the dramatic throne room vision of the Apostle John Revelation 4-5 with reference to both the original Greek text and also a modern dynamic translation in Chewa, a southeastern Bantu language of Africa. A variety of exercises and assignments to stimulate critical and creative reflection as well as to illustrate the theoretical development of Contextual Frames of Reference is provided every step of the way Not only is translation per se discussed but the teaching and evaluation of translated texts and versions are also considered from several points of view in the final three chapters An Appendix offers a foundational essay by Professor Lourens de Vries on the subject of primary orality and the influence of this vital factor in the crosscultural communication of the Bible     The Politics of Interpretation Jerold C. Frakes, 2012-02-01 This study examines the critical ideologies that have shaped the perception reception and projection of Old Yiddish during the course of the past century The first critical historical survey of the history of scholarship in the field it confronts the assumptions underlying the research assumptions of cultural identity and the value of the literature of that culture It documents the pervasive denial that Yiddish is a language and that Yiddish literature is intrinsically valuable or the assertion that this literature is German and a product of German culture
