Evidencias y narrativas en la atención sanitaria Àngel Martínez-Hernández, Lina Masana, Susan M. DiGiacomo, 2013-10-31. Este libro es el resultado de una reflexión colectiva en el marco del X Coloquio REDAM Red de Antropología Médica que bajo el título De la evidencia a la narrativa en la atención sanitaria biopoder y relatos de aflicción se realizó en junio de 2013 en Tarragona. El objetivo de este encuentro fue analizar tanto las narrativas de la evidencia entendidas como estrategias de construcción de la prueba en biomedicina como la evidencia de las narrativas entendida como constatación de que aquello que está o debería estar en juego en la atención sanitaria es principalmente la enfermedad como forma de sufrimiento. El libro recoge aportaciones de más de veinte autores nacionales e internacionales que inciden de forma polifónica en la construcción de una perspectiva antropológica de los sistemas médicos y de las aflicciones humanas. As representações sociais e a experiência com o diabetes Reni Aparecida Barsaglini, 2011-01-01. A proposta do livro lançar um olhar diferenciado sobre o diabetes a partir da sociologia e da antropologia. A obra destaca a importância de ouvir com atenção as pessoas que vivenciam uma condição crônica como o diabetes; essa escuta pode subsidiar intervenções de saúde que sejam mais sensíveis aos aspectos culturais e favoreçam a interação entre profissionais e adoecidos. A pesquisa que originou a publicação utilizou metodologia qualitativa incluindo consulta à literatura biomédica e a documentos de entidades ligadas ao diabetes, entrevistas com pacientes, familiares e profissionais de saúde e observações em campo no bairro na residência e na unidade de saúde.

Território e Tradição: as práticas de saúde entre agricultores de origem alemã de Vila Itoupava (SC) no contexto do desenvolvimento regional Leonilda Wessling, 2020-10-22. O cuidado com a saúde e as relações de gênero que se organizam a partir do domínio de saberes relacionados às práticas de saúde envolvendo o uso de plantas medicinais utilizadas pela comunidade alemã residente em Vila Itoupava/SC têm sido pertinentes no contexto do desenvolvimento regional. A urgência em se realizar tal estudo vincula-se ao risco potencial da perda de registros importantes em virtude da idade avançada das moradoras mais idosas, uma vez que as mulheres são as guardiãs destes saberes tradicionais. A saúde dos agricultores esteve inicialmente voltada para suas práticas de saúde tradicionais trazidas pelos imigrantes e adaptadas regionalmente. Com o processo de industrialização que iniciou por volta da década de 1960 e se intensificou na década de 1980, as agricultoras que detinham esses conhecimentos e eram responsáveis pelo cuidado com a saúde da família passaram a trabalhar nas indústrias nascentes e com isso se transformaram em colonas operárias ou seja, somente passaram a trabalhar na lavoura um período do
