Teenage World Adolescents Self Image In Ten Countries:

The Teenage World Daniel Offer, Enrico de Vito, 1989 The Teenage World Daniel Offer, Eric Ostrov, K.I. Howard, R. Atkinson, 2013-11-11 A Cross National Study of Adolescent Self Image Adolescence is not as has been previously assumed a developmental stage that was defined after the industrial revolution There is substantial historical evidence to suggest that adolescence and youth as a stage was recognized by the ancient Romans Greeks and even Egyptians The concept survived through the Dark Ages In Le Grand Proprietaire written in 1556 it is stated The third age which is called adolescence ends in the twenty first year and it can go on till thirty or thirty five The age is called adolescence because the person is big enough to beget children In this age the limbs are soft and able to grow and receive strength and vigor from natural heat Aries 1962 p 21 The span of years devoted to adolescent development varies in different cultures and with different definitions The term adolescence is no longer equivalent to pubescence Adolescence is a psycho social biological stage of development that corresponds to changes in many areas which accompany the transition from childhood to adulthood The working definition of adolescence we use is the stage of life that starts with puberty and ends at the time when the person has attained a reasonable degree of independence from his parents Once in high school or its equivalent the vast majority of teenagers have already undergone the biological changes of puberty

International Perspectives on Child and Adolescent Mental Health N. Singh, Dee Pang, A. Singh, 2000-06-01 There has been a major shift in the way we conceptualize and provide services to children and adolescents with mental health needs We are moving away from the traditional disorder oriented model of treatment to a child centered family focused service delivery system that mandates mental health services in the context of the child's family and social ecology This new system of care has spawned many variations of the model including wraparound services multisystemic treatment MST futures planning and person centred planning As systems of care are different across countries and cultures it is imperative that we share our knowledge and make explicit the lessons we have learned in our attempts to provide services to children and adolescents which focus on improving their quality of life rather than merely treating their psychiatric disorders and psychological problems There is an urgent need to evaluate the various treatments being offered to children and adolescents with mental health needs Empirical data on outcomes will determine the funding and delivery of services As such the latest research on treatment outcomes needs to be disseminated so that new and validated treatment methods can be implemented rapidly
