Scherer,David Rowe,2013-08-15 This book examines the political debates over the access to live telecasts of sport in the digital broadcasting era It outlines the broad theoretical debates political positions and policy calculations over the provision of live free to air telecasts of sport as a right of cultural citizenship In so doing the book provides a number of comparative case studies that explore these debates and issues in various global spaces Maori Television Jo Smith,2016-11-21

Established in 2004 Maori Television has had a major impact on the New Zealand broadcasting landscape But over the past year or so the politics of Maori Television have been brought to the foreground of public consciousness with other media outlets tracking Maori Television s search for a new CEO allegations of editorial intervention and arguments over news reporting approaches to Te Kohanga Reo National Trust Based on a Marsden Grant and three years of interviews with key stakeholders staff the Board other media politicians funders and viewers this is a deep account of Maori Television in its first ten years Jo Smith argues that today's arguments must be understood within a broader context shaped by non Maori interests Can a Maori broadcaster follow both tikanga and the Broadcasting Standards Authority Is it simply telling the news in Maori or broadcasting the news with a Maori perspective How can it support te reo Maori at the same time as appeal to all New Zealand How does it function as the voice of its Maori stakeholders Offering five frameworks to address the challenges of a Maori organisation working within a wider non Maori context this is a solidly researched examination of Maori Television's unique contribution to the media cultures of Aotearoa New Zealand

Media Education in Asia Chi-Kim Cheung,2009-06-12 Media education in Asia is a relatively young but rapidly developing part of the curriculum Research has been conducted and papers have been written on various issues concerning media education in Asia The dominant models of media education in the world are broadly Western and most are drawn from English speaking countries The question is whether a similar pattern exists in Asia where there may be differences in culture heritage beliefs values education policy as well as curriculum and pedagogy Are educators in Asia following the Western model in developing and implementing media education or are they devising their own models With this question in mind this book sets out to understand the prevailing perspectives regarding media education in various Asian societies While most debates about media education are carried out in Western contexts this book hopes to provide a platform for readers to examine this issue in an Asian context

International Sports Press Survey 2011 Thomas Horky,Jörg-Uwe Nieland,2013-10-08 The International Sports Press Survey 2011 is a comparative study on the quality of sports reporting in print media The editors Thomas Horky and J rg Uwe Nieland present an analysis of data from 22 countries and add more specific research in 14 selected country studies The world s largest study of its kind helps to identify similarities and differences in sports reporting The results are placed in the context of the print media crisis and conclusions are drawn to deal with the new challenges for sports journalism

Youth, Media and Culture in the Asia Pacific Region Usha M. Rodrigues,Belinda Smaill,2009-05-05 Youth Media and Culture in the Asia Pacific Region presents an analysis of youth media activities in a diverse but geographically connected Asia Pacific region The region which is spatially connected by its colonial and imperial past is becoming a significant player in the globalized world In this context youth situated in these economically politically and socially structured communities are redefining their locales through their patterns of media use The discourse of youth in this disparate region is manifest in the media through their identity articulations and social activism The book illustrates that these youth subcultures in the Asia Pacific are part of the well marketed global consumerism culture and yet at other times independent of the commodifying impetus of global capital It draws on case studies to examine some of the media practices youth in the region are engaged in and elucidates the process of social change taking place in some Asia Pacific nations This book contributes to the important and growing field of youth media studies The regionalization of media research is necessarily recuperated here bringing large populations of media users into a frame of reference that allows critical reflection on the new waves of use and sociality in the Asia Pacific region

Stephanie Hemelryk Donald Professor of International Studies UTS Postcolonial Audiences Bethan Benwell,James Procter,Gemma Robinson,2012-03-12 Without readers and audiences viewers and consumers the postcolonial would be literally unthinkable And yet postcolonial critics have historically neglected the modes of reception and consumption that make up the politics and pleasures of meaning making during and after empire Thus while recent criticism and theory has made large claims for reading as an ethical act as a means of establishing collective quasi political consciousness as identification with difference as a mode of resistance and as an impulsion to the public imagination the reader in postcolonial literary studies persists as a shadowy figure This collection answers the now pressing need for a distinctively postcolonial take on the rapidly expanding area of reader and reception studies Written by some of the top scholars in the field these essays reveal readers and reception to be varied and profoundly unstable subjects that challenge many of our assumptions and preconceptions of the postcolonial from the notion of reading as national fellowship to the demands of an ethics of reading

A Critical Companion to Jane Campion Elsa Colombani,Eurydice Da Silva,2024-11-25 A Critical Companion to Jane Campion offers a thorough and detailed study of the works of Jane Campion This edited volume seeks a modern approach by blurring the frontiers between film and television film theater releases and platforms and treats the entirety of Campion s her body of work as a meaningful whole The chapters explore recurring themes and connections across Campion s oeuvre including her complex feminine characters exploration of New Zealand landscapes love for literature constant dialogue between media and the influence of the Gothic Contributors draw on a variety of scholarly approaches methodologies and perspectives to provide innovative readings of Campion s work that are sure to spark new discussions
