Ends Well David Samuel Levinson, 2018-01-02 Why is tonight different from all other nights Tonight we kill dad In 2022

American Jews face an increasingly unsafe and anti-Semitic landscape at home. Against this backdrop, the Jacobson family gathers for Passover in Los Angeles. But their immediate problems are more personal than political, with the three adult children—Mo, Edith, and Jacob—in various states of crisis. The result: each claims a lifetime of mistreatment by their father, Julian. The siblings have begun to suspect that Julian is hastening their mother Roz's demise, and years of resentment boil over as they debate whether to go through with the real reason for their reunion: an ill-considered plot to end their father's iron rule for good. That is, if they can put their bickering grudges, festering relationships, and distrust of one another aside long enough to act. And God help them if their mother finds out. Tell Me How This Ends Well presents a blistering and prescient vision of the near future, turning the exploits of one very funny, very troubled family into a rare and compelling exploration of the state of America and what it could become. Tell Me Lies Jennifer Crusie, 2010-03-30 After finding a pair of black lace panties under the front seat of her husband's car and cavorting herself in the back seat of another vehicle with her old high school flame, Maddie Faraday realizes that the truth is elusive in a small town. Tell Me Something I Don't Know: Dialogues in Epistemology Michael Veber, 2018-02-28 Tell Me Something I Don't Know is a collection of original dialogues in epistemology suitable for student readers but also of interest to experts. Familiar problems, theories, and arguments are explored: second-order knowledge, epistemic closure, the preface paradox, skepticism, pragmatic encroachment, the Gettier problem, and more. New ideas on each of these issues are also offered, defended, and critiqued, often in humorous and entertaining ways. Tell Me Everything Cambria Brockman, 2019 A compulsive page-turner with shades of Donna Tartt's The Secret History, peopled by a new generation. Catherine Steadman, New York Times bestselling author of Something in the Water. In her first weeks at Hawthorne College, Malin is swept up into a tight-knit circle that will stick together through all four years. There's Gemma, an insecure theater major from London; John, a tall, handsome, wealthy New Englander; Max, John's cousin, a shy pre-med major; Khaled, a wisecracking prince from Abu Dhabi; and Ruby, a beautiful art history major. But Malin isn't like the rest of her friends. She's an expert at hiding her troubled past. She acts as if she shares the preoccupations of those around her, dating, partying all while using her extraordinary insight to detect their deepest vulnerabilities and weaknesses. By Senior Day, on the cusp of graduation, Malin's secrets and those of her friends are revealed. While she scrambles to maintain her artfully curated image, her missteps set in motion a devastating chain of events that ends in a murder. And as fragile relationships hang in the balance and close alliances shift, Malin must test the limits of what she's capable of to stop the truth from coming out. In a mesmerizing novel that peels back the innumerable layers of a seductive protagonist, debut author Cambria Brockman brings to life an entrancing story of friendship, heartbreak, and betrayal. Praise for Tell Me Everything: At once a complex thriller and antihero origin story, Cambria Brockman's riveting debut is a true page-turner. Lisa Lutz, New York Times bestselling author of the Spellman series and The Passenger. The aptly named Malin, as smart as she is misanthropic, narrates this tale of collegiate rivalry; we see the Maine campus and her flawed friends through
