

How Schools Can Maximize Federal Funding to Build a Future-Ready Technology Infrastructure

A massive influx of federal funding over the last two years has dramatically changed education IT, giving schools money to invest in connectivity and software-as-a-service (SaaS) learning solutions and platforms.

Despite this significant increase in federal aid, schools still face challenges maximizing the use of this money and, in some cases, accessing it. A recent Center for Digital Education (CDE) survey of education officials finds many schools face ongoing funding hurdles, including lack of knowledge about available federal funding sources, difficulty applying for grants and challenges understanding allowable uses for federal funding.

The root cause of most of these issues is limited resources and time, as many smaller school districts and colleges lack additional money or dedicated grant writers to collect information and complete funding applications. Schools also need a better plan for identifying where to deploy federal funding and how to put this aid to its best use.

Several strategies — from investing in integrated cloud-based solutions to leveraging innovative procurement models and managed services — can help schools take full advantage of federal funding to drive IT modernization, improve their operational efficiency and deliver better student outcomes.

Capitalizing on Federal Funding: Current Challenges and Opportunities

The CDE survey of 85 education leaders across the country was conducted in March 2022. It found schools face five major funding challenges:

1. Confusion over available funding: 44% of respondents said their institutions often don't understand what funding is available from the federal government.
2. Time and resource constraints: 33% said their schools have difficulty applying for grants and developing proposals.

policy developments in education We believe that this work offers a unique in depth examination of the trends within major education systems and how they have adapted to and taken advantage of the challenges and opportunities posed by the new information and communication technologies A special feature of this edition is that it allows for interesting comparative analyses of sub groups of countries as many Asian European Union and former eastern European countries as well as the United States and Canada among others are included in the book But it allows also for other than regional comparisons given that a number of newly industrialized countries such as Brazil Chile Malaysia and South Africa are represented in this book together with many OECD countries This book is the result of the effort and hard work of the contributing authors many of whom are the NRCs for IEA SITES in their respective countries Special thanks must go to the Norwegian Royal Ministry of Education and Research and the Netherlands Kennisnet ICT OP School Foundation both of which provided generous support for the preparation and dissemination of the book to the Center for Information Technology in Education CITE of the University of Hong Kong which assisted in the technical preparation of the manuscript and to the IEA Secretariat which facilitated the copyediting of the chapters We want to acknowledge especially the professional contribution of Paula Wagemaker who has copyedited the entire volume This copyediting work is especially critical and challenging as many of the chapters were written by authors for whom English is a foreign language We also want to express our appreciation to David Robitaille chair of the IEA Publications and Editorial Committee and his committee for the critical and constructive review of the manuscript
