Embracing the Knowledge Economy Gerd Schienstock, 2004-01-01 In an astonishingly short period of time Finland has developed into one of the world's leading knowledge societies whilst retaining a comprehensive welfare state The book traces this rapid transformation from a resource based to a knowledge based society The authors describe the country's strengths and weaknesses in the new economy and demonstrate how Finland has been able to catch up with the leading industrial countries by exploiting new technological opportunities Experts from different fields provide rich empirical material on Finnish industries firms regions and institutions and the role they have played in the transformation process The book also details the business and economic restructuring which was required and explores new trends in the country's science technology and innovation policy

The Logic of International Restructuring Winfried Ruigrok, Rob van Tulder, 2013-11-05 There is within the corporate world an evolving international restructuring race between industrial complexes that is set to intensify over the coming years An industrial complex consists of suppliers distributors governments financiers and trade unions It is the reorganisation of the relationship between the core firm and the above components that is set to change before very long In this book Winfried Ruigrok and Rob van Tulder address many current debates on topics such as Post Fordism globalisation and lean production They also identify a number of rival internationalisation strategies that have been adopted by different companies Moreover they present an abundance of new as well as historical data on the world's one hundred largest core companies This data shows that none of the largest core firms is truly global or borderless and that virtually all of them in their history have benefited decisively from Governmental trade or industrial policies The authors offer a highly interdisciplinary effort to link three previously isolated debates on industrial restructuring globalisation and international trade policies The Logic of International Restructuring is aimed at a wide academic post graduate and professional audience working in the areas of business economics organisational studies and international relations

Research and Development Management: From the Soviet Union to Russia Christoph M. Schneider, 2013-11-11

In the past intensive interest in Soviet research and development has been sporadic both in the West and in the USSR The end of the 1980s coincided with the demise of the Soviet model of economic development As a result a surge of attention has been given to the factors driving the motor of Soviet growth and development as well as R D The opening first of the Soviet and subsequently of the Russian economy finally exposed it to global standards to scientific standards The long period of international isolation with respect and technological exchanges made it difficult for scholars and policy makers at home and abroad to measure the status of Soviet advances Consequently some overrated the levels while others underestimated them Now it comes to light that although the Soviets put the first satellite in space Sputnik and developed their own hydrogen bomb these were more the exceptions of innovation from research results rather than the rule Therefore as the management of the entire economy increasingly malfunctioned so did the management of R D in contributing to economic growth and development There is no denying the incredible investment of the former Soviet state in domestic science and research The R D community was one of the largest if not the largest in the world during the second half of the twentieth century Now Russia has inherited not only this enormous resource but also the inadequate organization management and structure

Explaining Technical Change in a Small Country Synnöve Vuori, Pentti Vuorinen, 2013-11-21

Technical change is produced by the interaction of a large number of technical economic social and institutional factors One of the starting points is the concept of national innovation systems The aim of this book is to take Finland as an example illustrating the challenges faced by small countries The characteristics and performance of the Finnish national innovation system of the last couple of decades are analyzed The Finnish experience is put in a broader context by comparing it with a few other countries The development paths possible in the near future are assessed According to the results many problems remain despite favourable developments in several technology indicators The rigidities of the social institutions created during the 1970s and 1980s seem to have become obstacles for economic and technological development There are fairly large differences between the countries studied and even between the culturally and historically close Nordic countries However Finland and Sweden seem to share the same kind of encompassing collective risk sharing systems which may have detrimental effects on for instance incentives related to innovativeness Increasing globalisation requires further development of the national system of innovation Technology policy must be seen as one part of more encompassing social and economic policies and the role of factors such as well functioning institutions appropriate education and sound incentive systems is highly important The papers of this book are written by experts of various research disciplines They reflect the respective views on the issue how technical change in Finland can be explained It is also discussed how Finland fares in comparison to Denmark Sweden Japan and the United States      The Advanced Technology Program National Research Council,Policy and Global Affairs,Board on Science, Technology, and Economic Policy,2001-07-06 This report examines the operations of the APT reviews its extensive assessment program and provides NRC Committee findings concerning the ATP s operations and recommendations for potential improvements to the program The report includes a summary of a major conference held in April 2000 as well as seven papers including surveys of the industry participants or users of the ATP program a summary of the results of fifty awards detailed assessments of major joint ventures and a description of the current selection process It is the most comprehensive study to date of the program s origins operations achievements and assessment Its conclusion the program works      Technological Infrastructure Policy Morris Teubal,Dominique Foray,Moshe Justman,Ehud Zuscovitch,2013-03-09 Technological Infrastructure Policy provides a systematic treatment of technological infrastructure TI and Technological Infrastructure Policy TIP which are emerging fields of interest both for academic economists and for policy makers in both advanced and developing economies The specific topics covered include the role of TI in economic growth and development the nature and definition of TI TI components the relationships between TI and markets salient features of TIP Technological Infrastructure Policy reflects the distinction made between basic and advanced TI Basic TI involves the collective absorption of foreign technology for subsequent diffusion to domestic firms Several chapters explicitly deal with this process with an emphasis on the supply of advisory services to small and medium enterprises Advanced TI involves precompetitive cooperation research and development in cutting edge technologies undertaken by consortia of firms Several examples of advanced TIP are given The novel integration of various conceptual and practical aspects of TI and TIP is the strong point of this book      Innovation Policies in Europe and the US Susana Borrás,2018-01-18 This title was first published in 2003 During the 1990s research and technological development policies moved from a problem solving approach towards a wider one focusing on the systemic nature of the innovation process This change can be featured as the transition from a technology policy towards an innovation policy Innovation Policies in Europe and the US The New Agenda provides a comparative analysis of eleven highly industrialized countries innovation policies in the 1990s and addresses the nature dynamics causes and effects of this transition By combining the analytical skills of sociologists economists and political scientists the book sets up a novel framework for studying the evolution of this particular policy area by examining institutional change from a broader perspective      Order and Disorder After the Cold War Brad Roberts,1995 This volume collates 24 articles from The Washington Quarterly The articles all centre around the order and disorder in the post Cold War era evaluating the changing roles of the major powers and the new political and military challenges to internation      Foreign Investment in China F. Li,1999-04-26 China s opening up has unleashed lucrative opportunities to foreign investors However doing business in China is far more difficult than many people have anticipated Using a new theoretical framework and comprehensive evidence this book systematically examines China's hard and soft investment environment for FDI Main problems encountered by investors are also investigated The book is an essential guide to investors in avoiding common and expensive pitfalls of doing business in China and an invaluable reference for consultants researchers and students in understanding the Chinese market NSF in a Changing World, 1995

Power in a Changing World Economy Benjamin J. Cohen, Eric M.P. Chiu, 2013-10-30 This book is about power in a changing world economy Though power is ubiquitous in the study of International Political Economy the concept is underdeveloped in formal theoretical terms This collection of essays analyses recent experience in East Asia to advance our theoretic understanding of state power in IPE Over the last quarter century no other region of the world has had a greater impact on the global distribution of economic resources and capabilities China with its peaceful rise now stands as the second largest national economy on the face of the earth South Korea and Taiwan have become industrial powerhouses Hong Kong and Singapore are among the world's most important financial centres and new poles of growth have emerged in several southeast Asian countries all while Japan long the region's dominant market has slipped into seemingly irreversible decline The volume's nine essays contributed by leading scholars in the United States Britain and Taiwan aim to extract relevant inferences and insights from these developments for the study of state power All are framed by a core agenda encompassing four key clusters of questions concerning the meaning sources uses and limits of power These essays ask What new lessons are offered for power analysis in International Political Economy

Low Carbon Energy Transitions Kathleen M. Araújo, 2017 Examines four long term cases of nations shifting to low carbon energy sources from dependence on fossil fuels in order to discuss better ways for a nation to make such a transition Innovation and Entrepreneurial Networks in Europe Paloma Fernández Pérez, Mary Rose, 2009-08-19 The entrepreneur is involved in the dance of two questions what is needed and what is possible The interplay of these two questions is an ongoing process and innovation varies internationally and regionally depending on differing legal and policy systems variations in the development of education and skill development in social processes and in knowledge transfer This book explores innovation and networks in entrepreneurship with an interdisciplinary approach focusing on how old and new knowledge can be combined to produce radical innovation These chapters combine themes of entrepreneurship innovation and networks with a specifically European focus highlighting the wide variations at the national regional and business level These variations suggest the need to break with traditional stereotypes about Southern and Northern Europe The book takes a Schumpeterian perspective emphasising the importance of looking at the history of entrepreneurship and innovation paying particular attention to the neglected area of innovation in services within firms
