Mark Sossin, Richard Ruth, 2014-01-31 In Healing after Parent Loss in Childhood and Adolescence Therapeutic Interventions and Theoretical Considerations experts explore the varied often complex and always tragic circumstances under which young people face losing a parent Profound grief and feelings of powerlessness may accompany loss of a parent at any age but distinctly so when such loss is experienced during formative years Whenever these individuals seek help therapists must be psychically prepared to enter into arenas of trauma bereavement and mourning The children teens and adults presented are diverse in age culture ethnicity and socioeconomic status A diverse group of contributors showcase a wide range of effective approaches from traditionally structured short and long term psychotherapies and psychoanalysis to psycho educational supportive and preventive interventions The writers in this volume do not shy away from tough matters such as urban violence AIDS and war they address concerns practicing clinicians face such as when to work with children adolescents and adults individually and when and how to involve their surviving parents and families Included in this book are issues related to the self care and professional development needs of therapists who take on this difficult but essential work including peer support and supervision This volume is likely to spark important re examinations across all fields of mental health practice It will equip and empower clinicians of all kinds who undertake work with those who are grieving Healing after Parent Loss in Childhood and Adolescence promises to be a vital and stimulating read for supervisors teachers and trainers of child adolescent and family clinicians Handbook Of Child And Adolescent Outpatient, Day Treatment A Harinder S. Ghuman, Richard M. Sarles, 2013-06-17 In the past few years there has been a major shift in the mental health care of child and adolescents from inpatient care to non hospital community ambulatory settings Economic pressures have primarily driven this change in service delivery Insurance companies and managed care organizations have not only restricted access to hospitalization and limited length of stays but additionally have sharply reduced reimbursements for treatments State and federal policies for inpatient treatment and reimbursement have followed similar trends As a result mental health planners have attempted to develop programs to deal with this trend of restricted inpatient care shifting treatment of children and adolescents to home and community settings Some of these new programs are well planned and others are hastily planned and implemented The pitfall to this community approach is that there is a population of chronically disturbed children and adolescents and highly stressed parents often lacking adequate personal and family resource who may not respond to these new less restrictive less costly community approaches which potentially may lead to an unsafe and dangerous situation for the child adolescent family and the community With this in mind the purpose of this book is to provide comprehensive and up to date information regarding child and adolescent outpatient day treatment and community psychiatry The emphasis of this book is to provide practical knowledge through clinical case illustrations and to explain various strategies in a detailed fashion
