Television Social Behavior Volume 5:

Television and Behavior, 1982      Becoming Female Clarie Kopp, 2013-11-11 Every woman ought to be filled with shame at the thought that she is woman Clement of Alexandria c 150 215 The five worst infirmities that afflict the female are indocility discontent slandering jealousy and silliness Such is the stupidity of woman's character that it is incumbent upon her in every particular to distrust herself and to obey her husband Confucian Marriage Manual Nature intended women to be our slaves They are our property we are not theirs They belong to us just as a tree that bears fruit belongs to a gardener What a mad idea to demand equality for women Women are nothing but machines for producing children Napoleon Bonaparte The fact of the matter is that the prime responsibility of a woman probably is to be on earth long enough to find the best mate possible for herself and conceive children who will improve the species Norman Mailer Read these quotes and wonder Wonder at the strength tenacity and grace of females who have endured outrageous slings and arrows without becoming violent uncaring or incapacitated Sturdy stuff is contained in our double X preserved and nurtured for other less distorted times The Women in Context series is a reflection of the dawning light slowly illuminating woman as unique in some ways but neither less than nor more than man Surely our imperfect world can well use all the talents and capabilities that men and women possess      Library Book Catalog National Institute of Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice. Office of Technology Transfer, 1972      Violence on Television Barrie Gunter, Jackie Harrison, Maggie Wykes, 2003-01-30 Concern about violence on television has been publicly debated for the past 50 years TV violence has repeatedly been identified as a significant causal agent in relation to the prevalence of crime and violence in society Critics have accused the medium of presenting excessive quantities of violence to the point where it is virtually impossible for viewers to avoid it This book presents the findings of the largest British study of violence on TV ever undertaken funded by the broadcasting industry The study was carried out at the same time as similar industry sponsored research was being conducted in the United States and one chapter compares findings from Britain and the U S A The book concludes that it is misleading to accuse all broadcasters of presenting excessive quantities of violence in their schedules This does not deny that problematic portrayals were found But the most gory horrific and graphic scenes of violence were generally contained within broadcasts available on a subscription basis or in programs shown at times when few children were expected to be watching This factual analysis proves that broadcasters were meeting their obligations under their national regulatory codes of practice      Selective Exposure To Communication Dolf Zillmann, Jennings Bryant, 2013-07-04 First published in 1985 Research into what is usually referred to as mass communication has concentrated on the societal impact of the media The ways in which these media influence people and affect their behavior have been at issue For the most part undesirable effects were pondered and documented Only a few desirable effects received similar attention and scrutiny The research preoccupation with impact has been so pronounced that comparatively speaking next to no attention has been paid to questions such as why people enjoy whatever they elect to watch or hear and more fundamentally why they elect to watch or hear in the first place whatever it is that they elect to watch or hear Without a symposium on research into selective exposure to informative and entertaining messages nor a publication that brought together the recent research in this area this volume was put together in an effort to end this dilemma and to put selective exposure research on the map as a significant research venture Violence and Terror in the Mass Media George Gerbner, Nancy Signorielli, 1988-01-13 Originally a Unesco project this annotated bibliography results from more than 4 600 requests to media scholars and researchers for research reports publications and other information relating to violence and terrorism Although there is an international cast to the materials most are from the U S Even though violence and terrorism permeate our myths and legends there is increasing concern with their effect on viewers This bibliography is particularly timely with entries through spring 1987 The sections of the work mass media content mass media effects pornography and the media terrorism and the media give a better idea of the work's scope than does the title Choice The annotations are clearly written succinctly descriptive of the original work's research with test groups and evaluative of research results Reference Books Bulletin This bibliography focuses on research and scholarly works relating to violence and terror Consisting primarily of articles published in scholarly journals and books this comprehensive work examines major topics such as violence and mass media content violence and mass media effects terrorism and the mass media and pornography Also included are articles from popular journals reports published by the United States and other governments conference papers and dissertations Each entry consists of the bibliographic citation and a short abstract many of the sources include studies from other countries where relevant research has been conducted The compilers introduction provides a clear definition of violence and terrorism as they are dealt with in this volume and offers an interesting overview of various aspects of the subject Social/behavioral Effects of Violence on Television United States. Congress. House. Committee on Energy and Commerce. Subcommittee on Telecommunications, Consumer Protection, and Finance, 1982 Responding To the Screen Jennings Bryant, Dolf Zillmann, 2013-11-05 This volume takes the next step in the evolution of mass communication research tradition from effects to processes a more detailed and microanalytical analysis of the psychological processes involved in receiving and reacting to electronic media messages This domain includes investigations into those psychological processes that occur between the process of selecting media messages for consumption and assessments of whatever processes mediate the long term impact such message consumption may have on consumers subsequent behavior The editors strive to further understanding of some of the basic processes underlying the ways we gain entertainment and information Handbook of Communication and Emotion Peter A. Andersen, Laura K. Guerrero, 1997-10-13 Emotion is once again at the forefront of research in social psychology and personality The Handbook of Communication and Emotion provides a comprehensive look at the questions and answers of interest in the field How are specific emotions fear jealousy anger love communicated How does the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of this communication affect relationships How is the communication of emotion utilized to deceive or persuade others This important reference work is edited by top researchers in the field of communication and authored by a who s who in emotion and communication Provides a comprehensive look at the role of communication in emotion Includes contributions from top researchers in the field of communications Examines how specific emotions are communicated Includes important new research on the effect of communication on relationships      Law Enforcement Assistance

Administration, Library Book Catalog: Au Thor Catolog United States. United States Department of Justice,1972

Advances in Experimental Social Psychology ,1980-01-18 Advances in Experimental Social Psychology

Psychological Development in the Elementary Year Judith Worell,2013-09-17 Psychological Development in the Elementary Years is the second in a series of reviews relating current theory and research on psychological development to educational practice The book discusses the significance and change in psychological sex roles peer relations and the development and regulation of aggression in young children The text also describes the acquisition of self control the developmental trends in the learning processes and the foundations and direction of cognitive development The theory and research on children s achievement the family influences on language and cognitive development and the personal and social causation in the school context are also considered The book further tackles the behavioral perspective of children with learning and behavior problems Psychologists psychiatrists behavioral psychologists and students taking related courses will find the book invaluable      Media Research Methods Barrie Gunter,1999-12-29 In this book Barrie Gunter provides a broad overview of the methodological perspectives adopted by media researchers in their attempt to derive a better understanding of the nature role and impact of media in society By tracing the epistemological and theoretical roots of the major methodological perspectives Gunter identifies the various schools of social scientific research that have determined the major perspectives in the area Drawing a distinction between quantitative and qualitative methods he discusses the relative advantages and disadvantages of each approach and examines recent trends that signal a convergence of approaches and their associated forms of research The unique strength of this book is that it discusses the theoretical underpinnings of media research methodologies and thereby presents a deeper discussion of methodologies than simply whether or not they offer techniques that generate reliable data      The Case for Television Violence Jib Fowles,1999-09-20 The Case for Television Violence is a dense dry and devastating dissection that surely counts as one of the most important books about American culture to appear in the last decade Andrew O Hehir The Myth of Media Violence Salon com 3 17 05The Case for Television Violence makes the provocative argument that television violence has been misinterpreted Rather than undermining the social order television supports it by providing a safe outlet for aggressive impulses Media scholar Jib Fowles challenges the conventional wisdom by 1 demonstrating that the scientific literature does not say what many believe it says 2 calling attention to the viewing habits and behaviors of the reader and those the reader knows 3 explaining that the anti violence critique is most profitably understood as the signature issue in the conflict between high and popular culture and 4 situating the arrival of televised violence within the historical context of the disallowance of traditionally sanctioned targets of aggression The Case for Television Violence will intrigue scholars and students of Media Studies Cultural Studies Politics and Mass Communication

The Faces of Televisual Media Edward L. Palmer, Brian M. Young, 2003-10-17 This collection offers original state of the art contributions from leading authorities in children s televisual media International researchers from communication and psychology provide readers with ready access to current televisual research trends and policymaking political climate issues pertaining to children This second edition provides a current summary of studies on content viewing patterns comprehension effects and individual differences in instructional and educational programming televisual entertainment and violence programming and televisual advertising to children Editors Edward L Palmer and Brian M Young have structured the volume into three sections examining the faces of television the Teaching instructional educational Face the Violent Face and the Selling advertising Face Chapters within each section identify and focus recurrent themes while integrating them topically into a coherent whole Each area incorporates new technologies and considers their potentials effects and future Subjects featured in the various chapters include cross cultural and historical comparisons with an in depth perspective on the BBC and other European Asian televisual media roots as well as America s formative televisual media roots an examination of key differences between developed and developing countries implications of emerging instructional educational media for children s education addressing both cognitive and multi ethnic aspects and prominent informed challenge to the prevailing popular view that children are unaffected and unharmed by exposure to media violence This volume informs ongoing debates across a broad spectrum of current critical issues and suggests avenues for future research It is pertinent and provocative for the most sophisticated scholar in the field as well as for students in areas of developmental or social psychology communication education sociology marketing broadcasting and film public policy advertising and medicine pediatrics It is also appropriate for courses in children media and society
