How Things Make History Astrid Oyen, 2025-10-01 Bright red terra sigillata pots dating to the first three centuries CE can be found throughout the Western Roman provinces The pots' widespread distribution and recognisability make them key evidence in the effort to reconstruct the Roman Empire's economy and society Drawing on recent ideas in material culture this book asks a radically new question what was it about the pots themselves that allowed them to travel so widely and be integrated so quickly into a range of contexts and practices To answer this question Van Oyen offers a fresh analysis in which objects are no longer passive props but rather they actively shape historical trajectories

Liberating Hellenism from the Ottoman Empire Gonda Van Steen, 2010-04-26 Liberating Hellenism from the Ottoman Empire explores two key historical episodes that have generally escaped the notice of modern Greece the Near East and their observers alike In the midst of the highly charged context of West East confrontation and with fundamental cultural and political issues at stake these episodes prove to be exciting and important platforms from which to reexamine the age old conflict This book reaches beyond the standard sources to dig into the archives for important events that have fallen through the cracks of the study of emerging modern Greece and the Ottoman Empire These events in
