The Ancient City Its Concept And Expression:

The Ancient City Karelisa Hartigan,1983 From Doxiadis' Theory to Pikionis' Work Kostas Tsiambaos,2017-09-22

In this book Tsiambaos redefines the ground breaking theory of Greek architect and town planner Constantinos A Doxiadis The Form of Space in Ancient Greece and moves his thesis away from antiquity and ancient architecture instead arguing that it can only be understood as a theory founded in modernity In light of this the author explores Doxiadis theory in relation to the work of the controversial Greek architect Dimitris Pikionis This parallel investigation of the philosophical content of Doxiadis theory and the design principles of Pikionis work establishes a new frame of reference and creates a valuable and original interpretation of their work Using innovative cross disciplinary tools and methods which expand the historical boundaries of interwar modernism the book restructures the ground of an alternative modernity that looks towards the future through a mirror that reflects the ancient past From Doxiadis Theory to Pikionis Work Reflections of Antiquity in Modern Architecture is fascinating reading for all scholars and students with an interest in modernism and antiquity the history and theory of architecture the history of ideas and aesthetics or town planning theory and design The New Jerusalem in the Revelation of John Bruce J. Malina,2000 There are two major entities at the close of the book of Revelation that explain the author s understanding of forthcoming life with God the Celestial City the heavenly Jerusalem and the cosmic Lamb The marriage of these two marks the concluding highpoint of John the Seer s work What are the entities in question How do they marry and what is the significance of that event for those who believe in Jesus as cosmic Lord In The New Jerusalem in the Revelation of John Bruce Malina offers insights into the concluding Vision of the book of Revelation to assist Bible readers to understand what the Visionary of Revelation said and meant to say to his first century Mediterranean audience The New Jerusalem and the Revelation of John sets out comparative models of what sorts of cities existed during the time of the New Testament and what it meant to live in an ancient Mediterranean city It further explains the significance of the celestial marriage of the City and the Lamb The result is a set of reading scenarios that describe and explain Revelation s closing Visions which mediate the theology of John the Seer The definition and comparative model of the city in The New Jerusalem and the Revelation of John is also useful for persons interested in understanding those first urban members of Jesus groups addressed by other New Testament documents Chapters are Presuppositions about Language and Reading The Genre of the Book of Revelation The Holy City in the Sky and The Cosmic Lamb Marries Includes relevant charts Bruce J Malina STD is professor of biblical studies at Creighton University He is former president of the Catholic Biblical Association and author of articles on biblical interpretation Ancient City Planning Everett

Sinclair,AI,2025-03-04 Ancient City Planning explores the foundational urban designs of ancient civilizations particularly focusing on the Roman Empire and Babylonian societies to uncover how their innovations shaped modern urban landscapes The book reveals how ancient city planning wasn t rudimentary but a sophisticated system designed to facilitate social economic and political life For example the Roman grid system initially developed for military purposes was ingeniously adapted for civilian use enhancing spatial organization and movement Similarly Babylon s layout influenced by the Euphrates River highlights the importance of natural resources in urban development history The book begins by introducing core urban design concepts like spatial organization and infrastructure development It then delves into specific examples from Rome and Babylon examining their unique approaches By analyzing archaeological findings historical texts and architectural plans Ancient City Planning offers a comparative analysis highlighting both the similarities and differences in urban development history The book progresses by investigating Roman infrastructure such as aqueducts and public spaces like forums linking them to public health and social life It also explores the significance of Babylonian ziggurats palaces and the Code of Hammurabi Ultimately the book emphasizes the enduring relevance of ancient urbanism to contemporary urban challenges such as sustainability and social equity

5000 Years of Popular Culture Fred E. H. Schroeder, 1980 This collection of insightful essays by outstanding artists anthropologists historians classicists and humanists was developed to broaden the study of popular culture and to provide instances of original and innovative interdisciplinary approaches Its first purpose is to broaden the study of popular culture which is too often regarded in the academic world as the entertainment and leisure time activities of the 20th century Second the collection gives recognition to the fact that a number of disciplines have been investigating popular phenomena on different fronts and it is designed to bring examples of these disciplines together under the common rubric of popular culture Related to this is a third purpose of providing instances of original and innovative interdisciplinary approaches Last the collection should be a worthwhile contribution to the component disciplines as well as to the study of popular culture

Reclaiming the first century as common ground rather than the origin of deeply entrenched differences liberating the past to speak to us in another way Conventional readings of antiquity cast Athens against Jerusalem with Athens standing in for reason and Jerusalem for faith And yet Susan Buck Morss reminds us recent scholarship has overturned this separation Naming the first century as a zero point year one that divides time into before and after is equally arbitrary nothing more than a convenience that is empirically meaningless In YEAR 1 Buck Morss liberates the first century so it can speak to us in another way reclaiming it as common ground rather than the origin of deeply entrenched differences Buck Morss aims to topple various conceptual givens that have shaped modernity as an episteme and led us into some unhelpful postmodern impasses She approaches the first century through the writings of three thinkers often marginalized in current discourse Flavius Josephus historian of the Judaeen War the neo Platonic philosopher Philo of Alexandria and John of Patmos author of Revelation the last book of the Christian Bible Also making appearances are Antigone and John Coltrane Plato and Bulwer Lytton al Farabi and Jean Anouilh Nicholas of Cusa and Zora Neale Hurston not to mention Descartes Kant Hegel Kristeva and Derrida Buck Morss shows that we need no longer partition history as if it were a homeless child in need of the protective wisdom of Solomon Those inhabiting the first century belong together in time and therefore not to us
