Transition Economies after 2008 Martin Myant, Jan Drahokoupil, 2014-04-07 The economic crisis of 2008 starting from the crisis in banking in the USA in 2008 affected economic and political development in varied ways around the world This edited volume covers the impact and policy responses in Eastern Europe and Russia Taken as a whole the economies of the former state socialist countries frequently still referred to for convenience as transition economies were hit hard by the crisis suffering falls in GDP in 2009 that were deeper than the average around the world However there was considerable variety in the effects on individual countries with a few continuing to grow while some others suffered quite exceptional falls in output Policy responses were also quite diverse and do not obviously fit with the nature and severity of economic factors The more general impacts on political life were also varied In many cases very much the same governments continued in power while in others there were significant changes and signs of a growing instability in party and political structures The articles in this book explore these differences between countries and to set them in a wider international context This book was published as a special issue of Europe Asia Studies

Economic Geography An absolute must have for college library reference shelves filled cover to cover with keen analyses that any businessperson seeking to make inroads in an Asian market needs to study at length. Midwest Book Review This book serves as an important guide to the many fascinating research questions about Asian business waiting to be addressed. The study of Asian business has reached equality in importance to the study of business in Europe and North America. Researchers who study any of these regions have an incentive to follow the study of business in the other regions if for no other reason than that many global firms from each region operate in all regions now. Nonetheless the more important reason for knowledge transfer among researchers of each region is that these exchanges can only advance everyone's research. Henry Yeung and the contributors are to be thanked for setting out a rich agenda for research on Asian business that will elevate this study to equality with research elsewhere in the world.

Eurasian Geography and Economics This book is extremely comprehensive and well researched. It will be of particular interest to scholars in the fields of international business development studies, economic geography, regional studies as well as international and national policymakers. Science Technology Society The rise of Asia as an important region for global business has been widely recognized as one of the most significant economic phenomena in the new millennium. This accessible and comprehensive Handbook brings together state of the art reviews of Asian business in an expansive range of areas including business organizations, strategic management, marketing, state business relations, business and development, business policy issues. It is argued that whilst academic studies on Asian business have been in existence for over two decades, there is relatively little systematic integration of our knowledge and research on Asian business. The contributors drawn from a variety of disciplines within the social sciences aim to redress the balance with their lively cutting edge discussion. Serving as a timely overview of more than two decades of scholarly research, this Handbook will be an essential resource for academics, students and researchers interested in Asian business.

The Handbook comprises nineteen chapters divided into four main sections: setting the agenda, theoretical perspectives, data and measurements, and new venture creation through contextual lenses. This path breaking Handbook has allowed experienced new venture researchers to tell the world not only where the field has been but also where it should be going. Their responses have provided an insightful and stimulating resource that will be of great practical value to researchers working in this vital and rapidly expanding subject. Methodology The methodology used varies from researcher to researcher but are suitable for the studies conducted Thus on the one hand studies that were subjective in nature used the interpretive paradigm where the qualitative approach adopted made use of the interview method to collect data On the other hand studies that were objectively inclined adopted the positivist philosophy and used survey questionnaires to collect data However there were some academic papers which used mixed methodology because of the nature of the study Whatever methodology used adhered to the ethos of the philosophies underpinning the methodology

Contribution made to scholarship The articles come from individual researchers and each article in the proceedings is unique Mostly there is no general argument leading from one contribution to the next However it is interesting to note that in the area of economic performance it was evident that real exchange rate and net foreign direct investment contribute more towards innovations in economic growth With regard to human capital development papers presented evidence that there exists a definite need to explore the phenomenon of personal branding as limited scientific academic research has been done within the field of personal branding or on elements of the topic Thus the outcome argues that personal branding has an influence on leadership style which in turn impacts on organisational performance and related hygiene factors Furthermore it was demonstrated that current methods or strategies for enforcing institutionalisation of knowledge sharing within an organisation have not been successful and as such new strategies are needed to reinforce efforts to nurture and invigorate the institutionalisation of knowledge sharing within an organisation With regard to technology and big data impact on organisational performance it was evident that system performance memory consumption and CPU utilisation can be used as criteria to compare and evaluate big data technologies to improve organisational performance Most of the articles contribution reemphasised technology education and training as a means of digitising business and improving effectiveness

Target audience The target readership is academic researchers and business leaders who require access to the latest developments in the fields of economics information management business education development studies social sciences and technology It is also for policymakers and other stakeholders who need a better understanding of the impact of new developments on existing policies and regulations for their review or amendment
