New apps appear daily promising they will make you more productive, and countless blog posts, YouTube videos, and podcasts tell you to try this or that new innovative idea. The truth is the only way you will get more done is to do more. No new app, system, or idea will ever replace that simple fact. But there is a problem with this. To get more done, you have to do more in a way counter to the culture we live in today. We are supposed to take more breaks, be more gentle with ourselves to protect our mental health, and slow down when we feel tired. All good advice, but it does not help us to be more productive if to be more productive means we have to do more. In Your Time, Your Way, Time Well Managed, Life Well Lived, Carl Pullein gives you the secrets, tools, and processes you need to make more time in your work life and personal life to do more better. A Spy for the Union Corey Recko, 2013-09-20. Timothy Webster, best known for his work as a spy for the Union during the Civil War, began his career as a New York City policeman. In the mid 1850s, he left the police department and took a job for Allan Pinkerton with his newly formed detective agency. As an operative for Pinkerton's agency, Webster excelled. His cases included tracking a world famous forger, investigating grave robberies in a Chicago cemetery, and seeking to uncover a plot to destroy the Rock Island Bridge. It was also as a Pinkerton detective that Webster made his greatest contribution to his country when he was part of a small group of operatives that uncovered a plot to assassinate then President elect Abraham Lincoln in 1861. Webster went on to serve the United States as a spy in the Civil War. He traveled to the Confederate Capital multiple times and made many connections high up in the Confederate military and government. For a time, he was the Union's top spy, but his career came to an abrupt end when in 1862 he was betrayed by fellow spies and became the first spy executed in the Civil War.
