Space and Place in Jewish Studies Barbara E. Mann, 2012-02-10 Scholars in the humanities have become increasingly interested in questions of how space is produced and perceived and they have found that this consideration of human geography greatly enriches our understanding of cultural history This spatial turn equally has the potential to revolutionize Jewish Studies complicating familiar notions of Jews as people of the Book displaced persons with only a common religious tradition and history to unite them Space and Place in Jewish Studies embraces these exciting critical developments by investigating what space has meant within Jewish culture and tradition and how notions of Jewish space diaspora and home continue to resonate within contemporary discourse bringing space to the foreground as a practical and analytical category Barbara Mann takes us on a journey from medieval Levantine trade routes to the Eastern European shtetl to the streets of contemporary New York introducing readers to the variety of ways in which Jews have historically formed communities and created a sense of place for themselves Combining cutting edge theory with rabbinics anthropology and literary analysis Mann offers a fresh take on the Jewish experience

New Directions in Jewish American and Holocaust Literatures Victoria Aarons, Holli Levitsky, 2019-02-28 Surveys the current state of Jewish American and Holocaust literatures as well as approaches to teaching them What does it mean to read and to teach Jewish American and Holocaust literatures in the early decades of the twenty first century New directions and new forms of expression have emerged both in the invention of narratives and in the methodologies and discursive approaches taken toward these texts The premise of this book is that despite moving farther away in time the Holocaust continues to shape and inform contemporary Jewish American writing Divided into analytical and pedagogical sections the chapters present a range of possibilities for thinking about these literatures Contributors address such genres as biography the graphic novel alternate history midrash poetry and third generation and hidden child Holocaust narratives Both canonical and contemporary authors are covered including Michael Chabon Nathan Englander Anne Frank Dara Horn Joe Kupperman Philip Roth and William Styron The range of critical approaches and authors examined makes this a valuable resource for scholars and teachers Particularly in this troubling political moment meditations on the new and continued relevance of Jewish American and Holocaust literatures for scholars students and the American public in general are invaluable Sharon B Oster author of No Place in Time The Hebraic Myth in Late Nineteenth Century American Literature
