Soviet Sea Power:

A History of Russian and Soviet Sea Power Donald William Mitchell, 1974 Forfatteren beskriver hvorledes Rusland og senere Sovjetunionen forsøgte at opbygge sine stridskræfter Begyndelsen finder sted i det 9. århundrede hvor Varangianer pirater angriber Byzantium og forfatteren slutter i 1972 hvor den Sovjetiske flåde stort set dominerer verdenshavene hvilket bekymrer den vestlige verden Soviet Sea Power Georgetown University. Center for Strategic and International Studies, 1969 GE 95 50706 Soviet Sea-power Wilfred Olaf Reiners, 1956 The Sea Power of the State S.G.

Gorshkov, 2013-10-22 Admiral Gorshkov has transformed the Soviet fleet into a world sea power for the first time in Russian history He is Russia's most brilliant naval strategist of all time He has created the modern Soviet navy His book examines the main components of sea power among which attention is focused on the naval fleet of the present day capable of conducting operations and solving strategic tasks in different regions of the world's oceans together with other branches of the armed forces and independently Russian Sea Power David Fairhall, 1971 Seapower Geoffrey Till, 1994 This volume explains the evolution of maritime strategy through the twentieth century and concludes with some speculations about its future in the next century The forms and practices of navies and maritime strategy are analysed through the development of eight historical and contemporary topics drawn from the First and Second World Wars the Cold War and post Cold War period

Soviet Sea Power David Rees, 1977 2 sider 1 sblad Sea Power E.B. Potter, 2014-06-15 A classic work widely acknowledged over the past 20 years as the definitive text on its subject All aspects of over 2 000 years of naval history are covered from Greek and Roman galley warfare to Vietnam and beyond with emphasis on the evolution of strategy tactics and weapons development With 14 authors it is not so much a symposium as a continuous narrative Acclaimed historians such as James C Bradford Henry H Adams and Craig Symonds lend their expertise to the work which continues to serve as a standard for any historical study of the role of navies on history Sea Power and Western Security Worth H. Bagley, 1977

Seapower and strategic and critical materials subcommittee United States. Congress. House. Committee on Armed Services, 1978 One Hundred Years of Sea Power George W. Baer, 1996-07-01 A navy is a state's main instrument of maritime force What it should do what doctrine it holds what ships it deploys and how it fights are determined by practical political and military choices in relation to national needs Choices are made according to the state's goals perceived threat maritime opportunity technological capabilities practical experience and not the least the way the sea service defines itself and its way of war This book is a history of the modern U S Navy It explains how the Navy in the century after 1890 was formed and reformed in the interaction of purpose experience and doctrine Seapower in the Nuclear Age Joel J. Sokolsky, 2021-01-26 This book first published in 1991 provides a major analysis of the prelude to the US's Cold War maritime strategy showing how NATO's maritime forces were organised in the period It examines how the United States Navy and allied navies particularly the Royal Navy were incorporated into the Alliance's nuclear and conventional deterrent forces It looks at the structure of the main naval commands the growth of Soviet maritime forces and the impact of the flexible response strategy on NATO's naval posture in the 1970s Drawing upon many declassified documents this account fills an important gap in postwar literature on American seapower and its relation to European security It also addresses important aspects of NATO strategy and organisation

Energy and Sea Power Don Walsh, Marjorie Cappellari, 2013-10-22 Energy and Sea Power Challenge for the Decade is a collection of essays which were presented as lectures at the Eighth Annual Pacific Coast Sea Power Forum held at the U S Navy Postgraduate School at Monterey California in October 1980 covering the topic of energy and sea power The book contains papers on world energy availability its use and economic impact and on more specialized topic areas such as environmental protection ship construction for energy efficiency and the question of renewable ocean energy resources The text also presents papers on the regulatory and environmental aspects of ocean energy activities the directions over old sea lanes and marine transportation needs for U S energy supply energy The military applications and implications of ocean thermal energy conversion systems the ocean engineering needs for U S energy supply and the energy efficient ship design are also considered The further presents a paper on the shipbuilding needs for support of ocean energy development

The Evolution of Russian and Soviet Sea Power, 1853-1953 Walter Charles Hucul, 1953

Twenty-First Century Seapower Peter Dutton, Robert Ross, Øystein Tunsjø, 2013-05-02 This book offers an assessment of the naval policies of emerging naval powers and the implications for maritime security relations and the global maritime order Since the end of the Cold War China Japan India and Russia have begun to challenge the status quo with the acquisition of advanced naval capabilities The emergence of rising naval powers is a cause for concern as the potential for great power instability is exacerbated by the multiple maritime territorial disputes among new and established naval powers This work explores the underlying sources of maritime ambition through an analysis of various historical cases of naval expansionism It analyses both the sources and dynamics of international naval competition and looks at the ways in which maritime stability and the widespread benefits of international commerce and maritime resource extraction can be sustained through the twenty first century This book will be of much interest to students of naval power Asian security and politics strategic studies security studies and IR in general

Architects of Continental Seapower Jeremy Stocker, 2020-10-01 This book describes and analyses two iconic figures in twentieth century naval history the German Admiral Alfred von Tirpitz and the Russian Admiral Sergei Gorshkov It examines the men what they thought and wrote about seapower the fleets they created and the strategic consequences of what they did More broadly it draws on the respective histories of the post 1897 Imperial German Navy and the post 1956 Soviet Navy to examine the continental bid for large scale seapower The work argues that both individuals built navies that did not and could not fulfil the objectives for which they were created Drawing on the legacies of both men the book also develops some wider ideas about the creation of large navies by continental states with cautionary lessons for today s emerging powers India and China Both admirals have received book length biographies but this is the first attempt at a comparative study and the first to draw broader strategic lessons from their respective attempts as continental navalists to challenge maritime states This book will be of much interest to students of naval history strategic studies and International Relations

Power at Sea Lisle A. Rose, 2007 Volume 1 Traces the social issues technological advances and combative encounters of the international naval race from 1890 through WWI as the largest industrial nations U S Great Britain Japan and Germany scrambled to secure global markets and empire using their battleship navies as pawns of power politics
