Soweto Inside Out:

The Mountain School Greg Alder, 2013 The Kingdom of Lesotho is a mountainous enclave in southern Africa and like mountain zones throughout the world it is isolated steeped in tradition and home to few outsiders The people known as Basotho are respected in the area as the only tribe never to be defeated by European colonizers Greg Alder arrives in Tsoeneng in 2003 as the village's first foreign resident since 1966 Back then the Canadian priest who had been living there was robbed and murdered in his quarters Set up as a Peace Corps teacher at the village's secondary school Alder finds himself incompetent in so many unexpected ways How do you keep warm in this place where it snows but there is no electricity How do you feed yourself where there are no grocery stores let alone restaurants Tsoeneng is a world apart from his home in America but Alder persists in adapting He learns to grow food he learns to speak the strange local language and he makes enough friends such that he is eventually invited to participate in initiation rites Yet even as he seems accepted into the Tsoeneng fold he sees how much of an outsider he will always remain and perhaps want to remain The Mountain School is insightful and candid at times accepting and at times rebellious It is the ultimate tale of the transplant

International Handbook of Urban Education William T. Pink, George W. Noblit, 2008-09-03 It is evident that urban education has become the central focus of educators at the present time In the U S for example almost one third of all school age children attend schools in large urban school districts It is in these urban schools where the diversity of cultures and languages is highest and where student learning is most problematic What has emerged from recent work to improve urban schools is the insight that there is no one size fits all panacea Rather we have discovered that the local context shapes in critically important ways what will be effective at the school level The universality of the problematics with urban education together with the importance of understanding the local or situated context of improvement interventions brings into sharp focus the importance and timeliness of an undertaking like the International Handbook of Urban Education An important focus of the International Handbook of Urban Education will be the interrogation of both the social and political factors that lead to different problem posing and subsequent solutions within each region An important question to be answered for example is what it takes in terms of resources political will and policy actions to improve urban education
